ILLNESS CHECK IN FRANCE

According to a committee report, sent out last week to the members of the British Medical Association, the city of Paris, with a population of about 2,000,000, has only about 100 physicians, or one for every 20,000 persons. A doctor charges for a day-time call in a middle class family only 10 cents, or 15 cents more than if the patient calls on him in his office. For a night call the doctor receives from $1.25 to $2, according to the distance. Only professors at the clinics of the two local universities charge more, receiving $2 to $4 for a home call and $2 for an office visit. As in this country, the physicians give only prescriptions.

About 100 dentists practice in Paris. The average charges are: Drawing one tooth, 40 cents; cement filling, 60 cents to $1; amalgam filling, 80 cents to $2.

The annual income of these professional men is estimated as follows: Head professor in charge of clinics, salary paid by the government, $1,400 to $1,600, and $5,000 to $11,000 from private practice; other professors at clinics, salary paid by the government, $1,000, and from private practice, $4,000 to $10,000; general medical practitioners not attached to any clinic, $3,000 to $3,500, the average income of a dentist being $5,000.

Regina, Sask., Jan. 31.—The coal situation in Saskatchewan was introduced in the Legislature this afternoon by Dr. Mitchell, of Weyburn, Liberal. He said that on one of the C. N. R. branches not a train had moved since Jan. 5. Farmers were driving into the towns 50 and 60 miles every day in an effort to get coal.

Dr. Mitchell stated that in the village of Ceylon, people were closing their homes and going to live in the hotel, all the coal reaching the place going to the hotel.

MAKING OTHERS HAPPY.

Why Put it Off Till Tomorrow When It May Be Done Today?

Why should we postpone our loving and the being happy that goes with it? The wife we are going to show more affection for as soon as we have made a little more of a girl. The husband we are going to be more companionable and sunny with as soon as we get a little more service in the house, the children whose lives we will enter into more fully as soon as we feel the pressure of circumstances a little less, the people we are going to show how genuine we really are as soon as we have time—none of these ways of loving depends on the things we are waiting for.

Indeed, our opportunity comes more now than it will come when we have these things. The very pressure of our days bring us in contact with many people who most need a show of kindness and who will most warmly respond to it. The wife most needs and will most value love in her days when she is most being a helpmeet. The husband most needs and most prizes love in his years of struggle.

What are we waiting for? The kingdom of heaven is within and will not come of circumstances.—Nauticus.

Bjornson's Advice.

There is a story told of Bjornstjerne Bjornson that, arriving at a late hour at the town of Bergen, which was on fire to receive him, he was welcomed to the expectant people no finer words of wisdom than a general recommendation to go to bed.

In vain they appealed to him for "song or sentiment." The great Bjornson, said he, gave the same advice under conditions all similar, and what was good enough for Berlin must suffice for Bergen.

Three years later, on visiting the town for the second time, the master novelist found a deserted city. Not a light burned in the dismal railway station, no banners waved, no addresses were read by portly burgomasters. In vain Bjornson asked for a cab.

"They have all gone to bed," was the reply. And so Bergen remembered.

First European Railway.

The first carriages that ran on rails in Europe were those of a horse railway between Lins and Budweis, in Austria. This was in working order in 1827. Locomotive railways were much longer coming. The first line in a modern sense was opened from Paris to St. Germain in 1835, but railway development was greatly hindered by a terrible accident on the Paris-Versailles line in 1842. The next was the Brussels-Malines line in Belgium. Belgium was also the first country to begin, in 1830, systematic plans for a national network of railways. Prussia followed in 1835 and Austria-Hungary in 1838. The first great trunk line in Europe was from Paris to Rouen, opened in May, 1843.

Family Pride.

Mrs. Blunt-Well, Louisa, I don't suppose you will attempt to deny that your original ancestors were stone age ruffians who lived in a damp cave. Mrs. Tree—if my earliest ancestors were a part of the geologic period of which you speak they must have had a red sandstone chateau of their own on Fifthland avenue, with salubrious decorations and running water on the first floor.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Poi in Hawaii.

Poi, the Hawaiian national dish, is made by pounding up the cooked root of the taro plant—the Arum esculentum of the botanists—with water into a thick paste. When slightly fermented it has a pleasant, fruity, acid taste.

The Solution.

"I wish I knew how Rhine River without working?"

"Open a grocery store in his neighborhood and you'll soon find out!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Parts of Speech.

Teacher—Thomas, what are the parts of speech? Tommy—Teacher (after an unobtrusive mental effort)—It's the way a man talks when he stutters.

A Great Man Is He Who Attends to the Work of His Successors.—Brough.

Motorists Have a Kick

Local motorists are not quite satisfied with the new law as regards licenses, which is expected will come in force this spring. According to the new regulations the license is to be raised considerably. We understand that the Government promised to expend the extra money raised on good roads. What the motorists desire is that the money raised should be spent on roads in the district where it is put up. They do not like contributing toward a building road over which in all probability they will never travel. Their protest sounds quite reasonable. It hardly seems fair that Jarvis auto owners should have their money spent on highways east or north of Toronto.

In several localities petitions are being circulated, to be presented to the government by the local members protesting against the new law as it is proposed.

Would it not be a good idea to have the license fees paid to the county treasurer, and then the money would be spent on roads over which the contributor would frequently have the pleasure of driving?
