Exhibition for 1916, Federation Year, has been planned, like the remainder of the programme, to arouse patriotic thoughts and convey, some idea of the panoply and power of the British Empire. In the front line are the Royal Standards of Eng-land, Scotlend, Ireland and Wales, held aloft by an officer of the Welsh Regiment, Scots Greys, a representative of the 5th Irish Lancers and a Life Guard, respectively. All are attired in the brilliant dress uniforms of peace times. The men of the Overseas Dominions and Colonies, dashing soldierly figures all and Colonies, dashing soldierly figures all well-mounted and coming forward at a gallop, stretch into the distance, flags flying bodly, the Sepoy and Sikhs showing very prominetly with their dusky faces and striking Easlern attire. In all, fourteen national flags are plainly discernible. In the order in which they approach from left to right they are Tag. pear from left to right they are .—Tas-mania, British East Africa, Somaliland, Multa, Newfoundland, Gold Coast, South Africa, India, Ceylon, Canada, Niger Coast, New Zealand, Australia and British Guiana. Both uniform and flags are true to detail.

In perspective is seen on one side the the British Houses of Parliament, and and on the other an outline of the towers of Exhibition buildings, while a formidable looking battle plane hovers above.

About Butter Wrappers

Streetsville Review,

On Tuesday of last week a government inspector paid Grand Valley merchants a surprise visit and found quite a lot of butter in pound prints not conforming to the legal requirements, Some was light weight and some in plain wrappers. Boxes of dairy butter fresh from the makers did not have the necessary mark. There was a little uneasiness as to what might happen, but as this was the inspector's first visit and the dealers were perhaps the innocent victims of an indifferent people, the incident may be taken as a warning The Dairy Industry Act of 1914 provides that pound print butter butter must be full weight and marked whether dairy or creamery. Boxes must also be similarly distinguished. A merchant is not permitted to accept any butter in pound prints that are short weight but is to return the same to the vendor. So when you next bring your butter to market be sure it is ftll weight and in properly marked wrappers or boxes. The use of plain wrappers for any purpose, even for delivery to regular customers, is not permitted. The penalty to both purchaser and vendor for infractions of the act is a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $50.

Excellent vinegar may be made from raw corn. Put a pint of raw corn, taken off the cob, and a pint of molasses in a jar Fill up with water and in about 3 weeks the vinegar will be fit to use, and is said to be one of the least injurious made. Potatoes also make good vinegar. Wash the potatoes and boil then, drain the water off and strain it. Put the water into a jug and keep it in the hot sun, adding 1 lb of sugar to each 21 gallons of water, also A little hop yeast. Let stand 3 or 4 weeks.
