During his labors, and owing to the slippiness of the roof, Mr. Snyder started to descend the unsafe way, but succeeded in reaching the ladder, which, however, gave way under his weight, and he continued his descent to terra firma with the result that he cracked two ribs and was confined to the house for a number of days. Foot Laureate on Kitchener

London, June 13—The Times to-day prints the following sonnet to the late Earl Kitchener, written by Dr. Robert Bridges, the British Foot Laureate: Unflinching hero, watchful to foresee And face thy country's peril whereso'er, Directing war and peace with equal care Till, by toil ennobled, thou wert he Whom England called and bade "Set my arm free To obey my will and save my honour fair," What day the foe presumed on her defence, And she herself bath trust in none but thee, Among herculean deeds the miracle That mass'd the labor of ten years in one Shall be thy monument. Thy work is done, E'er we could thank thee, and the high sea swell Sargeth unheeding where thy proud ship fell. By the lone Orkneys e'er the set of sun. The foregoing appeared in Tuesday's daily papers and is strongly set for the personality for whom it was written.

Enjoyable Evening

Miss Emma Bryant of the "Manse", Nanticoke, gave a beautiful appointed dinner for twelve people on Thursday evening in honour of her guest, Mrs. W. C. Hensler, wife of W. C. Hensler, one of Detroit's most noted artists. The table decorations were beautiful in their appointments, there being Queen Elizabeth bon-bon baskets and hand painted place cards, the work of a talented and rising young artist, Mr. Harold I. Brewer, formerly of Winnipeg and nephew of the hostess. The centre of the table held a mound of beautiful spring flowers.

The evening was spent in progressive cards. The ladies were beautifully adorned. Mrs. W. C. Hensler, "Guest of Honour," wearing a beautiful imported gown of burnt orange taffeta, over a dress of Chantilla lace, with a corsage bouquet of American Beauties; Mrs. Corrigal, wore white crepe taffeta, with a flowered overdress; Mrs. Howey, navy blue taffeta and white lace; Miss Mabel Thompson looked very pretty in a silk Crepe de Chine with white lace; Miss Eva Thompson, pink and white flowered taffeta; Miss Emma Bryant, the hostess wore brown Persian Marquisette over golden tulle. The gentlemen present were Messrs. A. Howey, Wallace Corrigal, Charles Davidson, and Harold Brewer.

Mrs. Corrigal, Mrs. Howey and Mrs. Thompson entertained for Mrs. Hensler Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. The evenings were spent in cards and music.

Mrs. Hensler being a beautiful soprano singer of some rendered several solos in a most efficient manner. Many entertainments have been planned for the coming week.

Measles

WHY IT SPREADS MORE THAN OTHER INFECTIOUS DISEASES

DEAR EDITOR—

The province of Ontario is now passing through a severe epidemic of measles.

While the experience is fresh in the Public Mind it is in order to consider why measles is so apt to spread so extensively.

In no locality so far as the writer knows, have the health authorities been able to entirely stamp out an epidemic of measles in its early stages, as is usually done in the case of other communicable diseases, such as diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc. Numerous epidemics of the latter diseases have been restricted by quarantine to one house. In fact, such has been the rule in this vicinity. With measles the reverse is the case.

Toronto and the province generally, is recovering from a widespread epidemic of measles. While the experience is fresh in the public mind, it is in order to consider why measles is so apt to spread so extensively.

Of all the communicable diseases in this country, measles is the prime spreader.

Do you know why? If you don't perceive the cause, you are partly responsible. Take the case: the diagnosis is made when the rash appears; and from that time on, the patient is perhaps isolated and has little opportunity to spread the disease to others.

But what has occurred before that? For three or four days before the rash came on the patient has had a cough (due to measles bronchitis), hoarseness (due to measles laryngitis) and bleary eyes (due to measles conjunctivitis).

If during this catarrhal stage the child has been under no restraint, but has been going about associating with other children just as usual, he has obviously had every opportunity in the world to pass his infection on to others.

The case is isolated usually after the rash is out, and a lot of the damage has been done, as far as transmission is concerned. It is plain that isolation after the rash comes out will never materially reduce the prevalence of measles.

The case must be put under restraint during the catarrhal stage, and here the responsibility lies with those individuals who see the child every day.

Every child with a catarrhal cold should be put by itself for a few days. It may be measles in the early stage. If it proves to be a "common cold" the spread of that inside the household will have been prevented.

Some good authorities believe that measles is only infectious during the coughing and sneezing stage, and that the rash in itself is not infectious at all.

Be this as it may, the early stages are the most infectious.

Yours,
MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER.

A young English boy employed by S. Adams of the Rainham Road, South Cayuga, was attacked by the little dog, knocked down and badly bitten in half a dozen places on his arms and legs a few days ago.

New Ministers of Simcoe District

The final report of the stationing committee of the Hamilton Conference did not make many changes of local interest. Rev. J. H. McBain comes to Simcoe, and is the new chairman of the Simcoe District. Dr. Benson exchanges pastoral charges with him, going to Tillsonburg. Rev. J. Austin Jackson, who was elected President of the Conference, succeeds Rev. T. W. Cooley at Hanover, instead of remaining at Elora a fourth year as per the first arrangement. Other changes on the Simcoe District are John P. Tarbee at Walsh instead of Stranmore; Rev. J. L. Taylor at Nanticoke instead of Rev. D. H. Taylor; Rev. W. J. Fiddis at Cayuga, instead of Rev. Thomas Vanden, B.A., who goes to Teeterville.—Simcoe Reformer.

Address and Presentation.

Monday evening, June 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Stallwood were pleasantly surprised when a party of friends and neighbors gathered at their home to do honor to their son, Pte. Earle Stallwood before his departure for camp. W. D. Ronlston, Reeve of Walpole, presided and an enjoyable program was rendered. The principal feature of the evening was the following address, read by Miss Lily Yule. Pte. Earle Stallwood, 114 Batt., R. R. Dear Earle.—We, your friends and neighbors, are gathered here to-night to do you honor and show our appreciation of you offering your services in aid of your King and country. We feel that we could not let you go away without meeting together with you and having a social time.

It is our earnest wish that you may be started to come back and that in after years you may be permitted to look back with pride for having done your duty in the hour of need.

We wish you to accept this wrist watch as a small reminder of this occasion and that the best wishes of your friends go with you as you go forth to do your duty, in what we think, this most worthy cause.

Miss Viola Forrest presented him with a beautiful aluminum silver wrist watch to which Pte. Stallwood replied:—"Dear friends, I do not know what to say as I was unaware of anything like this, but I thank you very much for this beautiful present and wherever I am, in the camp or farther away, it will remind me of old Jarvis and this pleasant evening."

Boys from Haldimand

Oh, we're the boys from Haldimand County.

We'll fight like Germans some fine day, And make them do as we all say— We are the boys from Haldimand.

Here's Oshwekian lads and Lowbanks too,

The Toronto boys gave us their brew To fight the Germans, say will you Be one of the boys from Haldimand?

The Dunnville boys you can bet are out, And they'll be there on time with a shout If you want to find a darn good scout— Just look for the boys from Haldimand.

Chorus

Hurrah for the boys from Haldimand. If you can't fight just pay.

With Colonel Thompson we mean to back Through Germany our way.

Hurrah for the boys from Haldimand. We are the boys who'll stay; With Colonel Thompson we'll take a crack At the Huns and Austria.
