A Machine Gun Section For The 114th Battalion

Lieut. B. G. Fleming, of Cayuga, and Sergt. W. N. Rennie, of Dunnville, have returned from their course in machine gun training at the Exhibition Camp, Toronto, and a Machine Gun Section is to be organized in the battalion as soon as possible.

Machine Gunning is undoubtedly the most interesting of all arms of the service, and besides receiving instruction in the Machine Guns themselves the Gunners are trained in Signalling, Bombing, Scouting, Range-finding and many other subjects which compel the attention of their students on account of their interesting nature. The men of this section are permitted to wear a special distinguishing badge, and are not required to do Guard, Picquet or Fatigue duties either whilst in training or at the front; and when actually on service are only required to be in the Trenches at such times as it is necessary for them to be for the purpose of operating the guns. These privileges give them more leisure than falls to the lot of the ordinary "Tommy" and are much appreciated by those who enjoy them.

Thirty men are required immediately to qualify as Gunners, etc., for this detachment and on account of the specialized nature of this work only men of good education and physique and of a high standard of morals can be accepted as recruits.

This gives many who have been awaiting the opportunity to get into a "Corps d'elite" the chance they have long looked for. Applications should be made by letter telephone or personal or personal interview to

LIEUT. E. G. FLEMING, Cayuga, Ontario.

Railway Girl As Orator

It is not often that the Canadian Club of Montreal asks a woman to address it, but the fame of Miss Kathleen Burke, the special delegate to America of the Scottish Women's Hospitals for Foreign Service, had preceded her and when her address was actually delivered no one regretted the invitation. A great grandniece of Edmund Burke, whose "dagger speech" was perhaps the most theatrical incident in the history of the British House of Commons, this lady has a wonderful gift of oratory and her descriptions, humorous and pathetic, of the hospital conditions in Serbia during the typhus epidemic and of the magnificent heroism of the British nurses in the Balkans and in France during the war, moved her hearers to the very heart. What Miss Burke, however, is most proud to be is that she is a railway girl. She is the daughter of the late Thomas Francis Burke, Continental Manager of the London & North Western Railway, and until she became a nurse lived, talked and thought of railways. In her present mission she has achieved extraordinary success, raising in a few weeks over $250,000 by her oratory. After addressing some recruiting meetings in Montreal, she plans to tour the United States, but later in the year hopes to visit the Canadian West where she will probably address the leading Canadian Clubs on the subject which she has so much at heart. The hospitals to which Miss Burke has herself been attached as a nurse were originally started by a group of Scottish political women, but now include nurses and women doctors from all over the Empire. Their work has been enthusiastically endorsed by both the French and British Governments.
