HOW SOLDIERS FILL PERIODS IN REST ZONE

These Periods Are Frequent. and Time in Front Line Very Short.

A JOLLY TIME

Concerts, Cinemas Ball Games, the Canadians' Specialties.

Dy Stewart Lyon, Correspondent of the Canadian Press with the Canadian Forces.)

Canadian Headquarters, France, esble—In some of the comments on conditions here at the front there are be found statements which indicate a greater lack of knowledge concerning those conditions than one would maturally expect after almost three Tears of war.

Millions of letters have been written home by oyung Canadians serving in France and Flanders. The informadon in many of these letters is neglig-Sometimes there is a disposition to draw the long bow, as in a recent case where a man far from the fornt, engaged in sorting of salvage, meured his home folk that between shelling and dodging Bosche bombs he was having a lively time, but one got ustomed to it after a while. In still other cases of which I have heard young fellows in daily peril ignored that side of their life altogether out of e chivalrous desire to lessen the strain spon the loving mother to whom their etters were sent.

Notwithstanding these reticences and exaggerations enough exact information should have entered through to correct the false idea that Canadian soldiers, or any others, hold their lines for long periods without rest or relief beyond the range of the enemy's guns. In the earlier stages of the war when Gremany's available man-power was much greater on the western front than that or France and Britain it was necessary to keep the infantry in the front line that is actually holding the trenches and liable to attack at any moment of the day or night, for periods of two weeks at a time. In support, still well within field gun range, it was not uncommon to keep battalions for a month or more. There was one period during which all Canadian battalions in the line and in support were subject to all the hazards of war for several months, without any rest periods. Only the urgent necessity of those days justified the subjectme of large bodies of men to such an essant strain.

REST PERIODS FREQUENT. mas of heavier calibre are brought missing. orward to smash trenches and other defence positions the need for more frequent rest perious for the men holding the line increases also. At several points we reegain, and the voices of the guns, if heard at all, are but a faint rumble the night by the adversary. in the distance a noise insufficient to disturb the nerves of the most "lumpy." It must not be supposed that rest billets are placed where all play and so work makes Jack Canuck lazy. He is kept in condition by physical drill. bayonet instruction, musketry exercises, and visits to the rifle ranges or perhaps at the trench mortar or combing school. He is given opportunity for shower baths, such as can not be provided nearer the front, and, if specially fortunate, may even be able to have a swim in running water, or convenient pond. Whatever their du- War Office report reads: ties the men in reserve or in rest billets have a good deal of leisure, and are built up rapidly by forgetting about the front for the time, and becoming absorbed in sport and amusement. Baseball and the cinema are the supreme delights of our Canadians. They have also adopted the linglish idea of traveling concert and dramatic companies, which vary the cinema programmes by occasionally putting on original plays or operattis. CONCERT COMPANIES.

Many well-known concert singers and actors are in the ranks and among the holders of commissions, besides amateurs of distinction. The concert company of one corps will occasionally visit the entertainment centres of those adjacent to it. There is an oven more frequent intercourse among divisions. The names of these troupes are delightfully unconventional. Big posters may invite the passerby to visit the "Tykes." which means that a Yorkshire company holds the boards, or to see the "Very Lights," on to accept the hospitality of the "Rus

Jars." or listen to the "Whizz-Bangs." Much talent is devoted to the writing of original sketches for the entertainments, and everybody from the general in command down comes in for a bit of their satire. The girl parts are immensely popular, and always bring wild applause to the young barefaced lads who take them, aided by the flusion produced by borrowing some feminine apparel from some friend across the Channel or from the to renew it. village belle. "Aint he a peach," is the highest compliment which can be self to a soldier-actor who done the settlesat. It may interest the girls at besse to know that the cheema girls, a poor substitute for their own the onlookers. Sports are also followed with enthusiasm, not only by the troops in the back area, but well up toward the front. Not very long ago I saw a hotly-contested ball game on a bit of land subject to frequent fire and on which the enemy airmen were liable at any moment to drop bombs. Sport has done almost as much as patriotic ardor to steady the nerves of the Empire's sons for the great ordeal of war. The recreation and sport organization services have been of incalculable value in making and keeping the men fit for duty and in lessening the amount of mischief idle hands are prone to do in the field as well as at home.

MUST GIVE UP GOLD.

German People Called on for Jewels, Also.

Amsterdam, Cable.—The daily recurring public notices printed in conspicuous type in German newspapers, entreating citizens to aid the Fatherland by giving it their gold, evidently is insufficient of productive results. The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, publishes a renewed appeal, complaining especially that the well-to-da public still fails to realize the situation, and that all gold must be situation, and that all gold must be handed in.

The newspaper says competent authorities calculate that three to four hundred million gold coins are being obstinately hoarded in Germany, while the value of gold ornaments is estimated at a billion marks.

value of gold ornaments is estimated at a billion marks.

The 'Weser Zeitung' says the public often asks wether gold cannot be loaned instead of giving to the German Imperial Bank. The answer is no, because the law demands gold as a cover for paper money, and that it must be in cars or coin. The public is again urged to yield jewels of all kinds which realize good prices abroad and is most useful good prices abroad and is most useful for credit purposes there.

In the case of the French, their training, which should be of a purely military character, is medicere ; while with the British it is even inferior. Here are to be found the deeper causes of the better performances of our fliers.

"To Britishers flying is a sport, the climax whereof is a fight. They seek the combat regardless of the question whether the carrying out of the charge entrusted to them renders this necessary or not. The German is first of all a soldier, who looks upon every flight as a military operation, and that decides his line of conduct. Our proportionately smaller losses, therefore, show that our commanders are too good soldiers to set their airmen impossible tasks. Moreover, the airmen are not sent out singly, for the fulfillment of military tasks is more important than all spirit of sport and all bravery. The century-old German military tradition cannot be caught up by the three years' warfare of the Brit-

HOW BRITAIN " TRAINS YOUTH FOR THE ARMY

Thousands of Boys Given Preliminary Work for Soldiering Later.

FUTURE RESERVES

Training is Thorough and Careful, and No Strain is Allowed.

Great Britain has something like 5,-000,000 men in its military forces. Gen. Robertson announced that another half million must be provided by July in order to maintain reserves and keep the fighting units up to full strength. When the 500,000 have been provided in July there will merely be another demand for further augmentations later.

The inexorable demands from the trenches must be met somehow. How they are to be met, how man power is continually to be provided to meet the wastage of war is indicated by the progressive organization of the country's youth for training in anticipation of the time when they shall arrive at military age.

All over the country battalions of boys, none of them beyond the age of 18 years and 8 months, are being systematically trained for the army. Schoolboys, college boys, apprentices --vouth of all classes—as soon as they are physically capable of undertaking the work of training are put into the organizations for preparation.

STRAIN CAREFULLY AVOIDED. Careful measures have been adopted to insure that they shall not be overtrained and either physically or mentally injured by the strain. Officers in charge of these organizations of boys have been provided with special instructions as to the service that may safely be demanded. A good deal of discretion in this regard is left to commanding officers and drill mayers, but after all the purpose is to equip the national youth for soldiery the proclamation continues: service as rapidly and efficiently as Much lighter requirements, however, are imposed on the youngest class of prospective soldiers. They are given graduated instruction in various drills for the purpose of hardening their physiques. Games, lectures and educational work are provided in addition to ordinary military training.

There are twelve fortnightly periods in the training course for class. In the first period of two weeks sixty-four hours of work are required. of which twelve hours are given to games and educational work. After the first period fourteen hours are set aside in each fortnightly period for these purposes.

Such games as cricket, football, and boxing are particularly prized for their effect on the physique of the recruit. Participation in these is compulsory and under no circumstances are commanders permitted to organize the best players at a particular game in a crack team which becomes representative of a battalion. This would deprive the great majority of really Of Commodities of Prime effective training and the ones needing the training most would have the least chance to get it. At the outset every young man is inoculated, vaccinated and given a thorough dental overhauling. This limits the possible activities of many of them during the first six weeks of their trainig. After these preliminary troubles are over the organization settle into a regular scheme involving hours work daily, including Sunday.

HOW THE WORK IS DIVIDED. At this stage of his training the recruit gets in each fortnightly period Englishman, on ten hours of general physical training, till he or his op. six hours of bayonet exercises, eighteen hours of squad drill, eighteen hours of musketry and range practice, two hours devoted to interior economy. three hours on night work, three hours on guard duty, two hours on anti-gas training, three hours of bombing exercises, three hours of route marching without packs, two hours for special lectures and fourteen hours for games and education.

Every soldier must learn all about taking care of his clothes, kit and equipment and instruction in these departments is referred to as "interior Then it is necessary to economy." give very careful instruction in the importance of discipline as a military factor, hygiene, sanitation, first aid minor casualties, treach warfare, concomment and co-operation of infantry with artillery and aircraft.

good many boys with extremely rudimentary schooling are taken into these organizations. Those who need it are given the most elementary educational opportunity, while the more advanced ones are provided instruction in subjects most likely to be of military utility. It is found that almost invariably the boys take keen interest in these intellectual opportunities. Their mode of life is thoroughly healthy, and their ambition finds the stimulus that comes from both patriotic interest and competition.

During the first four weeks of the course route marching with kits is forbidden lest it impose too heavy a physical strain. After they are properly conditioned they are gradually broken into these heavier phases of duty, and wants to be a Boeicke—the death of my bombs. illustration of how little ceremony en-ters into the soldier's routine nowsdays than to observe the daily duties of these campaigns. The fine martial effects that were once so much prized get scant consideration indeed. On the other hand the democracy of the new British army is shown by the fact that officers in these boy battalions are directed to take note of the special aptitude of their recruits for particular kinds of service with the purpose of giving them training for non-commissioned officers, and ultimately for commissions.

Youngsters of poor physique or weak health are especially classified and are given a number of weeks of special light training with the purpose of building them up before they shall undertake the serious work of being turned into soldiers. In this regard alone the benefits accruing to many thousands of young men have been invalculable.

APPEAL TO RUSS TO BACK ALLIES

Executives of Workers, Soldiers and Peasants Act.

To Secure Support for the Government.

Petrograd Cable.—Another proclamation has been issued on behalf of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates and the Peasants' Congress. It is signed by N. C. Tcheidse, president of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates, and Socialist member of the Duma, and is addressed to all committees of the army and the fleet, and declares that the revolution is being endangered. "Lack of discipline and open treachery at the front," says the proclamation, "are facilitating Field Marshal von Hindenburg's new offensive. The serious defects in our army are opening the way to the enemy for increasing the general panic and preparing the soil in which the poisonous seeds of counter-revolution may come into full bloom. Already an attack is being organized by the strong Bourgeoisie; already the jackals and hyenas of the old regime are howling." Then, outlining the measures adopted and the powers conferred upon the Government to deal with the situation.

"We turn to you, our representatives, with a passionate appeal . Support the revolutionary authority: try to secure the full submission of working men, soldiers and peasants to all the decisions of democracy's majority. Inspire them; awaken enthusiasm in them. Exert your entire will, your entire energy. "Rally round our All-Russian centres and we will show the country and the world that the natio ed the greatest revolution in the world cannot and shall not periah."

RHONDDA TO END PROFITEERING

British Food Controller Will Regulate Prices

Necessity.

London Cable.—Lord Rhondda the Food Controller, outlining to-day the policy he purposes to follow to reguiate food prices and eliminate profiteering, said he intended to fix the prices of commodities of prime necessity over which he could obtain effecally attacks when Si hours work per fortnight, or six producer to the consumer. Every effort would be made to prevent speculation, and unnecessary middlemen would be eliminated. Existing agencies would be utilized for the purpose of distribution under license and under the control and supervision of local food controllers to be appointed by the local authorities.

.Where profits were made illegally, Lord Rhondda said he would press for imprisonment in all cases of sufficient gravity. He proposed to eliminate profiteering by fixing prices on the basis of pre-war profits. All flour mills would be taken over and worked on the Government account, the flour being sold to bakers at a uniform price, and the bakers being expected to sell loaves over the counter at maximum of 9d retail price and flour at a corresponding rate.

Briti-n wheat will be purchased by millers at prices determined by the Government, these prices over the year averaging 72s per quarter.

The prices charged to millers for both home and imported wheat would The importance of the educational be lower than the cost of the Governcourse must not be underestimated. A ment, and the difference would be made up by a subsidy from the exchequer. The policy of subsidies was only justifiable because of the impossibility of otherwie reducing the cost of food to the poor.

Maximum prices of cattle would be fixed-74 shillings per hundredweight in September, 72 shillings in October. 67 in November and December, and 60 in January. This would enable the farmers to realize without serious losses and would reduce prices to the consumers.

Dealers and butchers' profits would also be controlled. Retail prices would be fixed by local committees, and arrangements would be made for equitable distribution. The local authorities would be asked to appoint food control committees, including at least one representative of labor and one woman, these committees to be responsible for carrying out the regulations of the Food Controller.

A new scheme of sugar distribution, said Lord Rhondda, would be put into operation, and another important fee ture of the economy campaign would be the establishment of communal
