Every Available Man

John Buchan, the author of Nelson's history of the War, says that the Battle of Ypres in the autumn of 1914, was a decisive victory for us. Because of it the Allied line stood secure from the Oise to the sea; the enemy's turning and piercing movement had alike been foiled; and his short lived initiative was over.

In this battle one of the critical points was that at which General Moussey came to the aid of the sorely pressed General Bullfin. At one moment it looked as if General Moussey would have to yield, but he saved himself by novel reinforcements. He sent the Corporal commanding his escort to collect every available man. The Corporal scoured the countryside and brought in cooks, Army Service Corps men, and all whom he could find. With these a charge was made like that of Bruce's camp followers at Bannockburn and Moussey was able to hold his ground.

Had the line broken at that point the Battle of Ypres might have been lost and the result might have been very serious. This disaster was averted by calling up "Every Available Man", and it was the spirit behind the response that saved the day and brought it to pass that the large German army before Ypres was checked by an army a fifth of its size. The call that came from the Commanding Officer through the Corporal is coming to us to-day, and those who have already risked their lives by going to the place of duty are calling across the sea to us to send to them every available man. To get the men at the right time may change the whole situation, and we need these men now and our country must do its share.

Charlie Powell Heard From

The following letter was received by Mr. Thos. Banks from Pte. Chas. Powell of this place who enlisted with the 114th Haldimand O. S. Battalion last winter:

Dear Tom: Just a few lines to let you know how I am getting on. I hope you are in the best of health. I suppose you think my boys never think of the people of Jarvis. You will think we soon got to France. I imagine you are having cold weather over there. It is not very little here at present but we are getting a little since we struck France. But talk about mud and water. You have no idea Tom what we see. I often say I wish I was working for you this winter. L. Jones and I are together, but we'll get back again. We have lots of fun just the same. When we were out yesterday a storm struck us and we were wet to the hide and no way of drying our clothes that's the way it goes out there. I can't tell you as to our whereabouts in France I would like to but it's a crime on Active Service. I am trying to learn French and am not doing bad at all. Lemmon Jones and I are going down town to-night and don't know how well things are not being used to the ways over here. Now Tom, I haven't much to say and I can't tell you what goes on, but wait till I come back to work for you. Must close for this time. Give my best to everyone. All I can say is "Somewhere in France."

From your Friend Charlie. P.S.—Write Tom as soon as you can. News sounds good out here.

Appreciative Letter

Somewhere in France. (2/1/17.)

My Dear Grandfather:

I received a very nice Christmas parcel sent in your name and I want to thank you kindly for the same. I believe the people at home are and have been doing "their bit" by keeping the spirits of the fighting troops up and this and letters is the only way to do it. The amount of pleasure derived from a home letter is really wonderful. While I am writing this letter I can see the resting place of nearly five thousand gallant Canadians who have fought and died for a nation on which the sun never sets, they have paid the supreme penalty that we might live in peace and concord.

We are at present having our winter or I should say wet season, rain falls nearly every day and the sun never shines. It is wonderful how cold it keeps without freezing. The mud is deep and sticky and walking about is very difficult. Again I take pleasure in thanking you and hope you are enjoying the best of health as it leaves me. I remain Yours Leon S.

The foregoing was received by Mr. J. C. Sanderson from his grandson who is an officer with the Canadian troops in France, and shows how a small parcel or even a letter is appreciated by our boys in khaki.

Parcels to Germany

The Post Office Department is in receipt of a cablegram from the British authorities stating that no parcels containing food stuffs or articles of clothing should be forwarded in future from Canada for Prisoners of War in Germany.

The British authorities represent that it is absolutely necessary that the above regulation should be complied with. Therefore, on and from the 1st February, 1917, the Post Office Department will refuse to accept any such parcels for prisoners of war in Germany. The Department is advised by the English authorities that such parcels cannot be accepted for transmission to the prisoners, and could not get through.

The Canadian Red Cross Society through its London Office undertakes that every Canadian prisoner shall receive adequate relief in food and clothing, sending one parcel every week to each prisoner. Therefore, existing Organizations should continue their work of collecting funds to be sent to the Canadian Red Cross Society; and it is most desirable that they should not relax their efforts in this respect.

Persons desiring to have additional food or supplies sent to a Canadian prisoner should send money for that purpose to the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society.

A letter containing a remittance and asking the Prisoner of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, to send food or other articles to a prisoner of war should be addressed to the Prisoners of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, in the following form:—

No. 12345 Private A. G. Robinson, 48th Highlanders, Canadian Contingent, B. E. F., Can. Prisoner of War, Gortingen, Germany, c/o Prisoner of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society.

The remittance should be in the form of a Post Office Money Order drawn in favor of the Prisoner of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, for the prisoner of war in question.

Any person wishing to send a remittance direct to a Prisoner of War may do so by means of a Post Office Money Order, which is issued free of Commission. Instructions as to how to proceed can be obtained from Postmasters of Accounting Post Offices.

Parcels for prisoners of war containing articles which are not prohibited, may be sent fully addressed to the place of destination in the form above care of Prisoner of War Department, Canadian Red Cross Society, London, England, to be forwarded after they have been censored.

Detailed regulations respecting communication with Prisoners of War are being issued to the Postal Service generally, and full information may be obtained by making application to any Postmaster.
