"Forget Me Not."

It is the good thought of the organizers of the BELGIAN DAY, which will be held July 21st, which has surmamed it The Forget Me Not Day. It is the dainty little blue flower which will be distributed by the young ladies who have graciously offered their services for the National Celebration of Belgium, to the generous people who will encourage the work by giving, as much as they will be able, when solicited. The sympathies for Belgium, are getting more profound as the sufferings of her inhabitants are increasing under German domination with the thought and patience which give the certitude of the victory.

So everyone, no doubt, will be seen wearing a Forget-Me-Not on that day. If the population holds good, as we say, up to the present, they have admirably kept; but there is a limit to human endurance. For the indispensable endurance to continue, Belgium must be helped. Here we have suffered from the rear no doubt, what are our sufferings to compare to those who have suffered through cold and hunger, who seen their country invaded by modern barbarians worse than those of the past, who have seen their homes burnt, their friends ruined, their relations and friends massacred! And today, the deportations are enslaving Belgians who are asking the civilized world, their hands tied with chains, the help for their women and children to whom they took they took the living means. No one can be unalarmed at the sight of those little innocents who are slowly perishing by all the privations, and that under the eyes of their mothers who have made the sacrifice necessary to save them!

The sufferings of the Belgian people are well known! Everyone knows that they are not merited, it is for the respect of their signature! This is sufficient to obtain the sympathies of the whole world! The Canadians will once more show their generosity on the Belgian Day. The Belgian Works will largely benefit from gifts on this occasion.

From now subscription lists are opened in the first page of "Pro Belgica" to the profit of the Belgian Day (see p. 8.) Subscribers can choose the works to which they give. The 16 page illustrated souvenir paper which will be published on July 21st will be sent to subscribers. The contents and text of illustrations will be published in this issue of the paper.

Send your donations, as small as they may be, to the Administration of "Pro Belgica," 32 Sussex Avenue, Montreal. The opening of these subscription lists enables all persons who desire to contribute to diminish the innumerable sufferings of Belgium. Think of it and do your share. Copy of Pro Belgica is sent free on request.
