London (Cable). The Commons to-night, after of closure, voted down a resolution proposed by Snowden, Socialist, who published by the Russian of all proposals for impugnant and agrandizement on the British Government similar declaration on British democracy.

The necessity of this resolution was explained by Robert Cecil as a treaty much as it presented an to the consolidated fund. The resolution was explained by Lord Robert Cecil as a treaty much as it presented an to the consolidated fund. The resolution was explained by Lord Robert Cecil as a treaty much as it presented an to the consolidated fund.

Mr. Snowden, who was supported by a small number of Socialists, said that if it was found that the treaty with Russia, it would be a step towards peace. He said that the treaty with Russia, it would be a step towards peace. He said that the treaty with Russia, it would be a step towards peace.

Lord Robert Cecil said although nobody is likely to quarrel with the resolution, an unfortunate might be caused in Russia must be rejected on a name, that it presented to the Consolidated fund which must go through the business of the Government. Lord Robert was unable to agree with den's speech in moving ment, which was not a note harmony in the House.

He was skeptical of Snowden's argument that the resolution of the Italian and German. The latter, he said, had their Government right had refused to condemn worst atrocities. CARRY OUT ALL AGRE With regard to Mr. Snowden as to whether treaty with Russia before they were still binding, he said doubtless they were. Russian Government's allies from any particular entered into with the Great Britain was bound carry out her engagement with Russia, but with all. Paying warm tribute to in which the Russian had been brought about, he commenting on the Social peace without annexation, the German colonies, he said did not take from the natives from Germany, a part of the war's rescued them, are we get them back? (Cheers.)

He then read a long and shocking treatment of natives in both Germany and German West Africa. "If there is any measure of the war I should regard the idea of returning natives been freed from a German kind."

Then there was Poles Lorraine, and Italia France. Great Britain's policy of non-intervention cases? Lord Robert said harshly and oppressively Armenia and Syria, and so to impress upon Mr. Snowden's friends that while it not be good grounds for justice, yet, having done the nation could hardly abandon the fruits of its achievements.

NO REPARATION FOR C Then what about Belgium and northern France, at destruction of peaceful men? Was there to be no reparations? The suggestion that should enter into peace?
