The story is circulating about Delhi that a farmer in that vicinity has in his possession 1000 bushels of A1 wheat. He refused to sell it at $3 per bushel, stating that he will hold it until June, when it will be higher. Wheat on Saturday was at $2.50 per bushel. We don't wish any one ill-luck, but it would serve the Mida jolly well right if he gets stung good and proper.—Reformer.

'Twas A Famous Victory

It was a summer evening, Old Bethman's beer was done,
And he, before the sandy shore, was sitting in the sun,
Instructing for the hundredth time, his grandson, Fritz Von Hoggenheim.

"Twas where the German Oceans rear its crest of snowy foam,
We met and beat the British fleet and then retreated home,
We bolted like the dence" said he, "after that famous victory."

"When things were looking very blue a shoreward course we shaped;
We lost about a score of ships, but all the rest escaped,
And, in unconquerable pride, made for a port in which to hide."

"A world of human pity filled our noble Admiral's mind,
And so he broke the action off, and left the foe behind,
We always act like that," said he, "After a famous victory."

"In our commiques we make no indiscreet remark,

For we had cautiously resolved to keep our losses dark;
A course invariably applied by people on the winning side."

"And after that, the beaten foe blockaded all our ports,
And ran us short of meat and bread, and goods of various sorts.
Such things as that must always be, after a famous victory."

"But why did we allow them to?" the artless Fritz enquired.
"Because they had so strong a fleet they did as they desired.

Such cruel things must always be while brutal Britain rules the sea."

"But, Grandpa," said little Fritz, "if we had really won,

Why did not Prussia rule the sea, as Britain once had done?"
"Oh, shut your silly mouth" said he; "It was a famous victory."

—Horace Wyatt.

The ratepayers of Tillsonburg turned down two industrial propositions recently, both failing to get the necessary two-thirds vote at the polls. The Tillsonburg Foundry and Machine Company asked for a loan of $10,000, a free site and a fixed assessment of $2,000 and agreed to employ from 30 to 50 hands. The Canadian Cereal and Flour Mills Co. sought a fixed assessment of $30,000 and agreed to employ from 30 to 50 hands.
