A Royal Flying Corps Bomber Squadron—A pilot examining a 25 lb. bomb.

 Regarding her army, which stands second to none,
 Will fight for Democracy till the battle is won,
 She is fighting to-day for her honour and life,
 All hoping for one end: the end of the strife;
 No matter how long this cruel war may last,
 She is good for the future as she was in the past.
 Some of her sons may never return,
 For mistakes have been made and much we must learn,
 O, the Roll of Honour their names will be found,
 For they died like heroes, on duty bound.
 So here's to Old England, the mother of them all
 We bow our heads in prayer that she may never fall;
 For her pride to the "Scrap of Paper," she found she must fight
 And will continue to do so till the end of the fight.

Daylight Saving Worked Well.
 In the United Kingdom during the four and a half months that daylight saving was practiced in 1916, it is claimed that the saving in gas alone conserved 200,000 tons of coal. The expenses to consumers were reduced by $2,375,000. Electric light companies reported a reduction of about 20 per cent.
 In France fuel used for illuminating purposes was 10 per cent less after the daylight saving program was adopted.
 In Germany the Berlin municipal gas works reported in May and June of 1916 a decrease of 500,500 cubic meters, in spite of the fact that 18,000 new gas meters had been installed during the previous six months.

Easy Money.
 Near Otis Hill, in Hingham, Mass., where once stood a target and rifle range, the highway road excavator has scooped from the hilly ground several hundred pounds of lead from bullets fired there, and one young man is credited with having obtained enough lead to fill an ash after his first hour's work netting him $1.50.

The Largest Nests.
 The mound-shaped nests of the jungle fowls of Australia, in which the eggs are hatched by the heat of the decomposing vegetation, are sometimes 15 feet high and 100 feet in circumference. They are believed to be the largest nests made by any creature.

Million-Dollar Brain.
 "Old Bostely says he has a million-dollar brain," observed the man who was always picking up information. "He's quite right," answered the other; "it would cost him fully that much to find out what's the matter with it."

Lost We Forget.
 We too often forget, wrote Herbert Spencer, that not only is there a soul of goodness in things evil, but very generally a soul of truth in things erroneous.

Add to Phonograph's Tone.
