GOT TOO MUCH MURSING

Had Some Comfort.

There was no Hed Cross in the old mitted to the field hospitals, but women were frequent visitors to the stationary army hospitals in the cities. bringing food deficacies and always auxious to assist in relieving the suf ferings of their sick or wounded heroes. James Morris Morgan in his reminiscences of the "Lust tause" relates a story incident to his visit to a Richmond war hospital to see his friend. Captain F. W. Dawson, who was very seriously wounded. The day was hot and he found his friend lying on a cot near the open front door so weak that he could not spenk above a whisper The poor fellow whispered in his ear "Jimmie for mercy's suke make then: move my cot to the back of the build

Morgan assured him that he had been placed in the choicest place in the hos pital, so that he could get any little ai. that might be stirring, but he still insisted that he wanted to be moved, giv ing as a reason that every lady who en tered the place washed his face and feel him with meat jelly. The result wa that his face felt sore and he wa stuffed so full of jelly that he was most uncomfortable. As he was so weat: that he could not defend himself, the women would not listen to his protests At Morris' request the head surgeon pinned a notice on Dawson's sheet to this effect: "This man must be washed and fed only by the regular nurses."

And Also Baseball Games and Shooting Matches in Alaska.

Two events of annual occurrence in Alaska are the shoot of the various territorial gun clubs at Seward and the midnight baseball game at Fairbanks. June 22 being the longest day in the year, there is no hour of the entire twenty-four when a newspaper cannot be easily read out of doors, and in consequence dealers in artificial light and lighting supplies have no business but to dream of the coming winter months when people light lamps at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and keep them going in the forenoon until 10 o'clock or later.

Eight o'clock in the evening is the hour at which the ball games usually begin, but so far as adequate light is concerned 12 o'clock midnight would d equally as well. The Seward 12 o'clock midnight shoot ing tournament is invariably attended by all sportsmen from the United State. who chance to be visiting near there at the time, and the participation of such gentlemen is frequently a source o chagrin to themselves and of amuse ment to the initiated, as the shooting records of even the crack shots take a sad siump at these events. This is due to the peculiar light, with which visi tors are naturally not familiar. As Alaskan sportsmen do much of their summer shooting after 6 o'clock in th: evening and are used to these condi tions, there is little variation in their marksmanship whatever the hour.

Why Metals Rust. Gold does not turnish like other metal because it is not acted upon by oxygen or water. It is the moisture in the at mosphere which causes other metals to tarnish owing to their oxidation. Water contains a large proportion of oxygen It is the oxygen in the moist air combining with the surface of the metals that covers them with tarnish. Platinum. like gold, resists the influence of oxygen and moisture and when pure neither rusts nor tarnishes. Aluminum also does not rust, neither hot nor cold water having any action upon it. Silver tarnishes on exposure to the air. the agent producing this effect being the sulphur. Iron is the metal which tarnishes and rusts most easily, its oxidization proceeding until the metal is completely eaten or burnt away with Various Parrots. There are 350 species of parrots. chiefly confined to the warm parts of America, Asia, Africa and Australia. There is none in Europe and none in Asia west of the Indies, and, while numerous in the Malay archipelago, they are wanting in China, Cochin China and the Philippine Islands. The only speries native to the United States is the Carolina parrot.

The gray parrot of western Africa is credited with having a greater power of imitating the human voice than any bird of the species. It has long been a favorite and is the subject of many stories of greater or less credibility.

Bazaara of Gaza. The modern Gaza is in almost every particular an Egyptian rather than a Syrian town. It is full of rich vegeta tion, and its many glistening minarets show up bravely against the dull green of innumerable olive trees. Gaza is still, as of old and always, a place of trade, of camels and caravans, and its baznars are forever loud with traffic and filled with merchandise.

Moving Pictures. "I belped with moving pictures twenty years ago." "Why, moving pictures weren't in existence then."

"Yes. but moving pictures was at that time. I was a drayman."

Heard on the Highway. "Don't worry over what you think is a-comin' to you." says a Georgia philosopher, "but rise up and meet it on the road, and, if it's trouble, meet it fair and square or whistle a dance tune and forget it."-
