papers were given, the first by Mrs. Nicolson on "Different varieties of bread and the uses," the paper giving the proper idea of the Food Controller by the means for us to save bacon and flour for the Allies, and not to put money in our own or anyone else's pockets. The other paper was given by Mrs. H. Peacock on "Carry On." It touched on how the heart of the Empire was being stirred at this time, in deepest sympathy with the great resisting efforts of the Allied army on the western front, and in our work in relation to the war by giving our best efforts and acting faithful and true in the execution of the duties at hand we are doing our part in winning the war. To carry on bravely and steadily is still left for most of us to do. In doing just that we need not feel either dissatisfied or ashamed.

For Patriotic Purposes

Miss Margaret Harrison, President of the Dunnville Women's Patriotic Society, has received the following letter from Mr. F. R. Lalor, M.P.

"My Dear Miss Harrison,—I am enclosing you my official cheque from the Government for seasonal indemnity, amounting to $240. These cheques represent the payment received by me, less absent days. I have not charged anything for my expenses, such as hotel bills and other expenses during the session, but have turned over to you the full amount of indemnities received.

"I am placing this in your hands, and suggest that, as President of the Dunn-ville Women's Patriotic Society, and Mrs.
Hain as Corresponding Secretary, that you arrange with all the Red Cross Societies and Women's Clubs in the County a fair and equitable division in proportion to the number of soldiers overseas that are on their books as receiving comforts and assistance.

"I want to take this opportunity to extend thanks, on behalf of the people of the County, to you and all the Red Cross Societies and other organizations that are doing such good work for our brave boys overseas in providing them with comforts. You are certainly doing a splendid work, which I know is appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
"F. R. Lalor."

The Women's Patriotic Society of Dunnville requests that the above letter be published by the other papers in the County, and that the Secretaries of the Red Cross Societies and Women's clubs communicate as soon as possible with Mrs. A. W. Hain or Miss Margaret Harrison, giving the information required to permit of the division of this generous gift.

Soldier's Letter to the W. I.

Whitley Camp, Surrey, Eng.
June 9, 1918

Dear Friend:

I received a box to-day from the Women's Institute containing your perfectly dandy pair of socks. It was certainly a surprise to me and a real treat. I sincerely thank you for your kindness. And what a nice box it was —sox to add to my comfort and ease for a treat. I consider my very fortunate indeed. This one of the happy days of a fellow's live over here when he receives a box from the people at home. And the sox are certainly good. Home-made sox are so much more comfortable than the ones we are issued with.

Since I have come to this country I have nothing to complain of, as far as work is concerned. But my turn will soon be coming when I'll have to get busy and earn my $1.10 per day. I have had many new and interesting experiences which of course I will remember for a long time.

Again I thank you for your kindness to me.

Very sincerely yours,
WALLACE L. MOORE.

Every Gardener His Own Seed Grower

(Experimental Farm Note.)

While rigid selection from year to year is necessary for most kinds of vegetables when grown for seed; and while to keep them pure the different varieties have to be grown some distance apart, yet most of the seed grown in the home garden is likely to give almost or quite as satisfactory results or even better than that which is bought, and, as some seed may be difficult to obtain next year, it is recommended for each person who has a garden to let a few plants or specimens ripen, from which seed can be saved.

It is better to make the best plants and save the seed from them rather than to save the seed which remain after the plants have been cropped.

The following minimum number of feet, plants or specimens to be saved as suggested as being sufficient to supply enough seed for the home garden in 1919: Beans, 5 ft.; Corn, 1 ear; Cucumbers, 1; Lettuce, 3 plants; Squash, 1; Tomatoes, 3.

Either reserve a few feet of the row of beans, or, better still, mark a few productive plants free from disease.

The seed stalks of lettuce are thrown up after the heads are full grown. The seed ripens rather unevenly, and, in order not to lose any of it, each head should be picked over as soon as it shows white, it being necessary to go over the plants every few days. The plants can, however, be pulled up to dry.

If some radishes are left unpulled, after being ready for use, they will soon throw up stalks and good seed will develop.
For best results the plants should be at least six inches apart.

Spinach, if thinned to six inches, will produce an abundance of seed.

In saving home-grown seeds, it is important to dry them as soon as possible they are ripe, then bleach them, and keep them dry until needed the following spring.

Peas and beans will soon be spoiled for if they do not dry rapidly in the pod after being harvested.

As corn sometimes has been pulled before it is quite hard, it is desirable to see that there is a good circulation of air around each ear. A good plan is to husk the ears and then stick each one separately on nails driven into a board and far enough apart so that the ears will not touch.

The seed of tomatoes for home use should be saved from the plant bearing the largest crop of early and best fruit.
Where a quantity of seed is saved, the tomatoes may be cut in half and the pulp pressed out into some vessel, adding about one-third its volume of water.
Put in a dark room until fermentation sets in, which will be in about two days, when the seed will separate readily from the pulp. Wash out and dry where the sun does not shine on it.

Following are the quantities of seed which one might expect: Beans, 1 or more oz. per plant; Corn 30 to 600 kernels per ear; Cucumbers, 1 to 1 1/2 oz. per specimen; Lettuce, 1/2 oz. per plant; Muskmelon, 1 to 1 1/2 oz. per specimen; Onion, 1/2 oz. per plant; Peas, 4 oz. per 3 ft. or row; Pepper 1 lb. to 1 1/2 oz. per specimen; Radish, 1 oz. per plant; Spinach, 1 1/2 oz. per plant; Squash, small seeded, small seeded, 2 1/2 oz. each; Squash large seeded, 3 oz. each; Tomato, 50 to 300 each; Watermelon, 2 to 3 oz. each.

Dispose of Old Hens and Breeding Stock Early

As soon as the breeding season is over, get rid of all male birds used in the breeding pens. When the egg yield drops in the early summer, or when the egg yield does not pay for the feed, sell off all hens over two years old and even the year-old cull pretty well. Poultry at this time of the year will bring a better price than later and feed and space will be saved for the best of the year-olds and the growing chicks. Old hens as a rule, especially of the heavier varieties do not pay for their feed in late summer eggs.

Sell the young cockerels whenever they are ready throughout the summer. Don't keep everything till the fall. Whenever the price is good, sell the cockerels as broilers or as small roasters.

In an experiment carried on at the Experimental Farm in the spring of 1917 with Leghorn chickens, the sale of the cockerels paid all expenses for incubation, brooding, and feed for themselves and pullets up until the first of September.
When the pullets went into winter quarters on November 1st, they had cost over and above what had been paid by the sale of the cockerels just 3.9 cents each.
This experiment showed not only that it paid to sell the cockerels early, but it also demonstrated that pullets could be bought much cheaper than they could be bought in the fall.

District Deputy Grand Master Gloyd and installing team installed the I.O.O.F. officers at Cayuga on Friday last.
