Knox-Chambers

Miss Margery Chambers, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers, of Rossmore avenue, Bronxville, and Ensign William Fullerton Knox, U.S.F., oldest son of Mrs. William Fullerton Knox, of Armour Villa Park, were married Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, at the Christ Episcopal church on Sagamore road, this village. Rev. A. D. Wilson, the rector officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Marjorie Grey, of Bronxville, as maid of honor and the best man was the groom's brother, R. B. Knox. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The ceremony was held at an advanced date owing to the present war conditions the groom being under order to await instructions of the United States navy. Following the ceremony which was attended by only the immediate members of the families, a dinner was held at the residence of the bride's parents. Late Wednesday evening Ensign and Mrs. Knox left for Newport, R. I., where their future plans will depend upon the orders received by the ensign.

NOTE—The foregoing was handed to office for publication.

Control Swarming

(Experimental Farm Note)

One of the greatest problems in bee-keeping today is the control of swarming. It is natural for a strong colony of bees to swarm in early summer when honey is coming on, but the breaking up of the colony cuts down the honey yield; while watching for and hiving swarms takes a great deal of the beekeeper's time, and the swarms may escape notice and fly away.

The methods of controlling swarming that have been tested at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, fall under three heads.

(1) General measures. Partly shading the apiary; providing a large entrance with deep space between combs and floor; giving plenty of room in the brood chamber and supers; and young queens. These measures, while valuable have been found insufficient in themselves to prevent the bees from raising queens in preparation for swarming.

(2) Manipulations to prevent more than one swarm. The queen's wings are clipped, preferably during fruit-bloom, and when a prime swarm issues and is still in the air, the queen is picked up from the ground and placed in a cage, and the hive is removed to a new stand. A new hive containing the caged queen is then placed on the old stand to receive the returning swarms, the queen being liberated later. The field bees join the
