

Don't Wait and—Wish Work Now and—Have!

When drastic regulations for the rationing of food come into effect (and such an Order in Council may be made very early next Fall) you will wish then, that you had a crop of nice vegetables ready to take off your garden or nearby piece of vacant land that you could have cultivated if you had really wanted to.

Well, all we say is—

Don't Wait and—Wish

If you have not yet decided to plant a vegetable garden make up your mind to do so now. You will not regret it. There is still lots of time. Potatoes and beans may be planted up to June 1st and these are the best substitutes for wheat and meat.

For good, practical advice upon how to lay out and cultivate a Vegetable Garden, write for a free copy of the booklet entitled: "A Vegetable Garden for Every Home." This has been prepared by the Ontario Department of Agriculture for the guidance of citizens who will respond to this call for increased production.

Dramatic Ocean Greeting

THOUGH a mere land lubber the call of the sea was too strong for W. H. Boswell, of the Passenger Dept., C. P. R., Charlton Green, London, England, and when he joined up he decided to follow the footsteps of his viking ancestors. Followed a period of training at one of Britain's great naval bases, after which he was posted to a patrol boat and found his sea legs. That patrol boat has proved a friend in need for many of the passengers and crew who wait anxiously on the ocean's wide expanses by the horrible Hun, and when the "Calgarian" was sunk she picked up one of her best officers, and a hearty greeting took place between the expert, which resulted in the latter loaning the former a clean collar, on the understanding that it would be returned to him, so that when in the days to come his children ask, "Father what did you do in the Great War," he will worn by "Capt. Kendall, of Dr. Crippen and 'Empress of Ireland' fame, whom I had saved from a watery grave when the 'Calgarian' went down, in March, 1915."

Creative Canadian Literature

Although there are no books more sought after by collectors of other nations than "Canadians," Canadians themselves have hitherto paid little attention to their own literature. When, therefore, Lord Shaughnessy of the C.N.R., who himself is a great reader of works by Canadian authors, and has an extensive library, was recently asked to present the nucleus of a library to the Canadian Club of New York, no available list could be found which could be considered representative of what was creative and original in Canadian literature. With the help of well informed booksellers and librarians such a list was compiled and the nucleus of this Canadian library in New York has been formed. The list was confined almost exclusively to fiction and poetry, the intention was to emphasize the creative character of Canadian literature. Several books which otherwise would have been included, such as "The Spring Fragrance," could not be obtained, as they are out of print. A guide to those who are interested in the growth of an original Canadian literature, Lord Shaughnessy's list should prove of great interest. Here it
