After the concert the members were invited to the home of J. W. Holmes, ex-M. P. P., where a couple of hours was pleasantly spent and a bountiful repast served, which was much appreciated. All report a jolly time.

That the fees charged on the Brantford market cannot be raised in order to provide a revenue for improvements is revealed by an enquiry of the Building and Ground Committee. When the property was originally deeded by the Indians to the Corporation, the stipulation was made that the market should be a free one for all time. This provision in perpetuity prevents any action being now taken and there is an agitation on foot to move the market to a civic owned site.

After viewing the child and the situation he began his detective work and after a thorough investigation and a lapse of a few hours he had the child delivered into its mother's arms.

Division Court

Division Court was held in the village yesterday with only one case on the slate, the plaintiff being N. Montague and the defendant A. Porter. Mr. Porter bought seed wheat from Mr. Montague last fall the price being $2.50. In settling for the wheat this spring Mr. Porter refused to pay the $2.50 offering to pay 2.10, his reason being that the new government regulation stated $2.10 and that the seed was not up to standard. The Judge ruled that the government price did not bear on seed wheat and the plaintiff won his suit. Mrs. Porter had to pay the cost of the Court.

Eloquent War Lecture

The War Lecture on the work of the Red Cross given in the Presbyterian church last evening by the Rev. Capt. McGillivray, of St. Thomas was listened to by a fair sized audience, the body of the church being almost filled although the occasion warranted a far larger crowd. In opening the meeting Rev. Hare, paid eloquent tribute to the speaker of the evening, his belief being more than born out in the speech that followed. Miss Ethel Snyder and Mr. Howard Guiler rendered appropriate songs.

Rev. Capt. McGillivray in opening his address captivated his audience by his style of oratory and witticism, and his first theme was the Red Cross, their work, life and the results obtained, both in France and the British Isles. Following he spoke of the Mother Country, England, Ireland and Scotland, the efforts they had completed and what they were doing. In passing here he spoke of what the British Navy was, its mission and result. Sweeping his listeners to the fields of France and Flanders he pictured the lives of our Canadian Boys, their work, their pleasures, their sorrows and their trials. Incident after incident was described with clarifying clearness and the message was one of trust in the final outcome of right and trust in the many qualities of our boys. The dominant factor in the address was sacrifice and the audience almost felt the pain and hardships of the troops so strong and forceable was the style of the orator. And in referring to the Red Cross he spoke of their wonderful help and comfort to the boys on the field of honor. Space does not permit the substance of the full address but throughout his discourse the spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion to the cause was eminent. He closed his address for our utmost help to the Red Cross, letters to the boys and in doing everything in our power to help the cause along.

A very hearty vote of thanks was moved by the Rev. H. L. Smith and seconded by the Rev. J. Hirst Ross to the speaker for his services.

The meeting was closed by prayer and the singing of the National Anthem.

Some $120 was realized, more money being received at the close of the meeting than that which was paid in for admission.

Citizen Passes Away

In the death of Mr. Joseph Wilson on May first Hagersville loses one of its oldest and most popular citizens. During the past two years he had been in poor health so that his death was not unexpected.

Born in New York city shortly after his parents arrival in America May 25th, 1844, he spent life in Wallace township, to which part of Ontario his parents had removed after a short sojourn in the neighboring republic. On August 16, 1872, he married Dorothy Cutbert of this town and for many years successfully managed the Wilson House, proving a genial and popular host.

He was a member of All Saints' church, an exemplary citizen and his death will be mourned by a wide circle of relatives and friends.

A sorrowing widow, two daughters and two sons survive. The funeral to St. Paul's cemetery, Jarvis, on Friday last was largely attended. Rev. Douglas conducted the services at the house and at the grave. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. — Hagersville News.

Concert

The Jarvis Brass Band are holding a Concert in Chambers Hall on the eve of May 25th. The program will be furnished by Mr. Leroy of Toronto assisted by Miss Jessie McGregor of Caledonia and the Jarvis Orchestra and other local talent. Proceeds in aid of Band with a percentage to Red Cross and Ladies Institute.

Court of Revision

THE MUNICIPAL COURT of Revision will be held in the Temperance Hall, Jarvis, for the village of Jarvis at 8 p. m., on Tuesday, the 4th day of June 1918, when the appeals against the assessment will be heard and passed thereon.
