MAN AND WOMAN POWER IN CANADA.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

By the compilation of a National Register, in June of this year, Canada virtually took a census of all the available man and woman power in the Dominion for the purposes of winning the war. The step is one of the most significant and far-reaching which Canada has taken in its war-time history. In that registration every person in Canada, man or woman, of sixteen years of age or over, was obliged to answer a series of questions relative to his or her usefulness for national service at the present time. The returns state that about 5,000,000 people presented themselves for registration and answered the necessary questions. Thus Canada holds, to-day, a national inventory of the human resources of the country, and it is confidently predicted that the labor difficulties on the farms and in industry will now be made easier of solution, with the information available through the National Register.

The figures themselves, indeed, justify the conclusion that the Government can supply all the farm labor necessary for Canada's war needs, can mobilize labor for any kind of war production and, if need be, systematically ration the people. But, thanks to the greater production of both foodstuffs and ships which the past year has happily witnessed, there is not the slightest prospect of a rationing plan being necessary, either for Canada or for the United States. What there is a likelihood of now is that, through the existence of the Canadian National Register, employers of labor will be, and doubtless are, getting into

The publisher of the best Farmer's paper in the Maritime Provinces in writing to us states:

"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."

touch with the Government at Ottawa in order to explain their needs. Those persons who desire to engage in war work will be able to find the right employment, whilst the Government, by an organized system of redistribution, will be able to bring about the highest percentage of economic efficiency.

In the National Register, as in the similar register of men and women which Great Britain prepared some time ago, Canada possesses an instrument, for the purpose of winning the war, of tremendous potential value. The question naturally forces itself to the front: How will the Government avail itself of the great opportunity? Canada stands before the world, to-day, a democracy in which every man and woman may be placed under orders, if called upon, in accordance with the true democratic ideal. The right use of the register, or rather the fullest use of it, to the end that some of the industrial difficulties with which Canada has been faced may be removed or ameliorated, is something which the Canadian people will naturally expect from the Government. Now the military and industrial problems which have been before Canada since 1914 are simple and clearly defined. The Dominion has had to supply the necessary man-power to reinforce the fighting men at the front. It has had to provide as much foodstuff as possible for the nations of Europe, and it has had to so transform and reorganize conditions in Canada itself that the country could put forth its maximum efforts into the war.

As to whether the last objective has been achieved, there has been a diversity of opinion. The disaffection with regard to the wage question has, according to some, undone, or seriously affected the work of industrial organization in the country. The elaboration of this particular point, however, is beside the question at the present moment. Doubtless the war of difficulty, caused by the problem of attaining the over-mounting cost of living, offers no really insurmountable barriers. If the purchasing power of the dollar has undergone a decided slump, if the war conditions, in other words, have depreciated the value of the money spent upon the upkeep of the Canadian workman's household by 60 to 80 per cent, the fact still remains that some proper dealing with the labor problem may yet remedy conditions. The call, certainly, is to the Government to meet that critical situation, and to put to an early use the instrument of the National Register now at hand. The manner of response to that call will be judged with well-high as keen interest in the United States as in Canada itself.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The fall weather is the most severe season of the year for colds—most days are warm, the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent cold or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly cure it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

At the Top of the Road.

"But, Lord," she said, "my shoulders still are strong—I have been used to bear the load so long; and see, the hill is passed, and smooth the road."

"Yet," said the Stranger, "yield me now thy load."

Gently he took it from her, and she stood, straight limbed and lithe, in new-found maidenhood.

And long, sun-lit fields; around them sprang a tender breeze, and birds and rivers sang.

"My Lord," she said, "the land is very fair!"

Smiling, he answered, "Was it not so there?"

"There? In her voice a wondering question lay;

"Was I not always here, then, as to-day?"

He turned to her, with strange, deep eyes aflame:

"Knowest thou not this kingdom, nor my name?"

"Nay," she replied, "but this I understand—That thou art lord of life in this dear land!"

"Yes, child," he murmured, "scarce above his breath;

"Lord of the land, but men have named me Death."

Curing Tuberculosis.

The earlier tuberculosis is detected in an individual case, the greater are the possibilities of a cure. Therefore help your friend, your neighbor, your relative, to recognize and treat this disease at the start.

The first essential for the treatment is rest until the disease has ceased progressing. The physician must determine when exercise should be resumed. The second is food in abundance until the lost weight has been regained, and a little more. The third is fresh air, indoors and out, but most of the time out, in all seasons and weathers. If the patient sleeps indoors, the windows and the external door of his room, if there is one, should be open every night and all night.

The fourth is hope and determination. Your chances for recovery will largely depend on your attitude of mind and willingness to make a determined effort to recover. Make your sacrifices at the beginning.—Conservation.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh cured by our medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, F. J. CHENEY, CO., Toledo, O.

SAUERKRAUT

An Unjust Prejudice Against a Good Food.

Considerable prejudice exists in the minds of a good many people on the subject of sauerkraut, and there is some hesitancy about using it, because it is always associated with Germany. As a matter of fact, sauerkraut was first made in Holland, although the Hun, with a customary acquisitiveness, took it up and made it more or less of a national dish.

It is manufactured extensively on this continent and is made in many homes. There should be no hesitancy about using it on the same scale as before the war. It is not really of German origin. In the United States it is now called "Liberty Cabbage."

To make sauerkraut the outside leaves of the cabbage should be removed and the core cut crosswise several times and shredded very finely with the rest of the cabbage. Pack into a clean barrel, keg or tub, taking care to distribute the salt uniformly as possible, using one pound of salt

"PRO BELGICA"

Publication of a Special Number

"PRO BELGICA", a periodical published for the Belgian propaganda was just issued a remarkable special number.

On the cover framed with the now well-known Belgian national colors is represented a genealogical tree of the Royal family on the foot of which is the King's coat of arms. Nineteen portraits figure on that tree.

Statesmen, professors, writers have contributed to this number so that it may contain interesting articles.

Among the French ones are the following: The Belgian Mission in America by Mr. H. Carton de Wiart; Reconstruction in Belgium by Mr. des Ombiaux; Apics of Yser by Rev. Father de Mangleere; a striking letter addressed to the Governor of Belgium reproduced from "La Libre Belgique"; Belgian Army's share in the War; Professional training for maimed soldiers by Senator: Thiebald, etc.

Among the English articles let us mention: A fine letter from Mr. Herbert Hoover; Fighting Starvation in Belgium by Professor Vernon Kellogg; Belgian War Cartoons by Mr. R. Arrowsmith; Belgium's gratitude towards U. S. by Mr. des Ombiaux; Reply to the German White Book; The Belgian Dynasty, etc.

The number contains also an illustrated notice on Queen Elizabeth and the entire list of subscribers to Queen Elizabeth's Purse.

Numerous illustrations increase the interest of this publication. A part from photographs of the front and of the Belgian Relief Work, there are fine portraits of the Royal family, of the Belgian premier, Mr. Cooremans, of the Minister of Justice, Mr. Carton de Wiart, of Cardinal Mercier, of Mr. Herbert Hoover together with ministers taken at St. Adresse.

This number may be obtained on sending 25 cents in stamps to the editor of "PRO BELGICA" 32 Sussex Avenue, Montreal.

THE VELVET BAG.

Widely Useful, and Very Popular Just Now.

The Parisian, you know, carries her nightie with her whenever she goes and if she is detained at her friends' house after a quiet little dinner she remains for the night.

Lightest nights on the streets make walking about alone in the evening disagreeable, and male escorts are few, so the cleverest of little bags scarcely larger than the ordinary purse were provided and the nighties packed on one side, with the necessary toilet articles, and the other side was reserved for change and papers.

Something of this sort is going on in this country, for at least in New York the small purse is seldom seen. The women have so much to do in these busy days, if nothing more than knitting, that some sort of a capacious bag has to be provided. In most cases the solid headed bag is much too small, and so the velvet bag to match is much in evidence. Taupe, brown, black and dark blue velvet are all used, and the beautiful tops are of a clouded celluloid-like composition usually exactly matching in tone.

Another material which the busy but carefully dressed woman likes is tri-cellette, which may come in silk or in mesh or net or dress. Matching colors should be a comparatively easy matter, anyway, for women have elected to dress themselves in uniform shades of brown taupe and navy, for the new shades of reddish browns are hardly in general use as yet.

Beading, embroidery and fur are all used as decorations and are equally smart, fur being decidedly the newest. Lines of beads are arranged with mathematical precision and various conventional designs of unconventional colors are considered best.

MAYGAR AND SLAV.

Something of the Warring Races In Austria-Hungary.

In 1848 the Magyars revolted against Austria and attempted to secure their political liberties. They were subdued, but their struggle aroused the keenest and most sympathetic interest in the United States. The Hulseman letter of Daniel Webster, Secretary of State, may not have been entirely consistent with diplomatic precedents, but it expressed the unanimous feeling of Americans. Captain Ingraham became a national hero because in the Turkish port of Smyrna he cleared his decks for action and demanded that an Austrian war vessel surrender. Martin Koszta, an Hungarian who had taken out his "first papers" in this country, but had not completed his naturalization, Ingraham violated Turkish neutrality, but he got his man. Koszta fled from Hungary and received such an ovation here as had been given to no man—as has to this day been given to no foreigner—except Lafayette.

The reactionaries won in Germany and Austria in 1848, but in 1868 the Hungarians won a Constitution that recognized their political rights. Autonomy was conceded to them; they became an equal partner with Austria in controlling the Dual Monarchy, and the Emperor of Austria became the King of Hungary. "The Hungarians ceased to be the political serfs of the Austrians.

Having secured their own political liberties, they were as determined as the Austrians that no other race should have liberty. The Austrians and Magyars put together do not constitute a majority of the people of the Empire. They are about 22,300,000, and there are 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 of other races—Czechs, Croats, Slavs, Jews, Slovaks, Ruthenians, Ukrainians, Romanians, Poles and several other varieties, nearly all of the Slav stock.

The Slav majority in the Empire has been kept in political thralldom by the combination of Austrians and Magyars, who controlling the Government, and working under the House of Hapsburg, control the Reichsrath (because the Slav majority is gerrymandered out of its share of political power) and the army. Indeed, the majority of the subject races is probably greater than the official population figures show, for these figures are compiled by the Teutonic-Magyar officials, whose purpose is to minimize the Slav numbers.

And now we learn from Swiss sources that "the Austrian Government, yielding to Magyar pressure, has decided to take the most severe meas-
