Successful Convention

The 53rd Annual Convention of Haldimand County Sunday School, with a great success was the voice of all delegates.

This Convention was opened with the Vice President, Mr. J. C. Hare, of Nanticoke, in the chair, the President, Mr. Chas. R. Bilger, of Dunnville, being delayed by the friendliness of Walpole clay for automobiles.

Many others were detained for similar reasons but before the convention closed the attendance was all that could be desired.

Seven of the eight Department Superintendents had their reports on hand when called for and these reports showed this county to be alive and well while not reaching to the front line Haldimand is one of the Banner counties.

The President arrived on the scene just in time for his annual address. From then to the introduction of the President Elect, which was the last thing on the program for the afternoon session of the 2nd day, he presided with the grace and dignity and guided the convention in a most happy manner.

A noticeable feature of the convention was the fact that every person who had a part was on hand and well prepared to do his work. The addresses were all of a high order and could not help but mean advancement of the work of the Sunday School in the county.

The new General Superintendent for Ontario, Rev. T. A. Halpenny, showed that he was master of the situation and his addresses were much appreciated by all.

The delegates were all made to feel very much at home in Jarvis by the kind reception given them by Beeve R. W. Smith, who in a splendid address welcomed them to our town and expressed his practical sympathy with S. S. work.

The thanks of the convention were tendered to the people of Jarvis for their hospitality in entertaining them, special mention being made of the work of the ladies who had prepared so sumptuously and yet in full accordance with food conservation, for the wants of the physical man, also to the organist and to the choir for the music.

The Secretary, Wm. Macshell, also came in for well merited praise, his work as secretary before and at the convention showed that his knowledge of S. S. work in general and Haldimand County in particular, was well nigh encyclopedic.

The crowning session of all was the evening session of Tuesday. The new President, Mr. J. C. Hare, presided. The address of the evening was given by Major Birch of Toronto, who spent two years as Chaplain overseas. Words cannot adequately portray that address on the life of the soldier. Judging from the number present to do so would be like carrying coats to Newcastle as all the townspeople were represented at this session. For one hour and 40 minutes the Major held his audience spell bound as he related the life of the men at the front.

Rev. A. W. Hare of Jarvis and Rev. N. O. MacKinnon moved a vote of thanks to the Major for his splendid address. This was carried by a standing vote and tendered to the Major by the President.

The convention was closed by the singing of the National Anthem, followed by the Benediction pronounced by Rev. H. L. Smith, pastor of the church.

Letter from Henry Butcher

Brace, Aug. 26th, 1918.

Dear Mother, Father and Bruce.

Received your most welcome letter of July 27th this week and was so glad to hear from you. I will try and write a few lines, although I have written the other two so closely together. Thank goodness this battle is over and we are out once more for a rest. We sure did give Fritz a run for his money. I expect you really know more about the battle than I do except for the front that we were on.

This is the first that I have had, since coming to France to use a machine gun myself, other times I helped to carry it but did not firing. My opinion machine guns will win this war, we have just as many as him now so the show is not so one sided as it used to be. Old Fritz cannot stand our machine gun fire. They gave themselves up by the hundreds. One morning our battery got about seventy prisoners, so that is a little satisfaction.

When I last wrote you and told you about Ralph dying from wounds, I was a little upset and did not tell you as much as I should. Ralph was with the armoured car section when he was hit. I was I was in that section in March, but thank goodness, I got out just in time: He was hit by a piece of shrapnel in the stomach, when he left our dressing he seemed to be feeling fine and talked jolly all the time. We expected to hear from him in England but poor chap, the shrapnel must have been poisoned or something and died the next day at A—

I intend looking up his grave when I have a chance.

It is hard to think of him being taken away to you people in Canada and we feel awful bad about it too but we feel so proud of him, the way the boys fought and fell for their country.

Ralph always lived a good life and we know he has gone to a land where peace reigns forever. I do not see how boys can stay at home and wait to be conscripted and see their chums fall in France for them. I'm sure if they saw the things we see they would come across and lend a hand to help and get this affair settled up. If there is any questions you want to ask do not be afraid to ask as there might be something you would like to know that I wouldn't happen to think of.

Geo! It seems like ages since I have been home and it is a long while too. It makes an awful difference in two years. I can hardly believe that Bruce is big enough enough to rake hay. I expect we will all be back before another year.

Things look pretty good now.

Most of us have gasoline stoves and they are a joke.

Well dear parents, this is all this time, trusting this will find you all well as I am.

Your Loving son,
HENRY.

Help the Boys "Over There" By Saving Gasoline

The Allies need gasoline. Waste none of it on Sunday motoring for pleasure. He who uses it for this purpose stints those who are fighting our battles. It is the duty of all motor car owners to comply with the Fuel Controller's request to save "gas".

The safety of the State being the supreme law, personal enjoyment must give place to national necessity during war time. To save gasoline is to save money. It will also ensure a more adequate supply of "gas" for the needs of our war machine, which must lack no essential. To comply with the Fuel Controller's request will save $150,000 on a single Sunday. In gasoline it will also save hundreds of thousands of gallons. A word to the wise motor car owner is sufficient.

Walpole's big fair will be held two weeks from to-morrow. Prepare to take a day off and enjoy the day with your friends. Make this year the best in the history of the Society. Make your entries early.

There will be a Harvest Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Church, next Friday evening at 8 o'clock when the venerable Archdeacon Irving will be the preacher. Next Sunday the Rector will preach morning and evening on the subjects of the Harvest Thanksgiving.

Dunnville Fair on Thursday and Friday.

Mass in St. Ann's Church, Walpole, on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m.

May Develop Ft. Dover Harbor

Port Dover, Sept. 17.—"I am sufficiently convinced of the importance of these improvements, and I will ask my colleagues in the estimates for next year a substantial amount for this work." In these words Hon. F. B. Carvell answered the requests and arguments of delegations from eleven municipalities for the improvement of the harbor here, at the close of a visit of inspection that the Minister of Public Works paid here to-day. There were 300 representatives of all the towns and cities north from Port Dover to Kitchener and Elmira, and the Minister was undoubtedly impressed with the reasons they put forth for harbor improvement.

Mr. Carvell arrived from Ottawa at noon, and proceeded by a few minutes the advent trainload of delegates from Elmira, Waterloo, Preston, Hespeller, Galt, Paris, Brantford, Waterford and Simcoe, representing the Boards of Trades and Councils of these centres. In addition Mr. Carvell was met at the station by a delegation of Port Dover business men and representatives of the Norfolk County Council.

Following the inspection of the docks and the harbor site, Mr. Carvell also announced that he would undertake to repair the wharf and pier immediately. Work on this, he said, would start next week.

An informal reception was held for the Minister in the park, speeches being made from the band stand. The speeches chiefly were reasons for harbor improvement, and humorous references to a situation that brought certain speakers and the Minister on the same platform. A most imposing array of counsel pleaded the cause of the harbor.

When the Government was formed it was formed with the distinct understanding that I, as minister of Public Works, would spend no money except when necessary," said Mr. Carvell, who was greeted with rousing cheers. This understanding did not make him popular, he said.

"There are some cities I dare not visit," he added. There was one, he said, not 100 miles from Port Dover, that he thought he could not even pass through unless incognito.

Mr. Carvell said that he was not committing a breach of confidence when he stated that there had been an idea that government might take over the G. T. R. and, if so, the Port Dover harbor with it.

"If the G.T.E. does not become part of the Government railroads, then the harbor at Port Dover will become the property of the Government. 'We have promised to take it over and it will be done'.

The Minister admitted that he had been very much impressed with the dilapidated state of the wharf and pier. "I did not think there was such a pier in Canada," he said. "We will undertake to repair the wharf and the pier immediately."

Though he believed in doing contract work by tender, in this case, to save time, he would hand the work over to some competent man and put him at it next week.

The Minister stated that he realized that if the cities and towns represented by the delegates present were going to do business, there must be a dock, coal barge facilities and deep water. "That involves a large money expenditure, and for that reason I must get the advice of my colleagues. Nevertheless I am sufficiently impressed with the importance of these improvements that I will ask my colleagues to place in the estimates next year a substantial amount for this work."

Upon his arrival here [Mr. Carvell was taken to inspect the bridge over the Lynn River, near the harbor. Warden Buck maintained to the Minister that as the Dominion Government placed a standard of construction upon a bridge over a navigating stream, then the Government should pay the extra cost of a swing bridge over a stationary one. The Minister seemed to be of the opinion that the Provincial Government should pay for the bridge, but promised consideration.

The wharf and pier that Mr. Carvell mentioned in his speech have been in this harbor for years. The wharf needs re-flooring badly, and the pier is washed away entirely at one point.
