FARMERS' MARKET.

Driry Produce-		-
tter, choice dairy	0 50
o creamery	0 60		65
rgarine, lb	0 25		40
gs, new laid, dozen	0 55	ŏ	60
eese, 1b			40
reseed Poultry-			-
rkeys, ib	0 45		56
wl, lb	0 42		45
ickens, roasting	3 45		EO
ese, lb	0 20		22
Vegetables—		•	-
paragus, 2 bunches		0	25
ens, new, quart			20
ets, peck			30
o., bag			10
Oo., new, bunch			20
rots, peck			40
o. bag	2 00	_	-
o., new, bunch	0 10	0	15
bage, new each	0 10 0 15 0 10		25
umbers, each	0 10		20
ery, head	210	ă	25
tuce, 3 bunches for.			10
ons, imp. box	5 25		50
o., do., lb:	0 15		90
o. green, bunch	0 05	0	10
eks, bunch			30
sley, bunch	0 10		15
snips, bag	1 10	U	19
o peck	0 25	_	20
o., peck	2 15		30
barb, outdoor, 4 for	0 25		25
lishes, outdoor, 4 for	0 25		-
e, bunch	0 05	_	-
nach, peck	0 60	Ü	10
ory, buneh	0 05	0	75
mips, bag	1 25		10
o neck	1 79		50
o., peck		0	30
MEATS, WHOLES.	ALE.		1
Tholesale prices: —
f. forequarters$1	7 00	$19	00
o., hindquarters2	6 00	36
L. 1.		_

ng lambs, choice, OTHER MARKETS.

casses, choice 26 00

casses ,choice 23 00

medium..... 20 00 common 18 00

choice 23 00

hogs 20 00

INNIPEG GRAIN EXCHANGE. uctuations on the Winnipeg Grain hange yesterday, as received by an & Bryan, were as follows: Open. High. Low. Close.

7614 7614 ... 681/4 691/4 681/4

.. 1 22½ 1 24¼ 1 22½ 1 24¼ .. 1 17¼ 1 21 1 17 1 21 MINNEAPOLIS GRAINS. nneapolis.-Flour unchanged. Bar-$1 to $1.13. Rye, No. 2, 1.40

34. Eran, $37. Flax, $4.22 to $4.24. DULUTH LINSEED. uluth. Minn.—Linseed on track, 2 to $4.24; arrive, $4.12; May, $4.22 ed; July, $4.12 asked; October, Scotch Singer Shows Sense.

arry Lauder, the famous Scotch er, who made a fortune and knows to keep it, has explained the rules th he followed in carrying out his ve thrift. They are all very sage co and well to be remembered by young men of to-day.

Behave toward your purse as you d toward your best friend. View the reckless spending of ey as criminal, and shun the com-

of the reckless spender. Dress neatly but not lavishly.

Take your amusements judiciousou will enjoy them better.

Don't throw away the crusts eat 1. They are as nourishing as beet.

It is more exhibaration to feel ey in your kocket than beer in stomach. Remember, it takes only four ters to make a dollar and only nts to make a quarter. You can sleep better after a hard work than after a hard day's Get good value from your trades-He gets good money from you. A bank note makes good reading, r than some novels.—Exchange.

e Looked On As Old Tried Friends

's Kidney Pills Have. Earned eir Popularity by Their Cures.

rta Lady Who Suffered from dney Trouble for Ten Years is w Recommending Codd's Kid-Pills to Her Friends

liand, Alta., June 2.—(Special) n recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills ayone who needs a remedy for kidneys." So says Mrs. Fred. ers, a well-known and highly re-ed lady living here. And Mrs. ers gives her reasons for making statement.

suffered from kidney trouble for years. I felt sleepy and heavy meals. I was always tired and ous, and I had a bitter taste in nouth, especially in the morning. s often dizzy, my memory was ig, and I was very irritable. Stiffin the joints, backache, headache, finally rheumatism were added to roubles. finally decided to try Dodd's Kid-Pills and I took two boxes. i them satisfactory in every way. not think they can be excelled." u will notice that everyone who nmends Dodd's Kidney Pills has them and found them good. They ecognized as old and tried friends usands of Canadian families. your neighbors about them.

PARTED BY GOLD

Mr. Beaumont, taking into consideration the circumstances attending poor Jack's infatuation for the Montague family, and armed as he supposed by the intelligence, judged that it might be a propitious time to commence his own wooing, and so the morning after Jack heard that he was a penniless man, with a mountain of debt upon said. his back instead of twenty thousand a year, the wily barrister paid particuical satisfaction. 'Yes," he mussed, as the hansom rattled him toward Lady Pacewell's villa; "yes, I will strike while the iron is hot. There can be no doubt that the acting people have thoroughly netted Jack, and Lady Mand's hopes in that quarter are quite wrecked. I'll break it to her, and so gently that at the moment of pique which must fellow she shall jump at my offer to show I talk of poor old Jack's affairs, but my Mr. Hamilton that there is still anoth- cwn.

er man in England." Arguing thus, with that strange fatuity that clings to all who argue with themselves, he alighted from the cab and found Lady Maud at home. Now if he had been a man of genius in the way of discrimination he would have seen that Lady Maud showed evident disappointment when he entered, having taken his knock for that of a better man. But Mr. Beaumont was so full of his object that he forgot little circumstances, and, nothing daunted by lady Maud's look of surprise when he entered, took his seat and commenced the usual small nothings which generally open the conventional Lady Maud responded, and Mr. Beaumont began to grow nervous.

"Have you seen Mr. Hamilton lately?" he asked suddenly, thinking it better to plunge than to stand shirvering on the bank longer. Lady Maud flushed, but managed to hide it. "Yes," she said, with queenly indifference. "Oh, yes, he was here a few days since.

"Ah!" said Mr. Beaumont. "He has grown scarcer than ever, quite a rara avis now. I have asked him to sup with me once or twice, but always got awed Lady Maud to smiles.

'With a good excuse," said Lady Maud, who knew well enough Mr. | turned pale. Beaumont's little game, and all the malicious smile behind her handker- What you ask is impossible," chief, and did not reply.

I know what his excuse is, the sly rascal."

Mr. Beaumont grew more nervous. He had expected a little help from the queenly beauty, but Lady Maud refused to help him.

"By the way," he said, "have you Hamilton." seen the new beauty?" Which one?" asked Lady Maud. placidly. "There are so many, you mont, "Miss Montague."

"Yes," said Lady Maud. It was so different an answer to that which the schemer had expected that he started.

'You have!" he said. took me the other night." "What?" said Beaumont, astounded at this revelation. "By Jove! he has plenty of courage. And so you approve of the match, Lady Maud?" "What match?" asked Lady Maud, "The-the-the match between Mr.

Hamilton and Miss Montague." have not heard of it." said her hdyship, enjoying his confusion.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN

Canton, Ohio.-"I suffered from a to go through an had won the battle.

could get well. had been helped by | room. Lydia II. Pinkham's to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me frc my troubles

so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afficted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for | thousand a year, and if money is the them."-Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Chio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordes!

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

"Oh," he said, "I thought you were posted up in the latest intelligence. It's going the rounds that poor old Jack means to marry Miss Montague, the actress of the Signet. He has procured a West End engagement for the father and visits at their house."

Lady Maud shrugged her shoulders. "I think you are misinformed," she

"No," said Beaumont, "I think not. It is a strange affair, and I am not lar attention to the brushing of his surprised that Jack has kept it from hat, and surveyed his gloves with crityou. Ah! how infatuated he must be. Lady Maud, how infatuated!"

> This was accompanied by a glance that said plainly: "To pass over such a pearl as you for such a nettle as > Lady Maud understood it and cast down her eves Mr. Beaumont drew a little nearer "Lady Maud," he said, in a lower > voice, "I did not call this evening to "Yes," she said, pulling at a hothouse flower, "your own." "My own, he repeated. "Dear Lady

Maud, I am like that flower in your hand. You can pull my life to pieces and scatter it to the winds, or with a word preserve it to love and adore you. Oh, Maud, forgive me if I speak abruptly. I have rehearsed these few words a hundred times. Each time my heart has throbbed near you these words, I love you, have trembled on my lips. If they have not spoken from my lips it is because I dared not a glance. Maud, I love you. I have was a wealthy man. loved you ever since the first moment we met. I have worked hard and patiently that I might not bring my love empty-handed. I am a rich man, or nearly so, and I can give you, Maud, a position, far beneath your worth, 'tis true, but one in which you will shine gloriously. I lay my life, my hopes of future success, at your feet. Will you stoop and take them? Now, that was a very pretty speech, and Mr. Beaumont knew it; had he not rehearsed it, as he had said, a hundred times? It was a speech that would have awed a jury to tears; it

Looking up into the bent face, Mr. Beaumont detected the smile and 'Well," he said, huskily, "will you cards he thought he had to play it not give me a reply? Say yes, dear

"Mr. Beaumont," she said, "I ought to have stopped you, but I really did This was said with the pleasantest not know what you were going to say. smile possible, but Lady Maud hid a How could I? You were so sudden.

> 'Impossible," he echoed, "why?" to be the Because," she said, slowly, fixing pounds. her eyes upon him and enjoying his look of consternation and . chagrin, "because I am engaged to marry Mr.

"What!" he breathed, inaudibly, rising from his chair and confronting her with a face in which mortification and incredulity struggled for predom-

"Oh, I mean the actress," said Beau- inance. "Going to marry Jack Hamilton!" She inclined her head and did not try to hide the mockery in her eyes.

"But—but—" he stammered, "his engagement with the actress— "It has no more foundation than 'Yes," she said. "Mr. Hamilton other idle reports," said Lady Maud, unmercifully. "But-" he argued.

She stopped him. "It is a mistake, sir,' she said; "and I must confess that I feel some astonishment at the credence which so able and clever an individual as Mr. Beaumont seems to have given it. Mr. Hamilton has taken some interest in Mr. Montague, it is true, but the motives, far from being those you suppose, spring simply from his benevolence. I trust you will let slip. no opportunity that may occur of denying emphatically any repetition of the rumors that may find tongue in your presence."

Mr. Beaumont was literally staggered. Her ladyship had no doubt discovered the pretty little plot and turned the tables upon him. He little suspected that her ladyship had been indulging in a little plotting on her own account, and that female trouble which caused me much the contest between them had stood suffering, and two thus: whether he should win Lady doctors decided Maud or Lady Maud should win poor that I would have old Jack, and that her ladyship's tact > operation before I ! It was a heavy blow for him, and he showed that he felt it. He took "My mother, who up his hat and looked around the

> "I do not understand it," he said. Vegetable Com- huskily; "that Jack was hard hit with pound, advised me the Montague girl, I am ready to stake my life. But I congratulate your ladyship. He is a better man than I am."

Lady Maud murmured an audible assent that made his blood boil. "At any rate," he thied, bitterly, "he has the advantage of his twenty key to happiness, then, Lady Mad, youy commert yourself in procuring it."

She inclined her head, with a sweet amile. "Thank you, very much," she said, as if his congratulations had been most genuine and in the best possible taste. "Lady Pacewell will be down presently."

"Thank you," he said, hurriedly. "! don't think I must wait this morning." and bowing over the tips of her fingers, he hurried from the house, certainly as full of hate as he had been of love when he had entered it. Poor Lady Mand, she sat down and ing into a chair and staring at the note, "this man thinks I knew of his right to the property and did what I did to get the better of him. "Interrater blisters and then formed a solid scale. Began to itch and burn so had to bandage his hands as he wanted to scratch. Face was badly disfigured. Trouble lasted 4 months Began using Cuticurs Scap and Cint-ment. Used one cake Scap and one box Cintment when he was healed. From signed statement of Mrs Albert Ellis, Wettenberg, N. S.

For every purpose of the tollet Cuticura Scap, Ointrant and Talcum are supreme.

enjoyed the picture of this gentleman struggling in the pit he had himself show him that he is wrong, and that dug, but she little contemplated the though I relinquish the money, I still grave to her own hopes which was or had been already dug.

She waited complacently for Jack's appearance, but he did not come. The fact was that, although anything but deficient in courage, Jack Hamilton could not summon up fortitude enough to carry him around to the villa and be the bearer of his own bad news. He knew, or had some slight suspicion of the manner in which Lady Maud would take them, and overwhelmed by the prospect before him, our hero sat and stared at the fire, ing mixture, with the horses, etc., was really not his to ask for. So he sat over the fire late into the night, stirring only to get a piece of paper and reckon up the debts which offend you by uttering them even in he had incurred in the belief that he not even venturing to ring for soda and brandy, reflecting that that cheer-

The magnitude simply stunned him. "Why," he groaned, "I can never pay these, and there still remains the accumulation of the interest, which I Then he fell to thinking of Monta-"I wonder how he took it; of course, my love, all I possess, my ambition, Shallop told him before now. I'd give half I owe to see how he takes it, and little Pattie, and-and Mary." At this last word, forgetful of his engagment to the queenly Lady Maud, he sighed.

wealth won't wash her white again, morning you sent me back my cheque poor girl! Perhaps it all came of her and a bouquet of flowers, which I had poverty. I can't believe that such a ventured to offer your daughter-with sweet little thing as that, with eyes them came two notes, in which you that look as sweet as a child's, would accuse me of meanness unworthy of ening. They beckon with the fingers have gone wrong of her own accord!" a gentleman. Now, str. you must curled downward, sweeping the whole Then, with the poor girl's face in hear me out. Every accused man has hand vigorously back and forth.

When Jack awoke in the morning it | ed those little articles to get the betwas to find a note upon his table in ter of you. Now, sir, I say that it is a strange handwriting. He opened it, and out tumbled a

There was a short note as well, run-tempting to keep you by law from ning thue: cheque which Mr. Hamilton was good in your conclusions. I knew nothing enough to offer him. Mr. Pacewell of your existence as other than Mr. would also add his thanks for the loan | Montague, of the Signet, until yesterand the other kindnesses which Mr. day; and now being aware of your Hamilton was good enough to show right to that which I hold, and which, him; but Mr. Pacewell can only re mark you I gare you some trouble in frain from just censure of the inter- reclaiming, I am ready to make over ested motives which prompted Mr. all claims to it and hand it to you

Hamilton's actions." Jack read this two or three times slowly, then its hidden meaning flashed upon him. "Great heavens!" he exclaimed, sink-

> SAYE YOURSELF ON WARM DAYS JUST HEAT A CAN OF CLARK'S

BOILED DINNER

14 5 T ested motives," of course that's it!

This fellow thinks he, wanted to camey over me by getting me the engagement and the rest of it! Nine people out of ten would say I did it as a stroke of policy! Why, that scamp Shallop actually proposed the very thing, and I was so savage with him that I never saw I had done it." It was a galling reflection and wor-ried poer old Jack more than the actual loss of his fortune.
But more was to come. Within half an hour a large bouquet came in with another note. "Sir. your despicable attempt to ingratiate yourself with the family you have kept so long from their own merits and receives my utmost contempt. I return you the flowers you had the audacity to send my daughter, and beg, if you have not usurped the name of gentemen as well as my fortune, you will refrain from any fortiler attempt to obtrade your existence upon your chedient servant. "Henry Pacewell." Jack crushed the note between his fingers and flung it on the fire, to which his face bore a strong resemblance. "That's mean," he muttered, "to kick fellow man. Does he think I knew of his existence, or his claims? I'll cling to the title and nature of a gentleman."

All on fire, he thrust himself into his coat and started for Harleigh

The servant told him to go upstairs as before, and Jack, who knew that if he sent up his card he should be refused, ran up the stairs and knocked at the door.

Who should open it but Mary? She flushed, then turned pare. He bowed, with a sad, reproachful look upon his handsome face, and in a low, and it must be confessed trembling voice, said: "Miss Montague, I want a word with your father." Mary murmurad something, and the tears came to her eyes. He took the something as an invitation to walk in, and strode into the Mr. Montague was seated at the table opposite another gentleman, whom Jack recognized as Mr. Shallop. Before them were several heaps of paperfs, documents and memoranda. In the chair in the corner was Pattie, who threw off her shawl and uttered an exclamation of what seemed to him delight as he entered. Mr. Montagle arose, trembling, with his hand upon the head of his chair. "Sir!" he commenced, angrily, but Jack stopped him. "Allow me, Mr. Pacewell." he said.

"Well, well," he muttered, "all the quickly, but with firm dignity. "This "No, Jack Hamilton never invents He attempted to take her hand, but one excuse if he hasn't one, or having one doesn't care to put it forward. But from him false, and I call upon this gentleman to corroborate me. Further, from cheque, which an examination proved these piles of documents, I infer that to be the cheque for the two hundred you think that I shall contest your claim-that is, play the villain by ating thus:
"Mr. Pacewell begs to enclose the dent. Mr. Pacewell, you are wrong this moment without hesitation or compromise." Mr. Shallop, who had hoped there would be quite a nice little lawsuit, sprang to his feet. "E-er, don't do anything rash, Mr. Hamilton."

"Rash," repeated Jack, with scorn. 'Come, sir, give your instructions; let Mr. Shallop draw up the proper kind of deed, either a gift or transfer, and I will sign it here and now."

Mr. Montague sank into his chair. "Is-is this true? Are you really in earnest?" he said.

was Jack's reply. Mr. Shallop took a piece of parchment, muttering: "This is quite irregular; upon my honor, this is most irregular." Then he drew up a withdrawal of all right to the property, and a promise not to oppose Mr. Montague's

Then he placed it before Jack, who, after reading it aloud, caught up a pen and stooped to sign it. "There are no witnesses," said Mr.

Shallon. "This is most irregular." "Witnesses," said Jack, who was de-termined not to leave the room until he had righted himself in the eyes of the old man, and, although he would not confess as much, in Mary's. "Witnesses! Here are yourself and Miss Montague."

(To be continued.)

His Last Words. A North Carolina negro was brought out on the gallows to be hanged for murder.

"Henry," said the sheriff, "have you anything to say?" "Yes, suh," said the condemned man. "I'se got a few words to say. I merely wished to state dat dis suttinly is goin' to be a lesson for me."

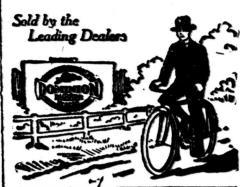

Sound Notes That Never Vary.

The Best Tires from Canada's Leading Tire Makers

lust as Dominion Tires are the favorites with Canadian automobile owners, because of their acknowledged superiority, so

DOMINION Bicycle Tires

are the choice of those who appreciate speed, safety, sturdy wear and thoroughly reliable

SCIENCE JOTTINGS.

At Tokio there is an astronomical observatory that for size and completeness will equal anything in the world. The Savoyards rub a crushed clove of garlic upon a spot that has been stung by a warp or bee. This makes the swelling go down and drives away the pain.

The muscles of a bird's wing are 20 times more powerful, proportionaely Norway makes extensive use of charcoal. The annual consumption is estimated at 700,000 tons.

There are 21 leper institutions in Russia and nearly all of them are supported by voluntary subscriptions. The seaweed known as Irish moss is used extensively as a food by the peasantry along the coast, also as a jelly for invalids. The name "rose" varies only slight!y among different nations. The Romans called it rosa—a form adhered to health, and who will not give up. in Italian, Pertuguese, Spanisa and Russian. In Poland it is roza; Dutch, roos; in Swedish, ros; and French, German and Danish, rose.

The Bank of England has 32 different methods of detecting forged bank-The Chinese do not beckon, as we do, with the palm of the hand turned up, the fingers curled, and the index fin-

In England, the only civilian who has a right to pass through marching troops is the Court physician on his way to a royal residence. He can make even the Household Cavalry open their ranks to him. The island of Barbados is said to be kept free from malaria by the tiny durance, restores a tired, worn-out fish known as "Millions," which de- system very quickly. vour the larvae in the early stages of its development. When you are discussing the wind you must know that a gentle wind travels about five miles per hour, a high wind about 30 to 45 miles per hour, and a great hurricane 80 to 100 miles per hour. The velocity of the earth on its own axis exceeds. it is believed, 1000 miles an hour. The velocity of the earth around the sun is calculated to be 66,000 miles per hour. and the velocity of the moon to be 2,-273 miles per hour.

The starfish has the nower of restoring lost parts and there are indications of a new arm naving been grown in its entirety. The polka, which is danced to some extent yet, is said to have been originally a Serbian war dance. Naturalists for a long time were at a loss to understand how it was that insects were enabled to so quickly rec-

"Draw up the deed, Mr. Shallop," Nature and the Indian

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug papoose root for her, for that was their

Dr. Pierce uses the same rootcalled Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agentsthat make it more effective. Women wno are worn out, who suffer from pain at regular or irregular intervals. who are nervous or dizzy at times, should take that reliable, temperance, herbal tonic which a doctor in active practice prescribed many years ago. Now sold by druggists, in tablets and liquid, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hote. Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Small splinters of the wood of old Cremena violins, when vibrated with a bow, have been found to give invarriably the same note; and that note is always a tone higher when the wood is taken from the belly of the instrument than when it comes from the back.

"How much of an allowance do you give your wife?" "Say, you don't know my wife. I give her my salary and she gives me the allowance."—Detroit Free Press.

Buffalo, N. I., for trial package.

Woodstock, Ony.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Medicines. I had nervous presention and was completely down and out." I was so that the decture considered mine a hopeless case. I was much discouraged and was ready to give up when I began taking the Prevente Press. These medicines put me on my feet again and gave me the only real relief. Balong a number of many a generally the Prescription." I know of many a generally the Prescription is know of many a generally hisbell.

"I am glad to lend my name in connection with Dr. Pierce's Medicines, knowing how good they have."—Line A I. Mr. 1. we git John Street.

ognize each other by small the been each distinctive class of ers the guard, the fanner, the h carrier, the warmaker, the architect etc.—has its own distinctive odor. And besides this each bee has its own seearate hive odor, which is its pas into its own particular home The American five-gallon oil can, which is put to all kinds of uses in the Orient, came into being originally to cut down the cost in transports Case oil it is called, the cases consisting of two five-gallon time in a box. These cases cut transportation costs in two, for case oil vessels can take a return cargo from a foreign port. where a tanker can take but a specified of the contract of the costs of the fied cargo, and not a very large one at

It is estimated that India cons one-fixth of the world's supply quinine.

FATAL BILBAO RIOTS. Paris, May 24.—Severe rioting occurred Friday at Bilbao, where 18,000 factory workers are on strike, according to a wireless despatch from Madrid pleked up here. A fire broke out during the rioting, causing losses amounting to several million pesetas. The daughter of the mayor of Bilbao was killed in the fighting.

Centre of Agricultural Production

The centre of agricultural production of the United States, according to the value of crop and animal products for 1917, is in west-central Illinois, as shown by a diagram just issued by the Department of Agriculture. The states of greatest production are: lowa, $1,330,000,000; Illinois, $1,255,000,000; Texas, $1,045,000,000; Missouri, $947,-000,000; Ohio, $851,00,000; Nebraska, $774,000,000; Indiana, $766,000,000; Kansas, $735,000,000; New York, $700.-000,000; Minnesota, $646,000,000; Pennsylvania, $636,000,000; Georgia, $605,-000,000; Wisconsin, $598,000,000; California, $575,000,000; Michigan, $534,-000,000, and Kentucky, $520,000, 90.

speaking, than those of a man's arm. Women as Brave As the Men

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A

REMARKABLE SPIRIT. Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do & their duty against the terrible odds of ill-One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable! The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain ger successively bending and straight- result. Every ailing or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this ver simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrozone renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, en-

> You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrozone working through your blood. It puts color into faded cheeks, brightens the eye, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth. One of the finest things Ferrozone does is to make you eat lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrozone won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrozone and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, eix for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Scientific Odds and Ends.

In 1916 the U.S. produced 54,200,000 tons of coke. It is believed that kerosene was first used for lighting in 1826.

used to vaccinate on the tip of the The press of the Oxford University has type for printing in one hadred and fifty languages.

The Newfoundlanders are said to

Until the year 1874 the Japanese have the finest physique of any British-speaking people. The Amazon drains an area of two million five hundred thousand square miles-ten times the area of Franceand in connection with the river and its tributaries are said to be fifty thousand miles of navigable water.

Possibilities of North Africa.

North Africa-Tunts, Algeria and Morocco-contains around a half million squares miles. Some of it is desert, but much of it is highly productive, and it has special advantages for producing some forms of live stock. The climate and pasture make it almost as ideal a country as Australia for sheep raising, and it has peculiar advantages for what might be called extensive pig raising; its acorns and other tree crops taking the place of corn. Yet down to the beginning of the war very little had been done to make this potential wealth actual and available.

BUBONIC PLAGUE ON SHIP.

London, May 25.—Reuter Despatch.—On April 3, a soldier on board the steamer City of Sparta, which sailed from Bombay, India, died of bubonic plague. On her arrival in Liverpool on April 23, the vessel was quarantined and disinfected. It is now learned that subsequently on the 16th of May a native sailor on the steamer died of the plague.

DOMESTIC RELIEF.

Wise-I hear a burglar got in your house while your wife was away. Guise-Yes, I'm so glad. My wife won't know how much of the upset is me and how much is him. Answers