A Wonderful Fishing Region

THE rivers and lakes in the vicinity of Cranbrook, British Columbia, on the Crow's Nest line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, are happy and prolific haunts for lovers of fishing. All these waters are well stocked with mountain or cut throat trout, rainbow trout, Dolly Varden trout, bull trout, landlocked salmon or Kamloops trout. Excellent catches are made in the fishing season. Foremost amongst the fishing waters of this region are: St. Mary's Lake and river, Kootenay River, Moyie Lake and river, Gold Creek, Cherry Creek, Perry Creek Lake, Boyie's Lake, and Frontier Lake. Perhaps the favorite rendezvous is Premier Lake. This lake is situated about thirty-eight miles from Cranbrook. It is three and a half miles long and one mile wide. Mountains surround it on every side, and it is very deep. There is no visible outlet for the waters. Springs that rise adjacent to the lake and streams from the mountain sides rush to rest in its placid bed. On August 15th, 1915, the Game Conservation Board of the Eastern District of British Columbia furnished Premier Lake, along the Kootenay Central Railway, a branch of the C. P. R., with 10,000 Kamloops trout fry, each one then being about three-quarters of an inch long. A prophecy was made that the fry within four years would develop into fish weighing between twelve and thirty pounds. The accompanying illustration shows some of the fish caught when three years old.

Landlocked salmon caught in Premier Lake, British Columbia, on May 15th, 1918.

Reminding the sporting possibilities of the Cranbrook region some of the residents met in Cranbrook on November 7th, 1917, and formed the Cranbrook District Rod and Gun Club. A hatchery was started in Cranbrook; 200,000 eggs were brought in and incubated. The enterprise was a huge success, and fry were distributed: 75,000 in St. Mary's Lake, 12,000 in Rock Lake, 25,000 in Premier Lake, 50,000 in Moyie Lake, 2,000 in Doyle's Lake, about 4,000 in Perry Creek Lake. These fish will appear at the age of four years, and Distances from Cranbrook to the different fishing waters vary, but none of the lakes and rivers is difficult of access. Good automobile roads radiate in all directions. The scenery of the Cranbrook fishing district is beautiful, and in addition to a creek laden with splendid trout, the fisherman will bring home with him memories of a landscape as fair as the eye can anywhere behold.

Oil Again—On Again—Gone Again—Finnegan
You have heard the story of the railroad fireman who was told to be more brief the next time he had to report a train of the track and who immortalized the next such occurrence in a manner which was a model of brevity and efficiency—He simply wired headquarters—"off again—on again—gone again—Finnegan". It's an old story but it fits our experience exactly—seems almost impossible to keep certain Bedroom and Dining Room Suits on our Furniture Floor—They come in this morning and they are gone again to-morrow morning. It's a case of—off again on again—gone again—Finnegan, all over again and it is the best testimony we can offer of the kind of Furniture we are offering—
