TROTZKY GIVES BOLSHEVIK PLANS

Talks of "World Combat Against Capitalism"

In America, England and Far East.

Stockholm Cable - Leon Trotzky, the Boisnevik Minister of War and Marine, Speaking at Petrograd recently, gave a detailed programme or conserving mintary operations, saying, that among other things: It is not in Finland or Esthonia that the immense world combat against capitalism can be fought, but in America and England, and, above all, in the far east."

The Bolchevik armies, Trotzky continued, would-continue their previous methods of beating their enemies singly. General Denikine's turn would come after Admiral Kolchak had been beaten, he declared. The turn of the Poles would follow, and after them the Roumanians would be dealt with.

'We have proposed peace to all the Baltic states, which are insignificant," Trotzky said. "At the same time we cannot tolerate the provocation of Finland, which must guarantee the cessation of preparations for intervention in Russia, in which case not one red soldier will cross the froatier. But if Finland wishes war, it will be necessary to begin against her a campaign of extermination such as hitherto has been unknown in his-

The price lists circulated some months ago by the Germans brought many orders from French buyers. The encouragement which the French Government is giving its citizens to buy in Germany is plainly designed as a club to compel the United States to act speedily in a readjustment of the exchange situation. In this it is held that France is eminently justified, as the purchasing power of the franc in Germany is almost the same as the purchasing power of the American dollar in France. Another argument advanced is that France, by taking advantage of this situation, is only taking another way of making Germany pay for the war.

Be Specific.

For business purposes, for social purposes, for any purpose in life, a rule that should admit of no exception is: "Be specific in everything you say. Don't take it for granted that vague, general statements will properly convey your meaning." General statements, please remember, Heave wide room for inference, and there is always the liability that a wrong inference will be drawn.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitaliay of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powder is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

the sunlit evenings of sumn played games, and rowed, and wor ur gardens, or rampled over the ryside, or helped on the farm, are o tryside, or helped on the farm, are over. The lamp-lit evenings of winter are oranged ing, when the curtains are drawn, and the cozy house shuts out the wind and snow. It is then we have to look about for "something to do." We cannot read all the time, nor can every evening be a musical one; so we must fall back upon other occupations, and the question arises: "What shall they be?" Somehow, we do not care for the sometimes asselence "fancy work," which was supposed to be suitable for the children of other days; we rather feel we would like to take our suitable for the children of other days; we rather feel we would like to take our share in making things which mother would find useful in the house, or which would cheer up our own special room, or perhaps provide us with a rifle to give away. And so it may help to have a few words, every now and then, on how to occupy a "fireside hour." To-day will begin with a few ways in which we can use up odds and ends of linen cretonnes, and bits of casement cloth of many bues. Out of them, you will see tray cloths can be made. When you have made one, you will see how pretty it looks with a dark wooden tray and bright cottage cups and saucers, and the same sort of cloths will give a splash of color in your own room, and perhaps cover a rather shabby old table.

Well, to begin, get a yard and ten inches of, say, jade-green linen, double with, and fold it over, corner to corner, to make a square. Cut this out carefully, turn in the edges and hem right round very neatly. Next take 32 inches of black linen and make a square of it, in the same way, only just turn back the edge once, and tack it. Now place the green square upon a large table, and lay the black square upon it, diamond shape, so that its corners come diamond shape, so that its corners come the reverse way to those of the green square. While the two squares are thus quite flat upon the table, tack the smaller black one on to the green one beneath it, so as to be quite sure they are perfect them off the table and "feathstitch" the black upon the green square, or sew them together with "darning stitch." done in coarse green thread. Now the most important part of our table-coth is To decorate it prettily, suspend balls of linen, hanging on cords, from each of the four corners. These are made by cutting a strip of linen, 24 inches long and six inches wide, and joining the ends During the mancial year 1917-18 the deposits received by the Naval Sayings Banks totalled £794,481, increasing the stotal balance due to depositors to £1,781,765.

sewing it up. This design of the smaller square; placed like a handkerchief upon the larger one, is capable of quite endless variation, as striped or checked bits of ma-terial upon a plain ground square look most attractive; and, instead of balls, bit wool tassels can be used, and table-cioths of all sizes can, of course, be made. One very pretty cloth was of orange !'nen, with deep corners of black and orange check material laid on, and four crossessformed by five checks, cut out of the same material were put between corners, a little toward the centre of the cloth. That cloth was for use on the table on the plazza or in the garden. Perhaps, in the family store-cupbeard, pattern, these can do good service: cut out an dlaid upon plain easement cloth or linen, and sewn on in the same way as the squares.
