Garden time is just about at hand. If you have poultry that have been in the habit of having the territory to themselves, just think of your neighbor who wishes to plant a garden—who hesitates to do so because your fowl are running loose—and who is really too timid or too kindly disposed to ask you to have them locked up. Just think the matter over—do not have to be asked by a neighbor who is decent enough to hesitate. Place yourself in his position and see how long it will take you to make up your mind as to what is right to do.

PORT DOVER, April 19.—The western pier is being repaired in a very workmanlike manner. Owing to the unusually low water, which prevailed during the winter it was possible for workmen to securely fasten timbers on the part of the pier which at ordinary lake level is beneath the surface. The work was carried ahead of the rise of the lake up to the required height. In order to protect the end and part of the rebuilt sides rows of oak piles are being driven.
