IN MARS.

A Few Facts About Our Celestial Neighbors.

Sending wireless messages to Mars and Venus, and the ossibility of projecting a rocket to the moon are subjects of recent speculation which have excited keener interest in our solar system.

"Mars always challenges interest," says William Joseph Showalter, an eminent scietist.

"Its day is about the same length as ours, but its year, is nearly twice as long. Although astronomers generally take less interest than laymen in the sur is as to whether other planets and tars are inhabited, since they, more than laymen, realize that this is a problem that must in all human probability remain unsolved, the question is more often asked about

Mars than any other planet. "Venus was an unusually interest-

THE RAINBOW'S SOUNDS.

Incredible as it may seem, a beam of light can be made to produce sound. A ray of sunlight is thrown through a lens on to a glass ressel containing lampblack, colored silk or worsted, or any like substance. A disk Paving slits or openings cut in it to made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light. so as to "cut it up," thus causing alternate flashes of light and shadow. When one places his ear to the glass wessel he hears strange sounds so long as the flashing beam falls upon the

A still more extraordinary effect is produced when the beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it. Now if the ear be placed to the vessel containing the silk or other material, as the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given out by the differ ent parts of the spectrum, and there will be silence in other parts. For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it loud sounds will given forth. Only feeble sounds will be heard when the red and the blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel. Other colors will produce no ounds at all. Green silk gives out sound best in a red light. Every kind of material giv s more or less sound in different colors and no sound at all in others.

KILLING THE WALRUS.

Will This Mammal Follow the Buffalo to Oblivion?

The killing off of the walrus had far more than anything else to do with the peril of starvation which menaced the very existence of the Eskimos only a few years ago. Reindeer, imported from Siberia, have saved them, but to t'm the loss of the gigantic marine mammal is a really dreadful misfortune.

The walrus is one of the most useful creatures provided by a bountiful providence for the benefit of mankind, and since time immemorial it has been the main dependence of the Eskimos.

There are to-day comparatively few walrus left alive, and the prospect is that before long this valuable species will be virtually exterminated. Persistent slaughter has reduced its numbers to such a point that there is no longer much profit in hunting if for commercial purposes-wherein lies the only hope for its survival.

Yunters seed the beast for its tusks, which are of very fine ivery; for its hide, which makes first-rate 'ather, and even for its whiskers, which furnish picks for opium pipes. To the Eskimo it is (or was) food, clothing. house, tens.ls (from bones and tusks) and most other necessaries of More than half a century ago the whalers, responding to a commercial demand for ivory, turned their attention to the walrus and proceeded to wipe than out systematically. Sometil ; as many as 2,000 of the a lals were slaughtered on a single cake of ice merely for their tusks Thus to-day a walrus is hardly to be found in waters where the creatures used to be so numerous that their bellowings were heard above the roar of the waves and the grinding of the ice floes.

The poor animals had no chance at Usually the method adopted was to app sach a herd of walrus on the ice, and after picking of the most alert bulls from a safe distance with rifles, slaughter the rest at leisure.

SMOKER'S PARADISE.

The Mexican Gets Good Tobacco Cheaply.

Mexico may be called the smoker's paradise. There is plenty of good. cheap tobacco in that country, where the leaf grows freely. Furthermere. no tax is levied upon it. One may buy in Mexico a cigar, every bit good as the average 15 cent brand in this country for a sum equivalent to 2 1-2 cents of our money. Cigarettes are cheap in proportion. To protest the domestic article Mexico levied a prohibitive tax upon imported tobacco, so that no Mexican thinks of buying an American cigar. The laboring classes are able to buy two boxes of cigarettes, containing ten each, for 2 1-2 cents in our money. The tobacco in these is the sun dried natural leaf, and of coarse grade, with coarse paper wrappings. The market is abundantly supplied also with cigarettes of high grade tobacco in the best paper wrappings.

For the most part the Mexican takes his tobacco in the form of cigarettes.

In the Spring Time Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but one when it is only cloudy. Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his ills become serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one feels run-down, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from a cold, the Grip or flu, which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.

A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks, without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. This is nature's tonic, which restores the tone of the stomach, activity of the liver and steadiness to the nerves, strengthening the whole system.
