Before any owner of a motor vehicle can secure a 1921 license he will be obliged to answer on the application form whether or not his vehicle is equipped with an approved non-glaring head-light device, and if so he must give the name of the device he is using.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wylie, of Montreal, spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williamson. Mr. Wylie left Monday morning for Rodney, Ont., where he has been transferred as manager of the Union Bank. Mrs. Wylie intends remaining a few weeks with her parents.

The ladies of W. A. of St. Paul's church met at the home of Mrs. Ward last Wednesday evening, on the eve of her departure for California where she will spend the winter, and presented her with a beautiful ebony handled brush and comb. Tea and cake was served by Mrs. Ward, all present wishing a pleasant trip and a safe return.

Oril Williamson is an exhibitor in the beef classes at the Guelph Winter Fair. C. A. Best, Holstein breeder, who captured first place last year in the dairy test, also had an entry in the present test, but had the misfortune to lose his last year's champion, the animal dying shortly after she was brought home from the winter fair. We wish him better luck this time.

The "Maple Leaf Trio" will give a concert in the Music Hall here on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Bates need no introduction to the people of Jarvis as both are well known. Miss Laura I. Miller is an entertainer and dramatic reader of exceptional ability. The Collingwood news says:—"Miss Laura Miller charmed one and all by her effective rendering of several selections, both humorous and patriotic. Don't fail to hear them."

Which Class Do You Belong To?

One of the poorest specimens of humanity we know of is the fellow who goes around grunting about the town being dead. Every small community has this insect and he certainly is not to be rated among its assets. This individual laments the fact that no progressive movements are on foot for town improvement, and yet whenever a suggestion is brought forward he is against it every time because there is always something or other the matter with it and he goes around discouraging others who are interested in the scheme. It constantly makes him sore, he says, the way townspeople won't pull together. Yet he himself is the biggest knocker in the community! This town grunch never starts anything new because he makes himself believe that it is no use trying to get it going. If anybody else suggests anything he wants to know what's the use of trying to do anything in this "godforsaken place?" The man who will help the town to prosper, and fortunately this class of individual is getting more numerous in Walkerton, is the citizen who cheerfully lends his support to every movement for the town's advancement, who will banish prejudice and "give and take" a bit for the community welfare. And when he sees some opportunity for public improvement or has a new idea he will hopefully advance it. His ideals for his home town he maintains in spite of occasional discouragement. Trying always to think well of his neighbor, and always speaking a good word for the town where he lives and makes his living, this man will win out in the end. He is the town's best asset. —Walkerton Telescope.

Rev. H. L. Roberts, of Niagara Falls, Ont., writes as follows under date of Dec. 3rd:—"Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bates have been in our city for a week's engagement in singing. They appeared in Lundy's Lane Methodist church on Sunday evening, also Thursday evening in a grand concert, assisted by Miss Laura I. Miller of Hamilton and Prof. Charles Duff of my church. The excellence of the program given reflected in no small way upon Mr. and Mrs. Bates. They have won hundreds of musical admirers in our city. I write this because it is due them and should be interesting to those interested in any Jarvisite."

Shaw's shoe store at Caladonia was entered by thieves early Monday morning and about $300 worth of boots and shoes were taken. Also Mr. Shaw's overcoat. Entrance was made by cutting a hole in a pane of glass on a side window which allowed them to open the latch and raise the window. Mr. Shaw is offering a reward of $100 for the apprehension of the thieves.

The Country Weekly

(Farmer's Sun)

Nearly all of the country papers have raised their subscription price from $1.50 to $2.00 per year. This has been made necessary through the increased cost of publication. In common with the dailies, and the trade, and class publications, the country papers have been brought face to face with a very serious situation and have been forced by self preservation to increase their subscription price. It is to be hoped that no more of the country weeklies will be forced to suspend publication. Already there has been a lengthy list of papers forced into the hands of the receiver.

No matter how efficient city papers may be, they can never take the place of the country weekly. There is a personality and a flavor about the home town papers which cannot be furnished by any other publication on earth. To the people of the district it is guide, philosopher and friend, and to those living away from the old home centre, its weekly coming is welcomed like a message from an absent friend.

For the most part country papers have done a real service in fighting the battles of the community they serve. They see that the interests of the small town and of the farm are linked up together, and for the most part they have been warm supporters of the Modern Movement in the affairs of the nation.

In passing, a well-wisher for the country papers would like to make a suggestion. In making it, he recognizes the difficulties under which his country counterparts labor, that he is often editor, compositor, reporter, and advertising manager combined. Despite the many and increasing difficulties under which the country publisher has had to work during recent years, we would like to see more of them conduct an editorial column or corner where they could express their opinions on public questions. Some of the country papers have excellent editorial columns, and it is really too bad that all of them do not feature this side of their paper.

After all, we have more confidence in the crystallized judgement of the country editor than the shonking and ratings of the average city paper. There is more time for mature thought and ripened judgement in the country. The rural editor is nearer to his constituency and is better able to summarize and express the opinions of his readers than is the city writer. The Farmer's Sun wishes to country papers every possible success in their efforts to put their publications on a better financial basis, and trusts that as a result of increased prosperity will come an editor's corner.
