Canada's new one-cent coins have appeared and are making a favorable impression. Examination shows the newcomers are a little larger than a 10-cent piece and thicker and larger than the coin of the denomination used in the United States. Proportionately the new pieces are lighter than the older coins due not only to a reduction in size but also to the fact that there is not so much copper in the alloy.

Twelfth at Dunnville

With ideal weather and a record crowd, between 2,500 and 3,000 Orangemen celebrated at Dunnville on Monday. The procession, accompanied by several bands, left the town park via Main and Broad streets at 1.30 p. m. for the agricultural grounds, and was one mile in length, taking about 45 minutes to pass. With all Orangemen entering the grounds gratis, the gate receipts, including grand stand, netted over $1000.

Among the several prizes awarded was first to Thorold band.

A very pleasing feature of the day, and one which won the admiration of many, was the McCarthy kilty troupe from Port Colborne, represented by Miss McCarthy and two young brothers, who were experts with the bagpipes, bass and snare drums. The program included several prominent speakers from Port Colborne, Bridgeburg and Dunn-ville. The sports, which were very heavily contested, included several foot races, cycle races and other sports.

Jarvis 7, Caledonia 3

The Jarvis baseball team journeyed to Caledonia on Thursday afternoon last to play a scheduled game in the Haldimand County league and won from the team of that town by a score of 7 to 3. The first half of the game was all in favor of Caledonia, the score standing 3-0 at the end of the 5th inning. But in the 6th Jarvis went into the lead, scoring six runs on four hits, including two two-baggers, a base on balls and an error at short. Another was added in the 8th on a single by Burwash and a beautiful three-bagger by Wad. Mason, whose batting was one of the features of the game, getting a three and two-bagger and a single out of four trips to the plate. Wagner for Jarvis pitched a steady game, allowing only four scattered hits. Rev. Mr. Hare and Mr.
Donaghy umpired the game and gave general satisfaction. This win brings Jarvis into second place in the league race.

Address By Dr. Nicol

At Dedication of Memorial Organ in St. Thomas' Church, Saskatoon, Sask.

Dr. J. L. Nicol, an old Walpole boy, a former student at Jarvis school and a member of the Presbyterian Church here, and now the minister in St. Thomas' Church, Saskatoon, delivered the following dedicatory address, the report of which is taken from the columns of the Saskatoon Daily Star of June 7th:—

"Before a congregation which taxed the capacity of St. Thomas' Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, so that chairs had to be placed in every available space, the minister, Dr. J. L. Nicol, delivered a panoramic in memory of the twenty-eight soldier members of the congregation who fell in the Great War and in honor of whom the beautiful new pipe organ was formally dedicated and the central memorial tablet which forms a part of it was unveiled:

"Prefacing his dedicatory address with the text: 'The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob. Surely I will never forget any of their works.' Dr. Nicol continued:

"To-day is a grandly solemn day in the history of St. Thomas' congregation. We are assembled here in God's house to do honor to the memory of twenty-eight of our gallant sons who fell in the Great War, nobly defending and maintaining those high spiritual ideals which are inculcated and nourished by the Christian Church and which are essential to the progress of the human family.

"At the same time we dedicate this splendid new organ 'to the glory of God and in proud and loving memory of these, our noble men, who went forth so bravely, who fought so heroically, and, who at last gave themselves a willing sacrifice on the altar of a common brotherhood of nations.

Recalling the tragic and startling history of the opening days of war and the response of Great Britain and her Daughters in defence of the weak, Dr.
Nicol said:

"From our prairies and our mountains, from our forests and our farms; from our factories and our offices our Canadian men and youths emerged and flocked to their country's standard until a half million of the flower of our young manhood were there, willing to go and do what their country and empire demanded. Of that number there were some 170 from St. Thomas' church, than whom no better and braver soldiers ever wore king's uniform.

Twenty-eight of those have now their names engraved on that oak tablet showing that they stand sentinel to-day —our company of heroic dead. With reverential zeal we desire to cherish and perpetuate the memory of those whom we have lost awhile."

"We of to-day," said the speaker, and we of this congregation would be vile ingrates, indeed, did we not in some way express our appreciation of what such men as these whose names are carved on this tablet have done for us, and the service they have rendered to their country.

"We must never forget. Our children must be so impressed that they will never forget. To assist in the realization of that end this organ has now been dedicated. We hereby consecrate it and this place to the sacred memory of those to whom we owe so much. Little wooden crosses in Flanders or France or in some other far away clime may mark the places where some of these have fallen and have been laid reverently to rest by their comrades.

The resting places of others may not be known. It might have been theirs "In life to know no rest and in death to find no grave." But now in the name of our church and our country we make this their common shrine. As far as we are concerned let this be our Westminster Abbey as we reverently consecrate this spot to their sacred memory. May we as individuals and as a congregation see that nothing commonplace or unworthy ever occurs here which would in any way violate the sacredness of their shrine or cause the slightest pain in the hearts of their beloved ones whose sacrifice was second only to those who gave all, even life itself.

"It is most fitting that their names are carved in oak. Oak is the emblem of Britain's steadfastness, her valour, her heroism. Never were sons more worthy sires and their best traditions than were the men who composed our Canadian army. It is true that before the war as we all followed the pursuits of peace we did not know the energies which slept in the children of this country. But when the need arose the world was shown that after all it is the gentle soul that makes the truest hero. Ours were not the sons who were trained in armed camps to kill and destroy. But like the true knight of the Holy Grail their ideals were ever:

"Follow the Christ, the King.
Live pure, speak true, right wrong, follow the King.
Else wherefore born?"
