Rod and Gun For May

The leaping brook trout painted in natural colors on the cover of the May issue of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA will quicken the pulse of every nature lover. This issue of Canada's leading sportsmen's monthly contains the first installment of Harry M. Moore's thrilling story of adventure entitled, "The Silver King." "The Kananaskis Lakes" is the title of an interesting fishing story from the Elbow River Valley; it has seven clear cut photos to illustrate it. Bonnycastle Dale tells in his own gripping manner the story of the wild cat, its range and habits throughout Canada. S. C. Cain humorously relates the story of four fishermen on a week end trip to Lake Seabog after bass. The Guns and Ammunition and Fishing Notes Departments are up to their usual high standard in this number. A valuable addition to the fisherman is the inclusion of the open fishing seasons for the Dominion. ROD AND GUN IN CANADA is published monthly by W. J. Taylor Limited at Woodstock, Ont.

Oddfellows At Service

Nearly 100 Parade in a Body to the Methodist Church.

Visiting brethren from Port Dover and Hagersville, together with the officers and members of Jarvis Lodge, No. 191, I. O. O. F., to the number of ninety-three attended Divine service in the Methodist church here on Sunday evening last in commemoration of the 101st anniversary of the Order in America. Marching in pairs from the lodge room and counter-marching at the church, the parade was one of the largest of its kind seen in this village in years.

The pastor, Rev. Bro. H. L. Smith, took as the Scripture Lesson the 7th chapter of Matthew, the first twenty verses, the text of his sermon being the words of the last verse: "By their fruits ye shall know them." In opening his discourse Rev. Mr. Smith extended on behalf of the church an invitation to each and every one to enter the precincts of God's house on any and all occasions, as well as commenting on the great honor the Order had conferred upon him in their attendance at the Methodist church. Although stating that, as an Oddfellow, he had every reason to be proud of his fraternal relations, and that he had nothing to be ashamed of in wearing the Three Links, the emblem of the Order, but on the contrary, feeling extremely proud of being able to do so. The continuation of his address was not in the form of an eulogy of the Order. Chief of his remarks were of the natural inclination of all of God's creatures to form in groups, and hence the natural inclination of man to form into societies; the foundation of the British Empire on the principle of God's law, and the glory, power and prestige it had thus attained. And that in commending the virtues of the Order he also commended Jesus Christ to each and every man, woman and child. The excellent address was listened to with rapt interest by the large congregation which completely filled the church and many were the appreciative comments heard at the close.

The music of the evening was very fitting and appropriately given in an anthem by the choir, a solo by Bro. W. H. Tuck, of Oakville; a solo, "Rock of Ages," by Bro. Warren, of Selkirk, and a duet by Miss Tilbury and Bro. Tuck, the renditions of the different pieces reflecting great credit upon the participants.

Motor Grievs

All things the motorist must buy to have a corking time, are so absurdly, beastly high, the prices are a crime. Gas costs so much the buyer swears and madly paws the ground; I've bought a span of old gray mares to haul my car around. The gate they hit is sad and strange, their progress is a joke, they're spavined and they have the mange, but they don't leave me broke. It takes the income of the rich to buy a set of tires; and when one prices oil and such, he gurgles and expires. The punk mechanic with his tools calls for your final red; so go and buy a span of mules and hitch them to a sled. Five years ago I'd drive all day, and then at night return, and when I put the car away I still had coin to burn. Five years ago mechanics stout made my old boat work fine; they took the mealy carbon out, and got the valves in line. Their charges never set me back so much that I would sweat; but now I've bought a brindle yak to haul my wagonette. Five years ago—but what's the use? The dead years are on ice; now any seven cent excuse will do to hoist the price.

Quantity Production Less

Those who would know why prices are high, despite all the seeming plenty, should study the report of the comptroller of United States currency for 1919. The report has recently been issued, showing how production compared with former years:

Bituminous coal, 130,000,000 tons less than 1918.
Anthracite coal, 12,000,000 tons less than 1918.
Steel ingots 9,000,000 tons less than 1918.
Cotton, 5,106,000 bales less than 1914.
Wheat, 76,000,000 bushels less than 1915.
Corn, 142,000,000 bushels less than 1917.
Copper, 900,000,256 pounds less than 1918.
Gold, $10,157,900 less than 1918.
Silver $4,780,919 less than 1918.

Outwardly it hath appeared that the United States was doing a business vastly greater than ever. This has been so insofar as money itself has been concerned. But it is goods that counts, and falling off in production of such essentials as coal, cotton, steel, wheat, corn, copper, gold and silver is most significant.—London, Free Press.

Village Council

A. Rodgers, Clerk.

The Late Richard Fallis Ivey

After a short illness of two weeks duration Mr. Richard F. Ivey passed away on Sunday, May 2nd, at his late residence in this village.

Deceased was born in the Township of Walpole on the 3rd day of March, 1853, and was in his 63rd year. He had labored all his life on farms adjoining the village and died within a mile of where he was born. His farming operations were successful, and along with his brother John were widely known as breeders of high class Shorthorn cattle. Failing health a few years ago forced the brothers to retire from active farm operations and they together built a fine residence on Talbot St. East in which to spend in comfort a rest from hard labor. Mr. Ivey was a member of the Methodist church and a valued member of the choir, of which he had been the leader for over thirty years.

His father, the late John Ivey, predeceased him in 1905, and his mother in 1912. He leaves to mourn two brothers and three sisters—John F., Fanny and Lizzie at home, Albert in Collingwood, and Maggie (Mrs. Chas. Nicol) of Sandank.

The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was largely attended. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. H. L. Smith, assisted by Revs. Wreford, J. H. Ross and S. W. Fallis. A short service of prayer was held at the home, followed by service in the church. The choir, in which were several who were former members and had sung with Mr. Ivey in days gone by, sang two selections, "The Home Land" and "When we say Good-Bye." Rev. Mr. Wreford read the Scripture lesson, Rev. Mr. Ross spoke of Mr. Ivey as he had found him as a neighbor, Rev. Mr. Fallis spoke of him as he had found him as a cousin, and the pastor spoke of him as he had found him as a member of his church. In the death of Mr. Ivey the Methodist church has lost a strong stay, but the loss of the church was Mr. Ivey's gain, with him to live was Christ, hence for him to die was gain. The sympathy of the whole neighborhood goes out to the bereaved.

The floral offerings were most beautiful, among which were: Pillow from John, Fanny and Lizzie; Brother Albert and family, spray; Mrs. Nicol and family, spray; Mrs. Jos. Ivey and Charlie, spray; Mrs. F. A. Ivey and family, spray; Methodist Church Choir, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jones, spray; Mr. H. Trot, Collingwood, sheaf of roses; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pond, bouquet; Miss Charlotte Fallis, Brantford, spray; Mrs. Alex. Fallis, spray.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Wm. Parkinson, Alex. G. Smith, Peter Banks, E. T. Carter, N. R. Pond and John Wodham.
Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were the following: Rev. S. W. Fallis, Toronto; Albert Ivey and son William, Collingwood; Rev. J. H. Ross, Cayuga; Thos. H. Ivey and daughter, Mrs. Harry Misner, and Chas. Ivey, Port Dover; Mrs. W. Jennings and son Ward, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bonsfield, Hagersville.
