Robbers at Cayuga

Thieves entered the Murray hardware store early Monday morning, taking 3 revolvers, one rifle, and 40 boxes of cartridges. A rear window was broken in order to gain admittance. The door was left open when the robbers left. There was a considerable sum of money in the till, but this was untouched. There is no clue.
It looks like a local job as nothing else was disturbed save the firearms. The watches, silverware, etc., in the store were untouched, as was the money in the till. On both sides noises were heard at 3 a.m., but not thought serious as there are frequently noises along the front street. The robbery was discovered by Fred Murray, Mr. Murray's oldest son, when he came down to open the store.
