From The Countryside

Sandusky

Mrs. Wm. N. Swent and daughter are spending some weeks with her mother, Mrs. Thos. Westerby.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graydon and children, of Hamilton, returned to their home on Sunday after spending over a week at the home of her brother, Mr. Clarence Booth.

Miss Gertrude Pardington visited with Mrs. Chas. Royce on Sunday.

The Box Social held by the Swastika club last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Peacock was a decided success. Despite the unfavorable climatic conditions a goodly number availed themselves of the opportunity of spending a pleasant evening. An excellent programme was given by the members of the club and pupils of S. S. No. 18. Mr. J. R. Pond very ably acted as chairman. The proceeds which amounted to $22.50 are to be donated to the Community Hall. The club are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Peacock for so kindly opening their home for the occasion.

Smith's orchestra, of Simcoe, will furnish the music at the Baseball Club dance in the Music Hall, Jarvis, on the evening of Tuesday, May 3rd. All are invited.

Renton

April showers are quite common these days.

Sunday School has reopened again at Lynn Valley for the summer. A good attendance is asked for. All are welcome.

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stringer's last Friday evening. Although the night was rather wet the neighbors gathered and had a real good time in dancing and games till the wee small hours. Believe me, Mr. Stringer's home is the place to have a good time.

Miss Vivian Chaffland of Simcoe was the week-end guest with Miss Eva Secord at "East Lynn Farm."

The Election last Monday made it seem dry, but the weather man made it possible to quench some of their thirst for a few days. A barleycorn that soaks through the hide and then some and it didn't take long either.

Spring seeding is to a stand still at time of writing around here.

Pruning and spraying, and other odd jobs, is the order of the day around this burg.

Mr. Walt Deming, our local shipper, shipped from Renton last week 62 calves and 10 head of cattle. We understand some of the buyers have quit buying calves, but Walt says "come along he'll take them."

Some of the folks got it into their heads that a "Comet" was to be seen last week but when the truth was known it was Mr. Nickerson in Simcoe demonstrating his two autos called "Comet". They are beauties.

The Control of Swarming

(Experimental Farm Note)

Swarming is the natural method by which bees increase, but is a hindrance to the best results in honey production; especially is this true of comb honey production.

The uncertainty of swarming, the reduction of the honey crop through a division of the working force of the colony, the possibilities of losing swarms and the difficulty of controlling swarming without considerable labour, all make the control of swarming the biggest problem in bee management.

Colonies do not all require the same treatment. Swarming may often be prevented by the following manipulations. The introduction of a young queen; giving ample room for brood rearing; just previous to and during the early part of the clover flow; providing plenty of super room for the storage of honey; giving adequate ventilation during the hot weather by raising the front of the hives on small blocks to enlarge the entrance; raising a few combs of emerging brood from the brood next to a super to relieve congestion of the brood chamber; the destruction of queen cells before they are far advanced.

Colonies that have made advanced preparation for swarming and have capped cells or cells ready to cap over, will often require more drastic treatment.

The destruction of queen cells every nine or ten days requires too much labour and is not always effective.

In localities where the swarming season is short, the separation of queen and brood is usually effective. All the brood is removed from the brood chamber and placed in an empty super and the brood chamber is then filled with empty combs. The queen, and some of the bees brushed from the combs of brood, are left below with the empty combs and a queen excluder placed over them. Two supers of combs are placed over the excluder and super containing the brood is placed on top. All queen cells should be destroyed when the brood is placed in the super, and again eight days later.

A more effective method is to remove the queen from the colony at the time the first active queen cells are found and to destroy the cells. Eight days later again examine the colony and destroy all the queen cells but one, for destroy all, and give a ripe cell of select parentage. In this way a young queen is obtained that will not swarm. This plan, however, may cause a certain amount of loss, until the new queen starts laying. This may be overcome to a certain extent, by giving a ripe cell at the time of removing the queen.

It is a good plan to keep the queen's wings clipped for, should a swarm emerge, the queen will be unable to fly and will fall to the ground when she leaves the hive. The queen is then caged and the parent colony moved to a new stand. A new hive is placed on the vacant stand and the swarm will return, when the queen can be released and allowed to run in with the swarm. The supers from the parent hive should be given to the swarm. Eight days later destroy all queen cells except one in the parent colony to prevent after-swarmings.—C. B. GOODERMAN, Apiarist.
