 BUTCHER - GROCER

All Dogs Must be Tagged April 1st next will be looked forward to as more than "All Fool's Day," as it has been placed on the provincial legislature calendar as "All Dog Tag Day," when it is decreed that a canine, any breed, sex or color, must have a pen-dant on its neck in the form of a tag.
 This law will apply to towns, villages and townships alike, and any canine found without its licensed neckwear after that date leaves itself a lawful target for gunshot and its owner open to a fine of not less than $10 and not to exceed $25. Tags costing in the neighborhood of 45c will be procurable from the municipal clerk when paying license and must be renewed annually. The part of this measure enacted at the last session of parliament that the towns and villages are opposed to is the giving of power to the counties to pass by-laws whereby all dog taxes and license fees collected by municipalities forming part of the county be paid over to the treasurer of the county, to be placed to the credit of the Sheep Protection Fund, making the county liable for the payment of all claims for compensation for killing, injuring or worrying of sheep by dogs. As the farmers or townships would be the only ones to benefit if the County Council should pass such legislation, while the towns and villages would lose the revenue of such taxes and licenses, the reeves representing these municipalities will no doubt put up a strenuous argument against adopting such a measure.

BETTER BULL CAMPAIGN Strong Plea in Simple Words for Better Sires.

Lesson From the Case of the Kopas Steer—How a Boy Made Maple Sugar—Garden Chit-Chat.
 (Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)
DO you ever read the market reports? If you do you will see all too frequently comments like the following:
 "Trade was slow and draggy; choice offerings scarce; large number of inferior cattle hard to move at any price."
 Have you ever personally inspected the live stock at the Toronto Stock Yards? It may seem almost unreasonable to say, but really the good kind is all too hard to find.
 The reason for poor live stock is very apparent to everyone who visits the country occasionally, and looks over the average herds of cattle that are being kept.
 Small, undersized cows are very common, and, of course, there's the light-weight bull of (usually) doubtful parentage. Plainly speaking an absolute cull.
 "Nuff sed." We don't have to go much deeper into the subject to understand where all the poor stock comes from.

However, we will grant this, that good feeding and care will do a great deal, but you can't get economical returns from a poorly-bred steer, no matter what feed you put into him.
 The Kopas steer which was so admired at the Winter Fair at Guelph recently was from a very ordinary cow, but sired by a real bull. I am sure Mr. Kopas would never have won the championship if he had used a grade bull.
 Just remember this: The offspring is not going to be any better than the sire. If you use a measly little runt of a grade bull, that's narrow, upstanding, and meat-hearted, don't expect to top the market with his steer calves. Use them for fertilizer or chicken scrap.
 On the other hand, if you use a low-set, blocky pure-bred bull, one with plenty of heart, good spring of rib and width of loin, full in the twist and carrying a good quarter, you can expect calves of a similar type.
 It seems to me that a farmer would take a great deal of pleasure out of watching the improvement in his live stock each year. The knowledge that he was being well repaid for his feed and labor would be a great source of satisfaction.
 Better bulls will have to be used all over Ontario if the farmer is going to take lower prices and still make a living.
 The sooner this is understood the better. Quality counts when you come to sell anything and it sure does count in marketing live stock.
 There never was a better time to "scrap" your grade bull and buy a pure-bred, the supply is fairly large and prices are not high enough to hinder the average farmer.
 We all know that the grade or scrub bull is "sure." He is "sure" to sire calves that will be "sure" to eat more than their worth, "sure" to sell for the lowest market price, "sure" to lose the farmer money, and in the end "sure" to bankrupt the man who continues to use him.—C. F. Mac-Kenzie, Field Manager, Live Stock Branch.

How a Boy Made Maple Sugar.
 A Vermont boy, sledding one day early last spring, tested a tree with his jackknife to see if the sap was running. It was, and he became enthusiastic about joining a maple-sugar club. But when he consulted his father he found the equipment was not available.
 He went to the agricultural teacher in his school from whom he learned where he could borrow a pan. But he could not get any buckets. However, with his father's help, he made some troughs out of basswood. He cut down some trees, sawed the trunks in sections about two feet long, split them in half, and then, with a great deal of work, hollowed out the pieces, thus making the troughs in which to collect the sap.
 The spouts were made of sunac branches about 16 inches long.
 He began operations in a grove of maple trees about the middle of March and finished the second week in April, and in that time with this crude equipment made 60 pounds of sugar and 4 1/2 gallons of syrup. The boy's father bought part of his products, giving him a pig as payment, and now through the club work the young man has started in another branch of agriculture.

Garden Chit-Chat.
 Cut out the old canes of currants as soon as they are through fruiting and thin some of the new growth.
 Remember the fruit is borne on two and three year old wood.
 Try a few new things each year, but don't depend much on them until they have proved their value.
 Sweet peas should be planted just as early as possible. They delight in cool moist weather.
 Harden off all plants before planting in the garden by reducing the heat and water given them. This hardens the tissue and makes the plant better able to withstand the outdoor conditions.
 Petunias are old fashioned but there are few plants that will succeed as well under all sorts of conditions.
 Small onion sets give more green onions per quart of seed and are just as good as the large bulbs sometimes purchased.
 You need not plant more apple or plum trees than you can use the fruit from. But plant that many. Perhaps it will be a dozen or two dozen, but have some on the place.
