Women of Canada

"I ask from all the people of Canada an earnest review of the real issue before Canada to-day. I ask from men and women a calm, thoughtful consideration of serious public questions; and, so far as I am concerned myself, I ask not favors but fairness."—ARTHUR MEIGHEN.

WOMEN OF CANADA, the coming General Election will be one of the most momentous in Canadian history, and Arthur Meighen asks YOU to give the issue fair, unbiased consideration.

Women and men alike are called upon to decide whether political, industrial and economic stability is to be replaced by class rule, political and industrial chaos and possible economic bankruptcy.

The facts are clear, and every Canadian woman will do her own thinking. She will not be misled by others. She will not blindly follow family political precedent, neither will she be carried away by the false theories or empty "isms" of theorists and impractical common sense.

The great issue is the Tariff and here are briefly the facts.

The present Canadian Tariff, so far as it affects the necessities of life, is a very moderate one. It is simply a tariff maintained to keep Canadian factories in Canada, employing a steadily increasing volume of Canadian labor and developing Canadian resources.

Meighen stands firm for the continuance of a reasonable tariff. It is now even more imperative than in the past. All other important countries are retaining or increasing their tariffs in order that they may hold their home markets for their own people.

Under Crerar's Free Trade policy Canada would be swamped with foreign goods, principally from the United States, Canadian industry would be ruined, thousands of men and women would be out of work with all the hardships to themselves and their children that must result. The farmer's great home market would be seriously affected, taxes would be increased, and Canadian working men would have to go to the United States for employment.

While King's Tariff policy is wobbly it nevertheless tends toward the destruction of the Tariff and would bring with it practically the same results.

MEIGHEN'S POLICY EVERYBODY KNOWS. It is the only means whereby confidence may be maintained and employment given to all classes of the people.

The foregoing is a plain statement of logical conclusions arrived at from the facts. Think the matter over carefully "without favor but with fairness".

Make your own decision, stand by it unmoved and be sure to exercise your vote.

A COLUMN ABOUT PIGS

Hints as to Both Summer and Winter Treatment.

How to Protect Them From Sun Scald—A Little Grease on the Body Is Helpful—Keeping Brood Sows Cheaply in Winter—Unnecessary Loss Among Young Pigs.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

During midsummer owners of light colored pigs frequently complain of sunburn or sunscald. This condition of the hide of the animal is similar to that of people; it gives the same degree of uncomfatableness to the pig and is caused in the same manner. Consequently, the same method of prevention and treatment may be carried out.

Shelter Is Most Desirable.

In the first place, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and the prevention is shelter. No matter what kind of stock is in the pasture, shade is essential, and much more so is it for pigs on account of the thin coating of hair on their bodies. If the pasture for pigs is so situated that there are no trees to afford shade to the animals it would be just as well to keep them shut up during the hottest parts of the day and allow them to run out during the evening, night and early morning hours. By keeping them in a pen that is somewhat darkened, they miss both the hot rays of the sun and the flies that are always so bad around a stable of any kind, during the hot weather.

Give Them a "Hog Wallow."

Some people provide a "hog wallow" in their pasture which is a very good thing, but the location should be some place in the shade, as it is a well-known fact that the hide will blister far quicker when wet than when dry. A pig seems to think that a wallow is an essential thing, and if he persuades the farmer into thinking the same, the farmer should lead him to believe that during the heat of the day is the best time to keep out of it.

Vaseline Good for Sunburn.

If the pigs have become sunburned at all, it is well to keep them inside for a few days and thoroughly grease their bodies, with some nice smooth grease such as vaseline. The grease tends to keep the air from the irritated skin and ease the uncomfatableness of the animal. Vaseline also has a wonderful healing and curative property which makes it preferable in such cases.—J. C. McBeath, O. A. College, Guelph.

Keep Brood Cows in Winter as Cheaply as Possible.

During the winter the brood sows should be maintained as cheaply as possible, but at the same time they must be properly fed in order to farrow a large number of healthy, well-grown pigs in the spring. Best results are obtained when sufficient food is given to produce daily gains on the sows of one-half or three-fourths of a pound. To do this the grain feed must be limited, and diluted with some roughage, for unless the ration has sufficient bulk, the sows will become constipated and hungry, due to the undistended condition of the digestive tract. Legume hays are the chief roughages available at this season, and their use will cheapen the cost of feeding.

Alfalfa Excellent for Feed.

Either alfalfa, clover, soy-bean, or cow-pea hay makes an excellent roughage, and when fed, little or no high-priced protein concentrate is needed to balance the corn. Bright, leafy alfalfa hay gives the best results of any of these roughages. Alfalfa meal is simply the best grade of alfalfa hay chopped into a meal. Clover hay contains almost as much nourishment as alfalfa hay, and soy-bean hay, cut and cured when the beans are almost ripe, is a very nutritious feed. Cowpea hay should be cut when the first pease are ripening and consequently does not have as high food value as soy-bean hay. Great care must be exercised in curing soy-bean and cowpea hay, for the stalks are very heavy and succulent and unless thoroughly dried are apt to mold. Under no condition should a brood sow be fed upon any roughage which is not bright, nutritious, and free from smut or mold. She does not relish or thrive on such inferior feed. It is very apt to cause severe digestive troubles and may lead to the loss of her litter.

Unnecessary Loss Among Young Pigs.

On 75 Minnesota farms a total of 5,286 pigs were farrowed with an average of 8.31 per litter. Of this number 9.21 per cent. were farrowed dead, 18.21 per cent. died before weaning, 68.30 per cent. were raised, and 31.70 per cent. of the original pig crop was lost. Improper feeding and lack of exercise by the brood sows during the winter were responsible for most of the trouble (unnecessary loss) at farrowing time. Brood sows should be encouraged to get out and work every day. The droppings should be watched. If the sows are constipated, oilmeal or bran should be introduced into their ration until satisfactory condition results. For immediate action a reasonable dose of epsom salts should be given.

Arsenate of lead or paris green are good remedies to use against chewing insects. When paris green is used it is well to add an equal quantity of lime to prevent injury to the foliage.

The Quality, Fashion and Economy of Falls' Furs.

Several important factors determine a wise fur choice.

Quality is one. No person wishes to put money into deceptive furs. Yet in few articles of merchandise is it so easy for the inexperienced person to be deceived.

Fashion is another. The good style and beauty of the fur she selects, whether tiny scarf or a great coat, is important to the fur purchaser.

Price is a third. The woman who can spend little and the woman who can spend much are alike in wishing to be sure that they are paying no more than they ought to pay for a good article.

It is on all these counts that the Falls' Fur Department is steadily going ahead into what promises to be a very large season.

People have learned that every fur we sell, from the smallest to the largest, is absolutely dependable for quality, unsurpassed for beauty and fashion, and nowhere sold at a lower price.

More and Prettier Winter Coats for Women & Misses

"I must say you are handling the coat, dress and suit business on a high-grade basis." Thus spoke an old Simcoe boy, home for the week-end, and now in charge of the largest garment department in Buffalo.

No Politics in U.F.O.

Mr. F. Ramsey, president of South Cayuga and Dunn Farmers' Club, has written to the Dunnville papers as follows:

Dear Sir,—This is to correct the rumors that are being circulated as to why I refused to sign a letter of confidence passed at a meeting of the Executive of the U.F.O. held at Cayuga on Tuesday, Oct. 18.

In the first place, Messrs. Houser and Richardson were preaching "No politics" all the afternoon. Then a discussion arose concerning a motion that had been passed when Mr. Stringer was brought out, that a man who had formerly been a Conservative would be brought out for the Federal House. Mr. Richardson objected to this being placed upon the books, as this was politics Mr. Laidlaw was introducing. The second of this motion says he cannot recall any such motion. "At any rate," he said, "I would not second such a motion, as I have voted Liberal all my life until now."

Of course, "No politics." At the meeting of the 18th, in drafting the committee to sign the letter of confidence, Messrs Houser and Richardson, who were formerly Liberal, suggested that the committee be composed half of Liberals and half of Conservatives, as that would look better to the public as to their fairness to both parties; yet, when a candidate is to be selected, "No politics."

No fault can be found with the formerly Conservative members of the U. F. O., who have proved to you in the recent election how fair-minded they were in supporting Mr. Stringer, who has always been a strong Liberal; also in the last convention in Cayuga, when the Conservative aspirants, Messrs. Cherry and Reichheld, were completely snowed under, we took our medicine and said not a word.

I can't altogether blame them for wanting to mix in a few former Conservatives for committee work, as Mr. Fradenburg, County President of the U. F. O. suggested to me after the meeting that we select a formerly Conservative man for the next County secretary, as it would appear better to the public, for you know there is nothing like putting a little good flavoring in a bad pudding.

It appears to me that this meeting was just called to try to cover up a lot of rumors that are being circulated. It is to be hoped these rumors do not prove as the politics question has. There is an old saying that beauty is only skin deep, and if the former Conservative members can only qualify to act on committees to do the dirty work, to make it appear "good-looking" to the public—well!
