Division Court Tariff

The new tariff authorized for the division courts is published in the Ontario Gazette. It will mean an increase in included actions involving sums up to be sued in the division court. The new tariff provides for larger fees on actions over $200 than those under this sum. A number of minor changes have been made in the tariff under the old jurisdiction, but they will make only a very slight difference in the cost of litigation.

About seventy-five miles of permanent pavement will be laid by the Ontario Department of Highways, according to plans given tentative approval, and forecasts an expenditure of at least $4,500. The sections of the Provincial system chosen for next season's work include 39.95 miles of concrete pavement, 251 miles of asphaltic concrete and 12,65 miles of bituminous penetration.

In addition, the plans call for nine miles of macadam roadway, 43.8 miles of macadam base course, 432 miles of earthwork and a considerable amount of other construction, including the Cooksville subway, Binkley's subway, the filling in of the northerly two spans of the Belleville Prince Edward Bridge, 1,000 culverts and 800 miles of grading,

The Department has not yet completed its plans for gravel surfacing, which will be carried on extensively during the season, largely by day labor.
