A Respected Citizen Gone

By the passing of the late William Joseph Abraham on Saturday last, April 1st, Jarvis loses one of her most esteemed citizens. Mr. Abraham had not enjoyed the best of health the past few months, but apparently had been improving and just a week before his demise he was down town calling on old friends. A few months ago he suffered a stroke and a week ago he contracted the "flu" and it was very soon evident to his relatives and the family physician that the attack would prove fatal and after an illness of less than a week he had passed on. For many years Mr. Abraham conducted a dairy business here and about a year ago he retired from active business. He was in his 66th year of his age. A widow and one son, Harvey, survive him. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Service was held at the home, conducted by Rev. A. W. Hare, and interment was made in Knox Presbyterian cemetery. The funeral was largely attended.

King Solomon Lodge, No. 329, A. F. & A. M. attended the funeral in a body and the Masonic service was conducted at the grave.

Errata
In the statement published last week giving to the receipts and expenditures of the park improvements the following errors occurred: The Town Council grant was $20.00 and not $20.00 as printed. G. Sawyer gave $1.50 instead of $1.00 as credited him; and the cash paid for material for the 60 park seats should have read $116.24, instead of appearing as $118.00.

Presentation to Departing Rector and Wife

On Monday week the Junior Auxiliary of St. Paul's church presented Mrs. Wreford, who had been their superintendent, with a beautiful hand bound copy of the American Prayer Book. On the following day the Women's Auxiliary presented her with a companion edition of the American Hymn Book. On Friday a number of the men of the church met and presented the retiring rector with a handsome silver wallet. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wreford carry with them to their new field of labor very hearty good wishes from their many friends in Jarvis.

Death of Mrs. A. J. Donly

From the "Saturday Morning Post" of Cobourg, Ont., of April 1st, we reproduce the following:
At the residence of her niece, Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. Ivey, on Sunday last the death occurred of Mrs. Susan Harrison, widow of the late A. J. Donly, formerly registrar of Norfolk County. Deceased was born at Ancaster, Ont., 81 years ago and spent the greater part of her life in Simcoe. Later she removed to Mexico, where she suffered an attack of typhoid fever and had been in poor health since that time. She has been a resident of Cobourg for the past 15 years. One brother, Mr. R. J. Harrison, of Cobourg, survives. The remains were taken to Simcoe for interment on Tuesday.

A Satisfied Subscriber

We sometimes have strenuous objections raised to paying $1.50 per annum for a local weekly paper, but if the average reader could only visit us for a whole week and see the multitude of things necessary to ensure the output of your local paper we are sure that no more objections would be raised. However, every cloud has a silver lining and an old subscriber, who has practically taken the Record since its inception nearly 43 years ago, in renewing for another year, said among other things, the following:

"I notice by the label on my paper just to hand that my subscription expires with this issue. I therefore gladly enclose postal note for $1.50 for renewal and I would not be without it for double the amount . . . and in conclusion permit me to congratulate you upon the appearance of the "Record" and "Wish it and the 'burg continued success."

"There Was a Fool"

The following press despatch appeared in the Toronto dailies on Monday of this week:
Montreal, April 2.—W. Irwin, Labor M.P. for Calgary East, speaking at the open forum of the Montreal Labor College here today, said that, while there was a ferment in Canada leading toward a revolution which will eventually lead to a new social order, the time is not yet ripe for action, and will not be until there has been a considerable process of organization and a development in education. "The old people," said Mr. Irwin, "are no good." They are worse than useless. If we had 500,000 first-class funerals tomorrow of people of 45 and up, it would help."

Comment on the above is almost unnecessary and if the labor member for Calgary can secure accommodation in one of our insane institutions he should at once be put in a padded cell. Men who make statements as reported above are a menace to civilization and unless the Dominion Labor party denounce this member and expel him from their ranks, his actions and speech will greatly damage the labor interests of our country. We would suggest that he be handed over to North Carolina as a substitute for Ballock.

With Our Churches

Knox Presbyterian
The evening service was withdrawn in order to allow the people to attend Rev. G. B. Wreford's farewell service at St. Paul's.

At the morning service the minister, Rev. A. W. Hare, took for his subject of discourse "The Secret of Rest." The speaker handled his subject in a very able manner and had a message for his people that was pregnant with assurances that the Divine Creator is ever with those who use their best endeavor to give the best service they are capable. We need not worry about the rest which we need if we only do our part we know that God is ever just and unchangeable and that according to our merits we shall be rewarded. "The Secret of Rest" is found in service devoted to helping others along the way they have to travel, to be at all times ready to lend a helping hand to some one in need. We have the Saviour's blessed words "Come unto me all that labour and I will give you rest," and that other "His grace shall be sufficient for you." What the Christians of today need is not rest, but a feeling that they are called by God to get out and labor, for after labor comes rest.

Ye hear how kindly He invites,
Ye hear His Words so blest;
All ye that labor come to Me
And I will give you rest."

Wesley Methodist

Owing to the evening service in order that the Methodists of Jarvis might be enabled to pay a tribute to Rev. G. B. Wreford, rector of St. Paul's Anglican church, who leaves this week for his new charge at San Diego, California, there was only the morning service held. Rev. G. Smitherman, the pastor preached taking for his text the last verse of the 8th chapter of Genesis. The story of the flood was vividly described by the speaker and he showed that the promise made to Noah was being kept. "Seed Time and Harvest" have not failed. There can be no crown if there is no cross, as the two are as inseparable as winter and summer. If we are to be true disciples of Christ we must take up our cross and follow Him. If we want to receive the reward that is promised by the Saviour offers then we must render Him the service that He demands. We must be prepared to suffer afflictions and meet the scorn of the world if we would be partakers with Him in the rewards for service. The gladdest life is not all joy nor the saddest life all sadness. We must be ever ready to bow to the inevitable and be willing and able at all times to say "Thy Will, O Lord, not Mine be Done." "Consecrate me now to Thy service Lord By Thy power of might Divine; Let my faith look up with a steadfast hope, And my will be lost in Thine."

St. Paul's Anglican

The retiring rector, Rev. G. W. Wreford, took both services on Sabbath. His morning theme was—"Jesus Christ and Him Crucified." In the evening he preached his farewell sermon and the church was comfortably filled by those to whom he has endeared himself in the three years he has labored here. He took for his discourse the apostle Paul and his work at Corinth, that great city of Christ's time. To the writer the reverend speaker appears as a true and earnest apostle of Christ and one who spares not himself in the Master's service and his farewell message to the people of Jarvis will long be remembered by those who heard him. He showed us that the Corinth of St. Paul's day was much the same as our modern city life is at present and that beneath the outward cloak of religion, weakness and sin were rampant. The speaker showed that he has the courage of his convictions and that he is in the work, not for any monetary gain, but for his love of the Master and his fellow men. Previous to the sermon, Rev. A. W. Hare read the 1st lesson and Rev. G. Smitherman the second. Those present showed that they have appreciated the life lived and the work done by Rev. Mr. Wreford, and he carries with him to his new field of labor the good wishes and sincere prayers of all. It is hard to realize that he is leaving us, perhaps never to assemble here with us again, but we must remember that "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform He plants His footsteps on the sea And rides upon the storm."
