That Reciprocity Article!

Appended will be found a communication on the reciprocity article which appeared in our editorial columns some weeks ago. The columns of this paper are open at all times to our readers, and we gladly give space to this letter. A number of points have been taken by our esteemed correspondent which we defer to and we shall reply to the same in as brief a manner as possible in our next issue. The letter follows:

Wm. D. Hulf,
Editor "Record,"
Jarvis, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

I wish to congratulate you on the "pop" and originality which you have put into the "Record." It is by far the best paper ever published in the old village—full of news and well edited.

Some time ago I noted your editorial on "Reciprocity" which was a hard slam at your much abused "Uncle Sam," who, after all is not so bad when one gets acquainted.

I was hoping that someone of different opinion on the subject would open a discussion which is always enlightening, provided there is no animosity, the parties agreeing to disagree in friendly argument.

You express your regrets that one holding the honorable position of Minister of Finance for the Dominion of Canada should go to the capital of the United States in the interests of bringing about closer relations between the Dominion and what you term the headdress, self-conceited Yankee nation to the south.

Although a naturalized American, I am a Canadian by birth, and if, after having lived about thirty years in each country, I may presume to express my utmost wish, it is that this barbed wire entanglement called "the tariff" should be kicked to Hades—every jot and tittle of it, and that those people of the same kind and kin, the great promoters and preservers of civilization and Christianity, should have not only closer, but the closest trade as well as social relations, paving the way for the unification of the high moral endeavors of both peoples, which would mean the perpetuation of untold good, not only for themselves, but for the whole world.

Few indeed question the logic of the aphorism, "The Pen is Mightier Than The Sword," nor can we question the fact that when wrongly used it may be just about as damnable. Imagine each and every newspaper in the Dominion hurling invectives (as the "Record" has done) at the United States, then pull hard on your imagination until you can see a vigorous rotter from every paper in broad-gauged Uncle Sam's Domain. Then think what might happen.

What would Britain's first citizen, Lloyd George, think of your editorial? What would every Britisher and Canadian who stood side by side with our boys, when we gave freely of our blood and our gold to help you keep Christianity from being wiped from the face of the earth, think of it?

In unity there is strength, in harmony there is happiness, in contention there is cussedness. The war is over, bury your hatchet. Try to spread the doctrine of good will rather than hate among your patrons. Remember you can make yourself either too big or too small for Jarvis.

I noted that some "narrow gauge" went into the air over the matter, calling off his paper, etc. I'll wager he was not an American.

Have none but the kindest feelings for you and your success in the old home town.

W. C. MCCARTER,
Duluth, Minn.

A Dependable Paper
When you subscribe for a newspaper there are two essential points to be taken into consideration. First, make sure that you subscribe for a paper friendly to your interests, one whose friendship has been proven. Second, a newspaper that is fearless editorially, always dependable and with firm market reports that are as nearly accurate as possible. Such a paper is "The Farmer's" of Jarvis, owned and published three times a week by the farmers in the interest of the farmers, 126 issues for only $2.00. You should have this sure friend in your home.

With Our Churches

St. Paul's Anglican
Rev. Arch-Deacon Irvine, of Dundas, conducted both morning and evening services and preached two able and eloquent sermons. The speaker who has had many years of service in the for the Master, is very earnest and convincing, and those whose privilege it is to attend his services can not help but be blessed and helped by the messages that he gives his congregations. We have been given to understand that Rev. Mr. Irvine will continue to conduct the services until a new rector is appointed. The members of St. Paul's extend a welcome for all to come out on the Lord's Day and worship with them.

Wesley Methodist
Pastor Smitherman took both services on Sunday and there was a goodly attendance both morning and evening. His morning subject was:—"The Empty Tomb." This Easter message was one that will be long remembered by those present. The evening's subject was:—"Tell His Disciples and Peter." At this time Jesus' disciples did not know that their Lord had arisen and when the message was sent to apprise them of this fact, very special mention was made of Peter. This disciple, who had been most energetic in the Master's service, had, when it came to a test, failed. He had denied his Master. But repentance for this had speedily come and now Christ wanted to show the world that with earnest repentance comes true forgiveness. Peter had sinned grievously but had sincerely repented. Peter was afterwards the greatest evangelist of his day and proclaimed the gospel of a risen Christ fearlessly.

Knox Presbyterian
The usual services were held at Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday last. Rev. A. W. Hare, the minister took both services. In the morning the theme of the discourse was:—"Faith in the Hereafter," and many reasons were advanced why we should have a firm and an assailable faith in the reality of a future life. There is no country in the world whose people but have a conception of a life beyond. The assurance of the life beyond can only be fully realized when we accept the risen Lord as our own and live up to his commandments and precepts. The Apostle Paul said:—"If in this world we have hope in Christ only, then we are of all men most miserable." The beautiful Easter flowers are emblems of immortality, and of that bright and better life beyond this mortal veil. The evening subject was:—"Doubting Thomas," the apostle who had to be shown before he would believe, but when once convinced, he was one of the most outstanding of the disciples.

The King may rule o'er land and sea,
The Lord may live right royally,
The soldier rides in pomp and pride,
The sailor roams o'er the ocean wide,
But this or that, what'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

The water thins, the post sings,
The craftsman fashions wondrous things,
The doctor heals, the lawyer pleads,
The miner follows the precious leads,
But this or that, what'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

The farmer's trade is one of worth,
His pasture with the sky and earth,
His pasture with the sun and rain,
And no man loses for his gain,
And men may rise and men may fall,
But the farmer he must feed them all.

God bless the man who sows the wheat,
Who finds us milk and fruit and meat,
May his purse be heavy, his heart be light,
His cattle, his corn his all go right,
God bless the seed his hands let fall,
For the farmer he must feed them all.

Mrs. Hoover kindly favored us with a couple of vocal selections. The community singing was an interesting feature of the meeting, which closed by the singing of God Save the King.

A Slight Misunderstanding
"Yes" said the Hagersville resident who was being shown around Jarvis by a leading citizen, "you've got some fine places here. We ain't got nothing like them in our town. That place now," pointing to the three storey Music Hall, at the entrance of our public park, "that's a grand place! You do things in a much larger scale than we do in Hagersville."

"Really, I always thought things were ever so much bigger in Hagersville," replied his guide.

"Still, it's a big big as its purpose," remarked the visitor.

"But surely you have public halls as big as that in Hagersville," commented the guide.

"Public Hall! Do you call that a hall. My word, I thought it was the ticket office for your annual!"
