BIRTHS
Eaid—On Tuesday, August 22, 1922, at Jarvis, Ont., to Mr. and Mrs.
Ed. Eaid, a daughter (Edna Elizabeth).

Urquhart—On Monday, August 28, 1922, at Niagara Falls N. Y., to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Urquhart, a daughter (Ruby Katharine).

Safety First
"Safety first" is a good maxim in most things, but particularly so in relation to the investment of money. The rich may afford to speculate and to take the risks at tendant on high rates of interest.

Those whose means are moderate must be careful to see that there is absolute security in their investments. For such people there is no other form of investment which takes such a high rank, combining absolute security with liberal interest, as the bonds of the Dominion of Canada. Holders of Dominion bonds bearing five and a-half per cent, maturing December 1, 1922, can re-invest their money at the same rate of interest by exchanging the old bonds for new ones running for either five years or ten years, as the bondholder may prefer. Arrangements for carrying out this exchange can be made through all the chartered banks.

Successful Graduates
During the eight years that the Simcoe Business College has been under the ownership of J. H. Bowden over six hundred students have enrolled in its Day and Evening Classes. Several hundred of its graduates are now in good positions throughout Canada and United States, many today are earning better than $1800 a year. Graduates with less than a year's experience are earning from $50 to $1000.

These positions have been secured after about eight months' school training. If you have ability and a determination to win consider stenography as a profession and enroll with the Simcoe Business College.
Fall Term from September 5.

St. Paul's Church Notes
The morning sermon last Sunday had to do with the way in which Naumann the "mighty man of valor" Captain of the Syrian Army, owed his restoration to his health to the sympathy of a little captive maiden bought away from her home in Samaria on one of the great captain's successful campaigns against Israel.
"Naaman was a leper." The girl spoke to her mistress, Naaman wife, about the prophet Elisha. Naaman went to Elisha, and was healed. The practical lesson from this incident was shown to be that no one is ever so obscure or insignificant to be made use of, as an instrument for good to others. No man is so high and mighty, as to be beyond the necessity of making are of very humble instruments. God sometime uses the weak things of the world to confound the mighty and in this case he used the little Israelitish Captive to bring the means of salvation to the greatest officer in the Syrian Kingdom. Let us only be ready and willing to let others know what God can do for them. God is ever ready to make use of us, no matter how poor our condition, or how low our estate.

The Evening Sermon was from I Thessalonians iv: 1 "how ye ought to work and to please God." It is good to be very particular to obey definite rules, given under property authority, for your guidance. It is infinitely more important to rule your life by God's will. "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life."

The office of The Simcoe Business College will be open all day on Saturday, September 1, and Monday, September 4.

COMMUNICATIONS
To The Editor of "The Record": There are two ways of drowning a man—one by water, the other by a slandering tongue. They are not content with using their influence of harm in their own town, but spreading it elsewhere. The most despicable persons are the one's who profess to be your friends; they are like the snake you take to your bosom, in return, when warm, it will sting you.
Any human viper with a tongue of such treacherous and hypocritical evil that is bent to destroy another character, or will slander them behind their back, is sure sooner or later to be found out and when in defense of yourself or of an absent friend they turn on you with such evil slander, they should be dealt with in the measure of mercy they deal with you.
Ewate of the one who will say so-and-so told me, and when asked in a straight-forward way who it is, will say "I won't tell you." should be pleased with the impression they leave behind them of being the most despicable person the tongue can conceive in calling it; it is written "A life for a life, a tooth for a tooth." Some are not willing to kill the body by gossip but would also kill the soul and Glory in saying they have no friends and they the one's to set people against them. It is wonderful how some know your doings, and your business better than you do yourself, and will tell for fact unjust fabrica-tions. Until such tongues are made to feel the hurt they cause others, they will keep their habit up to the end of their days. Such persons are ones who go to the Lord's Table, forget it, and will attach you without reason of provocation, should be made to dance the cake walk with tar and feathers and with a brass band in attendance.

Why can't folk be what they want people to believe them to be. Pressing a Christian life and being the snake with out a thought they can be found out.
