TRIUMVIRATE SELECTED TO GUIDE DESTINIES OF IRISH FREE STATE

A despatch from Dublin, says: For the time being, at least, the Irish Free State Government is to be directed by a triumvirate. The three men upon whom falls the task of checking the homicidal madness of the Republican guerrillas and of conserving the prestige of the Free State among the people are William T. Cosgrave, Minister of Home Affairs; Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defence, and George Gavan Duffy, member of the Dail Eireann, and one of the signers of the treaty of London by which the Free State was established.

Cabinet he was Minister of Local Government, and on the formation of the Free State Cabinet by Griffith was chosen Minister of Home Affairs. George Gavan Duffy, also, is a lawyer. He has practiced in the English and Irish courts for 20 years and was chief of counsel to Sir Roger Casement, when the latter was tried and convicted of treason in England, during the war, later suffering the death penalty in the tower of London. He is a son of the late Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, a distinguished Dublin barrister. In the de Valera republican government he was regarded as a keen diplomat and successively represented the republic at Paris and Rome.

TURKO-GREEK TREATY MUST BE SIGNED

Before King Constantine Will be Recognized by Britain and France.

A despatch from London, says: King Constantine of Greece will probably be recognized by the British Government as soon as the Turko-Greek peace treaty is signed, it was learned on Thursday. It is understood Constantine knows how he stands in this matter and that the prospect of being received again into the small and exclusive circle of European royalty will greatly influence him to be reasonable in entering into negotiations with the Allies and the Turks.

Premier Dunning of Saskatchewan, who has asked the Minister of Finance to call a conference of the Canadian bankers to arrange methods of financing the 1922 crop.

Scheme for Exploration of British New Guinea

A despatch from London says: A comprehensive scheme for the exploration of British New Guinea will be undertaken soon by the British Pacific Science Expedition. The plan is to go into the interior over large tracts traversed by white men and to investigate the head hunting pygmies and strange animals such as the tree climbing kangaroo and the wild pigs that resemble miniature elephants.

$28.44 for Hard Coal at Auction Sale

A despatch from Niagara Falls, Ont., says: An interesting sidelight on the local coal situation was seen on Thursday afternoon at an auction sale, when two and a quarter tons of hard coal were sold for $64, the buyer to take it away. The bidding was started at $50.

AMERICAN CONGRESS URGES PRESIDENT TO TAKE OVER MINES AND RAILWAYS

A despatch from Washington, says: The industrial crisis, through failure of the negotiations to settle the rail and anthracite strikes, found its way back to the Administration doorstep on Thursday and aroused an upheaval in the Senate. Collapse of the negotiation efforts in both of the strikes prompted turbulent debate, in which strong sentiment developed for Government seizure of the railroads and anthracite mines.

The normal weekly bituminous coal demand, or 6,000,000 tons, will be mined this week, the Secretary of Commerce said, and he predicted that next week the production will amount to 7,000,000 tons. In the anthracite field settlement of the strike is more remote than two months ago, but the attitude of Congress as disclosed in Thursday's debate may bring the disputing parties to a more reasonable frame of mind.

One whole building has been given over to the music interests this year at the Canadian National Exhibition. Plans were laid for a choir of 1,000 to choralize the Prince of Wales Durbur at the Canadian National Exhibition, but so great has been the application for membership it has been decided to increase the number to 1,500. Conductor H. A. Fricker, of the Mendelssohn Choir, will be the leader.

Travel to the National Parks

This season's travel to the Canadian National Parks seems likely to be one of the heaviest in their history. Reservations in many of the hotels have been booked months in advance and the chief resorts are now full of foreign and Canadian visitors. The Jasper Park Lodge, the new bungalow hotel which was opened for the first time on June 15, at Jasper, will make it possible for many more tourists to find accommodation in this great reservation along the Canadian National Railways, and a noticeable increase both here and at Banff in the number of people who come to spend the entire summer and go out along the trails to the beautiful but little known portions of the Parks is observed.

Canada and Ireland to Make Trade Agreement

A despatch from London, says: The fostering of intercourse, commercial and otherwise, between Canada and Ireland is promised by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in a letter to the editor of the Tuam Herald, of Tuam, Ireland. There is certainly every disposition in Ireland to trade direct with Canada. Despite the troubled state of that country, Ireland has bought during the past few months a considerable quantity of Canadian lumber, and is prepared to increase its purchases greatly when the rebellion has been ended and reconstruction begins.

The Sadder Heart in Erin. Kitty Kiernan, an Irish beauty who was to have become the bride of Michael Collins when peace was restored. The grief is made keener owing to the fact that the murder of Collins shatters a romance that charmed the Irish Free State. Once when he was on the run she tramped all through the night to a lonely cabin where he was hidden to warn him that the police were on their way to arrest him. There was then a price on his head.

Birth Rates in Britain Lowest in Years

A despatch from London says: The lowest marriage rate since 1912 and the lowest birth rate in many years, war time excepted, are two records revealed in the publication of vital statistics for England and Wales for the second quarter of the current year. The natural increase in population, while below that in the corresponding periods the last two years, was nearly doubled the year just before the war. Males still hold the lead in both births and deaths by almost identical proportions. Of 200,550 births 102,509 were boys, and of 120,315 deaths 61,479 were males. Infant mortality was 83 to 1,000.

Danish Heir's Marriage Temporarily Postponed

A despatch from London, says: Unable to find a castle whose rental would fit his pocketbook, the Crown Prince of Denmark has been forced to postpone his marriage to Princess Olga of Greece. There are many vacant castles in Denmark, but the rents are too high for the Crown Prince, who has only a small income. The Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, who was instrumental in arranging the engagement, is said to be about to come to the rescue by offering her castle, Amalienborg, in Copenhagen. When an apartment of this castle has been redecored, it is expected, the wedding will take place.

Western Coal Miners Return to Work

A despatch from Calgary says: Approximately 12,000 coal miners, members of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, will resume work in the coal mines of Alberta and British Columbia, following an agreement reached with the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association. The miners have been on strike since March 31, when the continent-wide suspension of mine workers started.

Thoroughbred

The quality of a man is told by his behavior in adversity. "The word gentleman," said Sir Richard Steele, "ought not to be applied to a man's circumstances, but to his behavior in them." The true gentleman is strong to endure, and the real meaning of "social inferior" is illustrated by the man who quits cold, who gives out or gives up when the game goes against him.

It is excessively tiresome to hear people dilate upon their remote ancestry, as though the distinction won by those who performed well in a distant day makes up for the failure of to-day's descendants to do anything or to demand that you shall sit and listen to his recital from him. It is hard to draw his story from him. If you do succeed in extracting the tale, you will hear much of other actors; it will not seem as if he were the sole performer on the scene.

Good breeding is shown not in the exhibition of lineage and not in self-exaltation, but in a fortitude, a courage revealed in straightforward living every day. The opportunity to win a hero-moral and to stand on a public platform and be decorated with congratulations comes rarely and to few; but the chance to be brave in the simple, everyday contacts of life comes to every one of us, and constantly. The cynic would have us believe that the virtuous are exceptional and that acts of selfless generosity are phenomenal; and that in our ordinary lives are shining examples of essential nobleness. A "common" man who cannot trace his family to a peerage conferred by William the Conqueror rises in his place and performs handsomely and puts to shame the other who says he is a patrician and for that cause demands homage. You will be judged by your age and your community for nothing but as the great-grandson of somebody, but for yourself. Our Canadian aristocracy is that of industry; and he who toils not, on the belief that labor is degrading may style himself a "gentleman," but in the regard of sensible folk he deserves to be rated with the tramp.

King George Uses Axe on Living Cost

As the result of strenuous widdling of the economic axe in the household of King George an annual saving of something like £10,000 is being made, says a London despatch. The King, in a London despatch, has ordered a special investigation, and a Treasury expert was lent for the purpose. With his Majesty directing, the whole royal household was overhauled, including Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle and other royal residences. Completion of the task now with a King reported, is pleasing to the King, whose financial resources are said to be overestimated by the public mind. Household administration will not be impaired, nor functions cut out, but all will be less elaborate. The money granted by the House of Commons annually for maintenance remains at the same figure as it was, less than £500,000 in 1914, and the King has resolutely declined to apply for an increase in spite of the general rise in the cost of living and supporting staffs. That means that King George has had to draw considerably upon his private resources during the last eight years. Last year his Majesty retrenched in personal expenses. He cut down his racing stud, curtailed his stables and put the yacht Britannia into dry dock. The last named act had an effect that was not calculated, for in this year's show at Cowes many other owners withdrew their big yachts, and the King felt that an unfortunate blow had been suffered by the sport. He has now decided, with the better financial position as the result of other economies, to hold the Britannia's pennant again next year. He also plans soon to bring his stud horses up to the same standard as prevailed in the time of King Edward VII. King George is forced to cut a little from his private income, and the shilling reduction benefits him as well as everybody else.

The Prince of Wales Durbur at the Canadian National Exhibition is designed to commemorate the poet world tour by H.R.H. It is said to be the best and most elaborate pageant yet attempted by the C.N.E. A room devoted to the work of Canadian women in music, arts and letters will be a feature of the women's building at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

Canada From Coast to Coast

Sydney, N.S.—Ninety-eight thousand tons of coal were shipped from Sydney piers last week (a new record), surpassing the boom days of the war. In addition, considerable bunker coal was loaded at Louisbourg piers. It is expected that these figures will be surpassed by the present week. Fredericton, N.B.—Exports from New Brunswick to the United States are practically double now what they were this time last year, largely as a result of the revival of the lumber trade with the New York and Boston markets. Of the total declared exports to the United States from here during the past quarter ending June of $751,245, about $550,000 was under the heading of "wood and manufactures of it."

Montreal, Que.—In order to handle with dispatch the increased flow of grain that is expected through Montreal in the near future, the Harbor Commissioners have arranged to work the port grain elevators night and day hereafter, and also to place in commission lake carriers to the waiting ocean vessels. Figures supplied by the Grain Clearance Board show that from the opening of navigation to the evening of August 29th, a total of 62,378,638 bushels were shipped, compared with 58,946,969 bushels for the same period last year. Hamilton, Ont.—Fifteen hundred cars of grapes will be handled by the Niagara Grape Growers' Association this year, almost double that of last year. The season has been one of the most successful for many years, with weather conditions ideal throughout.

Calgary, Alta.—A total of 2,600 returned soldiers have been settled on lands in Southern Alberta by the Calgary branch of the Soldier Settlement Board and an average of 25 soldier-farmers placed on lands is still being maintained by the branch. Outstanding loans for the Calgary district alone amount to nearly $15,000,000. Vancouver, B.C.—The Consolidated Whaling Corporation is again operating this year. It is stated that the mammals appear to be plentiful this season, and it is expected that an average catch will be made, probably about 1,000 whales. Dawson Yukon Territory.—An address inscribed on a full-sized snow-white caribou skin, was presented to Baron Byng, Governor-General, by the citizens of the Yukon Territory. Gold nuggets were given His Excellency and members of the party as souvenirs of their visit farthest north.

Mount Everest Summit Still Untrod by Man. The highest point above sea level ever reached by a human being stood 27,300 feet—was attained, with the aid of oxygen-breathing apparatus, by two members of the Mount Everest expedition at noon, the 27th of last May, says Henry S. White. This brought the explorers within 1,702 feet of the summit, the highest point on the earth's surface. The final attempt was to have been made June 6, but the monsoon broke June 3, definitely frustrating any further efforts for this year at least. When the monsoon breaks on Mount Everest, there is no alternative but to get off the mountain as soon as possible. It has now been definitely proved that the mountain itself at the high points reached is not difficult to climb, and the two explorers who came so near to reaching the actual summit were able to proceed along the north face without ropes. The one and only obstacle that made the summit unattainable was the bad weather, and that the summit will be reached at the next attempt. The two explorers who reached this highest point were Capt. Geoffrey Bruce, one of the leaders of the expedition, and George Finch, a scientist attached to it. An attendance of 1,250,000 is aimed at by the Canadian National Exhibition this year. Last year 1,242,000 people passed through the gates.

Michael Collins

Head of the Provisional Government of the Irish Free State and Commander-in-Chief of the forces, who was shot and killed from ambush at Bandon, County Cork. Mr. Collins was also Minister of Finance in the Dail Eireann Cabinet.

Butter was used by the ancients at times as fuel. All live stock judging will be done inside this year for the first time in the history of the Canadian National Exhibition. The Coliseum makes this possible. Night horse shows will also be given in the new $1,000,000 building.
