NO PROFITS DESIRED

Lloyd George Not Writing Book For Personal Gain.

Premier of Great Britain Intends to Answer His Critics in His Memoirs, and the Money That He Makes Will Go to Benefit People Who Were Injured in the War.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Profits made by Lloyd George on his war memoirs will be given to war charities. Authorized announcement of this has been made. It was pointed out that many books, pamphlets and articles attacking the Premier's conduct of the war have been published, especially recently. These have been written for partisan reasons and distributed by partisan organizations hostile to the present government. These publications contain distortions of fact calculated to mislead the public.

The Prime Minister feels impelled, therefore, to publish at the earliest moment his account of the great struggle. He has already made considerable progress with the writing of his story, and means to devote some part of his holiday to further prosecution of the work.

The Minister feels unable to take any personal advantage for himself out of the story of the struggle and suffering of the nation during the great war, so he intends that the whole of the profits of the book shall be devoted to charities connected with relief of the suffering caused by the war.

In explanation of the Premier's decision the political correspondent of the Sunday Times writes: "In the course of writing the book, in which during his holiday in Wales he has made very considerable progress, the Prime Minister has been so impressed by the poignancy of the suffering of which he has had to tell and by the terrible sacrifice of the nation's life-blood that was involved in the struggle, that the idea of any personal gain in the matter became repulsive to him. He would despise himself, he felt, if he allowed himself to think of the book in such terms. The story of the nation's sacrifice shall only be told for the nation's gain, was his decision, which had the fullest sympathy and endorsement from Dame Margaret Lloyd George.

The Premier has, he feels, immensely lightened his task. As I have said, his pen has flowed very freely during his fortnight at Criccieth, and, provided he has a moderate amount of leisure during the autumn, there can be no doubt that the first volume will be ready for publication by the early spring. It is fully planned, and although the precise character of treatment cannot yet be made public I understand that both in vividness of description and the treatment of the events of the war it will not disappoint the keen expectations that its announcement has aroused."

The correspondent points out that the sacrifice on the part of Mr. Lloyd George is considerable. He is a poor man, apart from the £2,000 per annum left him by Andrew Carnegie, his private means are inconsiderable, and there is no pension attached to his office.

IS STRIKE NEAR END?

A Good Deal of Optimism Exists at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Confidence in a settlement of the anthracite coal strike within a few days was expressed by an official spokesman at the White House Monday, shortly after the return of President Harding from a week-end cruise down the Potomac river with his "strike cabinet."

Senator Cummins, Iowa, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee, also stated he was very hopeful of a settlement of the anthracite strike "within twenty-four hours" and that his introduction of his bill authorizing the President to seize the coal mines would be delayed "await developments."

"Because of this new optimism and a strong undercurrent of opposition in Congress to seizure of the mines or railroads at the present time, the impression prevailed that action on the bill authorizing the executive to take the anthracite mines and some rail lines would be delayed."

MAY GRANT MORATORIUM.

Great Britain Working For the Peace of Europe.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Germany will be informed at once to withhold the reparations payment due next Tuesday until a decision of the moratorium she requested has been reached and transmitted to her by the reparations committee.

This is the immediate result of the deadlock, which still exists in the conference here, it is said, in both British and French quarters. The cash payment which the Reich has been notified to hold up, but which she has declared her intention not to pay amounts to 50,000,000 gold marks. According to the French instructions covering this delay have already been sent to the reparations commission.

In all conference circles it is agreed the two chief differences between the British and French are: First, over the proposal for control of German state mines and forests, on which only Belgium supports France; second, over the length of the moratorium after the present year.

The French complain that article 10 of the British proposals, the one providing for the moratorium, is entirely too vague as to the length of the moratorium. This clause contains a suggestion for raising an international loan, based on the 26 per cent. tax on German exports.

According to French officials this clause may be interpreted as meaning that if such a loan succeeds in raising a fair amount of cash, the moratorium might be continued indefinitely.

The British are the source for the statement that the French have agreed that if there is a moratorium it will include German private debt payments.

Buried in Trench.

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 29.—When a tongue of earth separating an eight-foot trench, being dug by the Oshawa waterworks department, and a trench being made by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission on the Ritson road, collapsed, one town employe was buried alive, and two fellow-workmen completely covered with the exception of their heads. Help was close at hand, but it required several minutes to extricate the men from their perilous position. Adam Lemme was removed to the Oshawa Hospital and now lies there with collar-bone broken in two places, and one rib on the left side separated from the breast. James Bowles received bruises to his right hip, but he was not detained when removed to the hospital. Peter Thomasina was the least injured, he only suffering from a contusion of the right shoulder.

Town Engineer W. C. Smith states that no blame can be attached to anyone for the accident. The men were working eight feet below the level of the ground, when six feet of earth fell on them. Four sticks of dynamite had been used in the trench some hours before the accident, but the earth following that operation. Timber was being delivered at the time of the accident to brace the sides of the trench and was to have been put in immediately.

Hespler Man Swindled.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—While waiting for a train at the Union Station, Sunday night, William Fiddes, Hespler, noticed two men matching coins in the smoking room. The game looked good to him and he was invited to "get in," but he said to relate when he "got out" he discovered that he had been separated from $50.

The two men recognized him as an old friend whom they had not seen for a long time. During the first few minutes of play Fiddes had all the luck, which suddenly vanished. The ante was raised from 25 cents to a dollar to enable him to get even with the game. Suddenly one of the men yelled "police," and disappeared in the crowd. Fiddes reported his loss to the police.

Round-to-World Flyers Quit.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 29.—The round-the-world flight attempt begun from Croydon, England, May 24, by Major W. T. Blake, has been abandoned. Major Blake, together with Captain Norman MacMillan and Lieut. Mallins, who continued the flight when Major Blake was obliged to remain in Calcutta on account of illness, will return to London soon.

DELORME CASE SETTLED.

Courts Will Not Be Permitted to Pronounce Priest Sane.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—The Delorme case is closed so far as we are concerned," was the declaration of Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Provincial Premier, when asked whether the government would be represented at the Wednesday Superior Court hearing of interdictio proceedings against the abbe, in which the question of the asylum inmate's sanity will be reopened.

"Jury of twelve has declared Delorme insane," continued Mr. Taschereau, "and that verdict stands until such time as it may be shown that his mental condition is improved and he is in condition to stand trial on the murder charge. The law then would take its course and he would have to stand trial."

Mr. Taschereau declared that he had received from Dr. D. Brochu, medical superintendent of St. Michael Asylum, Beauport, an expression of opinion as to Delorme's mental condition.

"Dr. Brochu never made any statement on the question of Delorme's condition," said Mr. Taschereau. "That is just newspaper talk. We are not interested in the civil court proceedings, in any event. That is not our affair."

"We stand by the verdict of the jury until further developments." There have been persistent rumors to the effect that, having used the courts to pronounce Delorme insane and then save him from the consequences of his crime of killing his brother, an effort had now been made to have the courts reverse the decision and pronounce the ex-priest sane.
