PORT DOVER HONOURS THE MEMORY OF PIONEER FIRST SETTLERS

A Notable Gathering at the Lakeside Town on Wednesday of Last Week Witness Unveiling of Cross in Honour of Dollier and Galinpe on Identical Spot Where Explorers Landed in 1870 and Possession Made in the Name of Louis XIV of France

Even the first white men to visit western Ontario were boosters for the country over 250 years ago. This was revealed in this beautiful Lake Erie village on Wednesday of this week, when hundreds gathered to do honor to Dollier and de Galinpe, the two French priests who were the first Europeans to set foot in this part of the new world, and a handsome cross—15 feet high, was unveiled at a point overlooking the lake, on the very site on which the explorers had, in 1670, erected a rude wooden cross on taking possession of the land in the name of Louis XIV. That incident, it was shown by later speakers was one of profound significance, marking the entry of French into the centre of the continent, and commencing a rivalry which did not cease until the British conquest at the Plains of Abraham.

Impressive Ceremonial.

The unveiling of the memorial was impressively carried out on the edge of the cliff in the briefest of ceremonies, after which the main speech-making took place from the Powell Park Band stand. Brig-Gen E. A. Cruickshank, of Ottawa, Chairman of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, performed the ceremony at the cross, after Reeve John S. Martin, B.A., had introduced the object of the gathering and Rev John Robertson had offered prayer. The day was closed with a visit on the boats to the point nearly a mile up the Black Creek at which the explorers spent the winter, which ended in the erection of the cross and their departure for Lake Huron and their journey to Sault Ste Marie.

There having been delay in having the tablet completed, the inscription will be added later to the front of the new memorial, as follows:

"Near this spot, March 23, 1670, was erected a cross with arms of France and an inscription claiming sovereignty in the name of King Louis XIV. over the Lake Erie region, as shown in the process verbal reproduced on this memorial, placed here in 1922. Canada was ceded by France to Great Britain in 1763."

Early History Revealed.

A brilliant summer day, in one of the richest sections of Ontario was happily emphasized by some of the historical references of Dr. James H. Coyne, of St. Thomas, who delivered an important address, replete with information on early Canada as revealed by Dollier and Galinpe.

Text of Inscription.

Details of their explorations are given in Galinpe's journal, which Dr. Coyne edited years ago. After travelling with La Salle from Lachine to Burlington Bay, and thence into the Beverly swamp, internal disputes came to a head. Meeting Joliet returning from Lake Huron, the two Sulpicians broke from La Salle and reaching the shore of Lake Erie, the size and majesty of which astonished them, they retired inland to a wooded hillside, where they spent the winter. It was Galinpe's description of this winter—the first ever spent by white men in southern Ontario, that gave point to the rich land now so enviable, and whose fate was even evident to Galinpe.

"The gentlemen of the seminary were good sports," said Dr. Coyne, "and the party soon had nine deer in their larder, well smoked so that the meat would keep for two or three years. They added some fifty bushels of walnuts and chestnuts, besides wild apples, plums, blackberries and red grapes as large and sweet as the best French grapes and so abundant that they could easily have made 25 or 30 hogsheads of wine. Dollier used wine for mass all winter. I leave you to imagine whether we suffered in the midst of this abundance in the earthly paradise of Canada," he writes.

"I call it so because there is assuredly no more beautiful region in all Canada. The woods are open interspersed with beautiful meadows, watered by rivers and rivulets filled with fish and beaver; an abundance of fruit, and what is more important, so full of game that we saw there at one time more than 100 roebucks in a single band, herds of 50 or 60 hinds and bears fatter and of better flavor than the most savory pigs of France. In short, we may say that we passed the winter more comfortably than we could have done in Montreal.

Dean Harris, as a representative of the Roman Catholic Church, and himself a popular writer on early Canada, seized the occasion to express his gratitude to the promoters of the enterprise for their recognition of early pioneers and explorers. In part the Dean said:

"I am delighted to have the opportunity of publicly testifying my admiration of my kindly friend, Dr. J. H. Coyne. It has been my privilege to be associated with him for many years, and I congratulate the people of Norfolk County of possessing one of the most distinguished and amiable characters I have been associated with in many years. More than that, I was particularly desirous of looking into the faces of the people of Port Dover, of whom I have heard from people in Toronto who from time to time have been your guests. Allow me, Mr. Mayor, to thank you and the people of Port Dover for their splendid hospitality and kindly reception they extend to us who are their guests this afternoon. I recollect years ago, when the sheriff who then acted as police of the town, said—'I was younger than we are now—'Boys, the bars are wide open, but I would not extend too much friendship to the fellow behind the bar." It is hardly necessary to suggest that today, because of the reason of the act of the Hon. Sir Wm. Hearst, which says that I and friends like us, should leave the town as sober as we came in. I wish to publicly testify my admiration for the spirit of kindly liberality shown by the members of the Ontario Historical Society in publicly placing a monument to the great man, who 250 years ago landed in this region. By doing so, you have given to the whole Dominion of Canada a magnificent manifestation as children of God who stand on the common platform of humanity. —People of Port Dover, more has been done in your charming town to intimate to the people of Canada that we will not open the graves of the past; nor take away the stone from the tomb or bring out the skeleton of animosity. You have given a pronouncement to the people of CANADA: a positive assurance that the intelligence and the manhood and woman shall live in Peace.

—One thing more, you have gone very far to cement the bond of friendship between the people of Quebec and the people of Ontario. 250 years ago, Dolier and Galinpe stood at the doorstep of civilization in this country—the harvest of which we are now reaping and you gentlemen have stood in the furrow and assisted in the seat of government. I am satisfied the generation yet to come will reap the harvest from all. The French Canadian is represented well by the Mission. The first were those who explored the country from Nova Scotia to Sault Ste. Marie, and it was Galinpe who opened up this forest of this country for the splendid people who now reap the harvest. They stood in this country first, therefore you have given to the people of the Dominion of Canada your admiration and respect for the earlier pioneer who entered the country, carrying with them the blood of the French Canadian of Quebec, and I feel satisfied tomorrow in the journals of Quebec, mention will be favorably made of this splendid administration.

I therefore am delighted to be among your guests this afternoon for I feel that this great presentation you have staged has been done from the warmth of your large Protestant heart, and the priests feel proud of Canada for the full measure of kindly generosity and friendship, which, I am satisfied, will remain for all time and be impressed on the hearts of the children. I congratulate you people of Port Dover on what you have achieved, and I feel satisfied that you have done more than all the histories. I assure you the people want Peace to be in the hearts of the people of the Dominion, and prosperity and brotherly love." (applause).

UNITED LINES, Ltd.

Will Have The Longest Bus Line In Canada

Announcement has been made by the United Lines, Limited, that arrangements are now being completed for the inauguration of fast through passenger bus service from Toronto Crystal Beach, and via the Ferry Company, direct to Buffalo. This will be the longest bus in the Dominion, giving through single service over one connecting line.

The service will be from Toronto via Hamilton, Caledonia and Dunnville to Crystal Beach.

The United Lines for some time have been making an exhaustive survey of the bus industry in the Hamilton-Toronto territory, and have brought about improved conditions already in the bus situation.

They already have in operation through bus service from Caledonia and Jarvis to Toronto, and it is now possible to travel by bus from Selkirk, on United Bus, into Hamilton, to the waiting rooms of the United in the Royal Templar Building, and from there direct on a through bus to Toronto. This gives a character of service similar to the railroads.

Announcement is now made of this new early Toronto-Buffalo arrangement which will consist of service from Toronto with large Pierce-Arrow busses to Hamilton, changing at Hamilton to the busses of the United Lines, and running via Caledonia and Dunnville, over a connecting line to Crystal Beach and ferry to Buffalo.

This service should prove a great boon to travelers and pleasure seekers.
