The Masonic Brethren Unveil Memorial Tablet

King Solomon Lodge, No. 329, A.F. and A.M., pay a Loyal Tribute to Members Who Fought and Died in the World's Great War

ENJOYABLE BANQUET GIVEN

The Members, Together With Ladies and Guests Have an Enjoyable Time. — Rev. Bro. J. M. Whitlaw, Hagersville, Gives an Eloquent Address

Friday evening of last week will long be remembered as a banner one in the memory of the Jarvis Masonic Lodge, and one which will go down in local history. The gathering was of a two-fold nature. Shortly after eight o'clock the Masonic brethren, together with lady friends and a few invited guests, gathered in their beautiful and completely equipped lodge room to witness the unveiling of the memorial tablet erected to the memory of members of the local lodge who enlisted in the great World's War for humanity and the maintenance of true democratic ideas. Four of the brethren had given their services in the conflict, two of whom made the supreme sacrifice, and their mortal remains are now guarded by the poppies that grow "grave upon grave" in France.

At the proper hour Worshipful Master J. S. Burwash declared the meeting open and called upon Reverend Bro. A. W. Hare to lead in prayer. The Reverend Brother's prayer was an able and exhortatory one, and produced a fitting feeling for the occasion.

Mrs. John Hair, wife of the oldest mason present was then invited to draw aside the Union Jack which hid the tablet from public gaze, which task she accomplished in a truly regal manner. When the unveiling was completed, the brethren, led by Worshipful Bro. J. J. Parsons gave the grand honors three times in memory of and as tribute to those who were represented on the tablet, and who saw their duty so plainly and clearly as to offer their lives, if so required, as a sacrifice for home and country. "Greater love hath no man than a man lay down his life for his friend."

The next speaker was Right Worshipful Brother Jas. McNeillie of St. George, who gave an address that was both brilliant and able. He dwelt on the fact that men only get the best out of this life when they forget self and personal or selfish advancement and throw their lives in the balance in order to be a help to others.

Just at this point of the proceedings the Worshipful Master Bro. J. S. Burwash, extended a hearty welcome to the ladies and non-members present and expressed a hope that gatherings of a like class would be much more frequent in the future than they had been in the past, which sentiments met with the hearty approval of all present.

Right Worshipful Bro. Dr. Wm. Jacques was the next speaker, and he gave a very able and concise address on the aims and objects of masonry, the information he gave being a revelation to those present who had no idea of the underlying principals of the masonic order. He traced the beginning of Masonry back to King Solomon's time and showed plainly that masonry and religion went hand in hand, and that the two were inseparable. One could not help but come to the conclusion that the better and truer Christian a man was the better mason he would be. God was represented by the speaker as "The maker of men," "The measure of men" and "The ruler of men;" and that through the life and death of His only son, Jesus Christ, "The lover of men." Truly as a later speaker said, "If this is masonry give us more of it."

Worshipful Bro. Dr. Thos. Lewis made an eloquent and concise address, which showed that he was thoroughly conversant with the fact that we are dependent on one another in order to gain success in this life, and to be able to fill the places allotted to us.

Worshipful Bro. J. J. Parsons made some forceful and entertaining remarks in which he showed that the strength of a nation or people lay in the education that they have received and developed.

Worshipful Bro. Geo. L. Miller was the last speaker at the dedication proceedings and made some very appropriate remarks in his usually able manner.

The names engraved on the memorial tablet were—Chester Rodgers and Geo. B. Mission, Herbert Williamson and Rev. Geo. Steinhilber. The first two paid the supreme price and the last two were spared to return home to beloved ones and friends. The mother, widow and two sisters of Chester Rodgers were present at the unveiling of the tablet.

This part of the evening's program being complete, the assembly adjourned to the Commercial House, where nine host. Mr. J. Walker, had the banquet prepared. Tables were laid for eighty-five, and a number had to be accommodated outside the banquet hall there being about one hundred present, of whom nearly one-half were of the gentler sex. Ample justice was done the bounteous feast provided and the balance of the evening spent in community singing and listening to the very able address given by Reverend Bro. J. M. Whitlaw, minister of the Hagersville Presbyterian church. He spoke on the "Future outlook of Canada." We regret deeply that space will not allow us to give a full report of this lecture, but all present were of the opinion that it was a real intellectual treat indeed. The speaker showed us how we could make this Canada of ours, this glorious inheritance that God has given us, one of the greatest nations of the universe. He showed clearly that it required the co-operation of every true citizen, no matter how humble his lot and position, in order to accomplish the desired results. It was absolutely necessary for us to live close to God and to do His will at all times. At the end of his magnificent address the speaker was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks for his courtesy in coming to Jarvis to speak and the hope expressed that it would not be the last time he would be with us in a similar capacity.

The community singing, led by Dr. Wm. Jacques, was thoroughly enjoyed and the vocal solo exquisitely rendered by Mrs. Guy Leathong, Hamilton, was a real treat. A couple of violin selections were given by Bro. A. Marr in his usual happy manner. The accompanist of the evening was Mrs. A. Marr. The gathering dispersed about midnight, everyone remarking that they had thoroughly enjoyed one of the best evenings of their lives. We understand that in future these gatherings will be made an annual affair, and, if so, they will be conducive of good results from every point of view.

The piano used for the banquet was a Gerard Heintzman make and was generously supplied by the local agent, Mr. Chas. McCarter.

The masquerade and skate dance which was postponed on account of the sudden death of the late Geo. Smitherman, was held last Thursday in the Arena Hall, but owing to the bad condition of the roads there was not a very large attendance. Those who did attend spent a very enjoyable evening. The net proceeds amounted to $50.00 and barely paid expenses. The music was furnished by Smith's orchestra.

Mr. A. G. Smith, of Boston, Mass., visited the early part of this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mr. Smith is a member of the famous Westminster Hockey Club of Boston on which team he plays left defence. The Boston team are playing a series of games with the St. Paul team for the Amateur Championship of the United States. Two games have been played in St. Paul and the visitors won both games. The score in the first game was 3 to 0; and the second was 2 to 1. Boston and St. Paul's play two games in Boston on Friday and Saturday of this week and if the Westminsters win one game they win the title. In case St. Paul win both games the tie will be played off at the Toronto arena. Arrangements have been made that providing the Granites of Toronto, win the Canadian Amateur Championship that a series of games will be staged between the Canadian and U. S. Champions for the Hockey Championship of the World. Jarvis is proud of Mr. Smith and his record both as a true Canadian who fought and was wounded in the late war and the prominent place he now occupies in the sporting world.

With Our Churches

Knox Presbyterian

The Minister, Rev. A. W. Hare, occupied the pulpit at both services, and fairly large congregations attended them. The subject for his morning talk was "Wools Make a Mock of Sin," in which he brought out many good points, showing that the world in general is placing a premium on sin, instead of fighting it as they should. In the evening the subject was "Shooting Your Bow at a Venture," and the speaker's discourse was one that could not fail to have a beneficial effect upon his hearers. Rev. Mr. Hare's sermons are ably delivered at all times, and the people of Knox Church have a minister who is doing what every true ambassador of Christ should be doing, that is, preaching the true gospel, and the gospel only.

St. Paul's Anglican

The Rector, Rev. G. R. Wreford, took both services. In the morning the title of his sermon was: "Good News From a Far Country," and was listened to by a sympathetic congregation, who could not fail but be greatly helped by the message of the speaker. His evening subject was: "Give you rest," being part of the verse found in Matthew's gospel reading "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and I will give you rest." He took the life of Solomon in order to properly illustrate the truths that he wished to bring home to his congregation. He described how Solomon (who was seeking for happiness and true rest), tried learning a and knowledge, pleasures and sports, the sparkling wine, building great works, constructing wonderful highways, accumulating immense wealth, music and its associations, beautiful and scensuous companions; all of which failed to give him the rest that his soul hungered for. The speaker then went on to show that true happiness and real rest could only be found in the service of the true God, whose beloved Son, while he was here on earth uttered the words of the text. 1st—We are to come. 2nd—We must put away all sin that would hinder us coming in the right spirit. 3rd—We must confess Christ to the World. 4th—We must give true service to God's work. If we do these four things then we will be perfectly happy and enjoy real rest.

Wesley Methodist

Owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. Geo. Smitherman, the pulpit of Wesley Church was occupied by other speakers. The morning service was taken by Rev. Mr. Siple, late of Selkirk, but for the time being is living in Jarvis. His subject was: "The Great Obligation" and was handled in a very able and convincing manner. His discussion was interesting and instructive, and listened to with rapt attention by a fair sized congregation. The speaker pointed out that we must not be selfish with the gifts that a kind and benevolent Providence has given us. He deplored the fact that so much of the worldly spirit was creeping into the church of to-day, and expressed the belief that it was drifting away from the true ideals of Christian teaching and Christian brotherhood. His views coincide with those of the writer, that the church of to-day has fallen down on the job placed in its hands by the Almighty, and that instead of the world growing better it is scarcely holding its own.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Mercer, pastor of Chesapeake Methodist Church, preached a very able and eloquent sermon, taking as his subject: "Christ's Interest in Humanity," and those present were very greatly helped and encouraged to continue the battle for the supremacy of the right and the defeat of wrong.

The Late Thomas Boussfield

On Tuesday morning of last week the "Record" received the following letter:

Toronto, March 6th, 1922.
To the Jarvis Record:—
Enclosed please find postal note for $1.50. For some reason the last paper did not come and I would like to have one. Thanks for past favors, and every good wish for the future.

Ever yours,
TOMMY BOUSFIELD.
191 King St. E.,
Toronto, Ont.

On Tuesday, just twenty four hours after receiving the above letter, we were shocked to learn that Mr. Boussfield had been struck by an auto in Toronto about 9 o'clock on Monday evening, March 6th, sustaining such severe injuries that he passed away at St. Michael's Hospital early the following morning. After the inquest had been held, the remains were brought to Hagersville by train. The funeral took place from the home of his brother, Henry Boussfield, Hagersville, on Friday. Services were held at the home and interment made in the Methodist cemetery at Jarvis. "Tommy" as he was generally called, had a host of friends who regret his untimely end. He was in 64th year.
