Is Your Corn Crop Infested?

The European Corn Borer leaves no question of doubt as to its presence in a field of corn. Guard carefully against the infestation of your crop.

Beware of These Signs

The first easily observed sign of the infestation is the breaking over of the corn tassels.

Later the feeding of the "worms" begins to show on the stalks, which, being greatly weakened, break over.

Finally the cobs and shanks become infested and the entire stalk collapses to the ground.

The borer then seals itself for the winter in corn stubble or corn stalks, which must either be burnt up or ploughed under before June 1st of the year following.

STRIKERS ARE DEFIANT.

No Return to Mines While Leaders Are in Jail.

SYDNEY, N.S., July 9.—After clarifying to some extent on Saturday, the strike situation again became confused and most uncertain when a mass meeting of several thousand miners at Glace Bay on Saturday night unanimously adopted a resolution which the chairman interpreted as meaning that there would be no return to work under any considerations until Dan Livingstone and James B. McLachlan, union officers, are freed from jail, where they are now held on a charge of publishing false information calculated to injure the public interest. The miners had previously laid it down that withdrawal of the troops and Provincial police from Cape Breton must precede their return to the pits, so two challenges to authority have now been made issues in the fight.

Textually, Saturday night's resolution simply pledged the miners to maintain solidarity of their union, but the vote followed the chairman's interpretation of it as applying specifically to the McLachlan-Livingstone case.

Publication on Saturday of a telegram from John L. Lewis, International President of the United Mine Workers, virtually overruling the public hope and belief that the situation might quickly clear itself up.

Coming on top of the arrest of the chief district officers on a criminal charge, which lost the strikers their strongest and most radical leaders, and with reports current of disaffection in the men's ranks, especially at New Waterford and Sydney Mines, the Lewis telegram was regarded as likely to make a speedy end to the trouble.

At Saturday night's meeting, however, there was not only the decision to remain on strike until the accused officers are discharged, but there was vehement denunciation of President Lewis' attitude, and quite open suggestion that any representative he might send in to District 26 would be disregarded.

Alex. S. McIntyre, District Vice-President, declared from the platform that Nova Scotia miners would not tolerate any such tactics as President Lewis had employed in other districts where a "militant rank and file had arisen."

As for the reports of weakening among the strikers at New Waterford and Sydney Mines, spokesmen from these at the meeting asserted positively that the rumors were no more than propaganda coming from opponents of the strike and that the men at their colleries would continue to remain out of the pits.

DID NOT BURN HOTEL

Collingwood Men Acquitted of a Serious Charge.

BARRIE, Ont., July 9.—James Henry and George Hollingsworth, of Collingwood, were acquitted Saturday on a charge of setting fire to the Tremont Hotel in Collingwood. The case was tried before Judge Vance and a jury, and lasted three days. The accused were owners of the hotel, which they bought furnished in the spring of 1922 for $3,000, of which $2,000 was carried on mortgage. When they bought the hotel it was insured for $6,000 in October, 1922, $3,000 insurance was put on the contents and $4,000 additional on the building.

About 2.30 o'clock on the night of January 17th, the building was discovered to be on fire.

Henry Saville, deputy fire marshal, who examined the premises after the fire, told of finding one part of the stairway saturated with some inflammable material, and a strip of the tarp in the same condition, he thought there might have been two fires.

Asked as to the charred condition of certain parts of the woodwork, he said the burning of these could only have been by design and by the use of some inflammable material.

Shortages from the list of contents as supplied by Henry, were reported by the insurance adjuster, who checked up the list after the fire.

For the defence witnesses were brought to show that the hotel building was easily worth $10,000, some also placing it at a much higher figure.

Henry said that he went to his room about 9.30 that night. The fire had made such headway before he was aware, that he had to escape through a window by a rope tied to a bed in the room. Hollingsworth also gave an explanation concerning his whereabouts on the night in question.

Over twenty witnesses were examined. After being out about two hours the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal.

The injured were taken on to Montreal for treatment.
