Just a Comparison.

The First Locomotive in America and the Latest.

THIS picture might almost be entitled "Ancient and Modern." It shows the "Sampson," first locomotive in America which was first used at Albion mines in 1809, and one of the new Pacific type locomotives which have been placed in commission by the Canadian Pacific Railway on all main lines, and which are chiefly responsible for this company's "on time" feature of service. The Canadian Pacific Railway have now definitely adopted this design for their heavy main line service, as representing the most desirable and efficient locomotive for economy and reliability of service, as this particular design reduces to a minimum, consistent with capacity, the number of moving parts which is essential for reliability of service under the most exacting and severe conditions.

The capacity and weight of these locomotives rank them among the biggest of their type in the world, and the largest of this design in operation in Canada. The hauling capacity of the 2300 series is 42,600 lbs. which is obtained with 200 pounds boiler pressure, cylinders 25 inches in diameter, 30 inch stroke and with driving wheels 75 inches in diameter. The weight on the three pairs of drivers of engine is 180,000 pounds and the total weight of the engine and tender in working condition is 495,000 pounds, the tender having a capacity of 8,000 gallons of water and 14 tons of coal.

The design of these locomotives was given very careful study, a trial order of engines constructed in 1919 having been made, with tests under all Canadian conditions, which fully justified all expectations for reliability and economy of operation. The boiler has been carefully proportioned and the inter-relation of grate area, fire box volume, heat absorption capacity of different lengths of tube and gas areas more carefully thought out than is usual in most designs, which, coupled together with an extremely accurate distribution of steam by an improved type of Walschaert valve gear, has given exceptional economy for a locomotive of this size.

NANTICOKE PLAY

The Nanticoke Dramatic Club's clever presentation of a bright and was deservedly greeted with much applause and hearty laughter by an audience that packed the town hall to capacity.

The title of the play was "Not So Bad After All" and its presentation was truly excellent.

In short it was the best entertainment put on here since the days a decade and a half ago when another generation put on plays that attracted people from all over the country.

William Harris, one of the leading artists of those old days, was director of the play and much of its success was due to his management.

Like these other dramas of olden days, the revival of local plays was for a worthy cause, to provide uniforms for Nanticoke's baseball team. A substantial sum was raised.

The plot itself was replete with genuine comedy of which the cast made the most, providing a chuckle and a chortle in almost every line. And through all the fun and jollity ran a moral, or rather an axiom, that needs must when the devil drives, one of particular interest to husbands of neuroathemic women.

Briefly the thread of the story, skilfully interwoven with the warp and woof of comic interludes, was about a wife cured of an imaginary illness by all her household feigning injuries or sickness.

Eva Thompson enacted the role of Mrs. (Capt.) Herbert Marchmont. As her husband, the hen-pecked captain Carroll Lindsay, roused the merry laugh by his true-to-life delineation of the effect of a drop too much. Harry Pratten was one of the stars of the cast in the character of the servant with an accent. As the susceptible who succumbed to the wiles and charms of Miss Clara Smeaton, the designing spinster, acceptably portrayed by Miss Julia Evans, George Hedges acted with aplomb and sang-froid of a professional. John Vokes fitted the character of the irascible Capt. Poppett, while Mabel Thompson little wife as one to the manner born.

Arthur Vokes made an admirable bluff, blunt old family physician, Dr. Brunt, for whom Margaret Evans, in both make-up and actions made a splendid foil as his wife. Jean Vokes filled the role of the pert, pretty and lively little maid to perfection. In the character of a London tiger, a sort of lady-killing man servant, Earnie Dossier exhibited a dash and sprightliness that made the character real and alive.

The cast would not be complete without mention of the natural manner in which "Pat" took the part of Zelinia, the Marchmont's house dog. He provided an occasional bit of comedy behind the scenes when he ate bacon intended for use in the third act.

SANDUSK W. I.

The women of the Sandusk Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. L. Dougherty Thursday, July 5.

The president being absent, Mrs. Dougherty took the chair. The meeting was opened by singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the Lord's prayer.

After the business a program of papers and music was given. A good report of the convention held in Dunnville was given by Mrs. T. Westerby. It was followed by music on the Victrola. Mrs. J. Peart, of Caguga, gave a splendid talk on the Institute, touching on the work of the officers. A paper on "The Use and Misuse of Our Time" was given by Mrs. J. E. Pond. The meeting was closed by singing the hostess served a dainty lunch and a vote of thanks was tendered her for her hospitality. There were 22 present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Werner on Tuesday, August 7. A paper on "The Importance of Supervising the School Children's Play Ground" will be given by Mrs. F. Pond and a paper on "Should Domestic Science be Taught in Our Schools" will be given by Mrs. J. Walker.

VARENCY W. I.

One of the most interesting meetings of the year was held by the Varence Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Charles Buck on July 5 with an attendance of 26.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. A motion to donate $10 to the War-Memorial hospital at Dunnville was adopted and $2.00 to a life membership fund for Mrs. Thompson, retiring county secretary. It was also decided to hold a garden party at a date to be announced soon.

A splendid program was given, including a report of the summer meeting by the president and a report of the county convention at Dunnville by Mrs. D. C. Parkinson. An interesting discussion on "Use and Abuse of Our Time" was followed by a reading by Miss Viola Saunders and piano solos by Mrs. Charles Buck. Several good recipes were given in response to roll call. They were for cool dishes for the summer.

Mrs. Percy Buck invited the Institute to her home for the August meeting. After singing the National Anthem a dainty and substantial lunch was served.

NANTICOKE

Christ Church, Nanticoke, held its annual garden party and strawberry festival Friday night, July 6, on the church lawn.

The night was ideal and the crowd was large. The Port Dover band, numbering 26 pieces, was present and furnished good music until about 12 o'clock. Because of the late hour of starting, the program was cut short, Thomas Butcher, the ivillage poet, reciting only three poems: "Sweet Valley Home," "The Tramp" and "The Fool." Those from a distance taking part were Mrs. Livinstone, of Ottawa, and Mr. Hare, of St. Catharines. The remainder of the program was home talent.

It is reported that J. F. Jackson has bought the store and T. Butcher the house and lot on the corner of Main and Erie street, from the W. H. Davidson estate.

The cottages at Hickory beach are being filled rapidly. Plans are being made for some bonfire concerts on the beach during the summer.
