HEALTH EDUCATION

BY DR. J. J. MIDDLETON
 Provincial Board of Health, Ontario

Dr. Middleton will be glad to answer questions on Public Health matters through this column. Address him at Spadina House, Spadina Crescent, Toronto.

A direct plain message to the public often carries weight when more elaborate methods of publicity fail. Simple statements tersely told, strike the imagination.

"Hygiene can prevent more crimes than any law" is one of these. Because it stimulates thought, and when once the public begin to think seriously about any subject, that subject becomes a topic of interest, the newspapers get hold of it and many avenues of publicity result in consequence.

Many a man or woman on reading the remark, "Hygiene will prevent more crimes than any law," will be tempted to ask what the word hygiene means. A good opening for education results, for "hygiene" is very comprehensive and includes both personal and community well-being and everything that promotes this well-being.

In some way and by some manner we have got to get health messages across to the average, ordinary man or woman. The reason for this is plain. There are a few highbrows and a few house-breakers and auto-theives, once in a while a desperado who will not even stop at murder, but the great majority of people we come in contact with from day to day are just plain ordinary people with an average amount of common sense. Many of these good people come from Missouri; that is, they have got to be shown. Some circumstances or experiences in their lives have perhaps given them the impression that little of good can be done by hygiene or all that it represents. If you can prove to them that they are wrong—not by preaching long-winded sermons, but by a few facts, they will soon become your friends and supporters in the good health crusade.

Engine Driven by Sun's Rays.

The sun's rays are used to generate power in a miniature engine which was the subject of a recent demonstration in the United States.

A parabolic copper mirror focused the rays on a test tube of water, the heat causing steam, which in turn operated the tiny engine at a high rate of speed.

Mr. Bernard Grossman, the inventor, said that his invention could be used to provide light, heat, and power, or to operate motor trucks.

"Good," he added, "will before very long be considered something which merely cutters up the cellar."

"Every community will have its heat-canning plant, where the sun rays will be caught and concentrated. The millions of units of energy from the sun which we now waste, while we continue to drain the earth of its oil and coal, will be put to use."

Lord Amptill, G.C.I.E., G.C.S.I., members of the British Masonic Grand Lodge of England, deputed by His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall to officially represent their lodge at the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Toronto, and to carry greetings from the Grand Lodge and Masonic Fraternity of England to the Grand Lodge and Masonic Lodges of Canada. WEAK DIGESTION DUE TO POOR BLOOD

Perfect Digestion Will Come if the Blood is Made Rich and Red.

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work, as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating prepared food. Tone up your stomach, then your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin, you need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the strength to your blood, and in addition use care in the selection of your diet and your stomach troubles will soon pass away.

Mrs. Charles La Rose, Fruitland, Ont., suffered severely, and tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her. She says:—"I was a terrible sufferer from stomach trouble. The doctor called it nervous indigestion. Everything I ate distressed me, and I became so weak and rundown I could hardly walk. I had a pain around my heart most of the time, and I slept very poorly. I was afraid I would not get well, as the doctor's medicine was not helping me. In this serious condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended and I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say that they made me feel like a new person. I will always give this medicine a word of praise when I get a chance for I think there is nothing to be compared with it for dyspepsia, or any one weak, nervous or rundown."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Business-Builded by Love.

The business was started during the Great War, when a little Italian girl, Baby Scavini, begged her mother to buy her a doll such as the other little girls she played with had. Her father, an artist, was away soldering, and the mother had no money to buy a doll. She would have made any sacrifice to gratify the child's desire, but buying a doll of the conventional toyshop type was out of the question. So, Love put on its thinking cap and solved the problem.

The young mother was an art student, and had ideas. She picked up bits of felt, and out of them made a new sort of doll. Then she painted its face and dressed it gaily in fancy clothes. Her little daughter was delighted, and when she went out in the park to play, her playmates who had expensive, fashionably dressed dolls, admired hers so much that they begged their mothers to buy them one just like it.

The result was that orders for dolls poured in so fast, on Mrs. Scavini, she very soon had more than she could fill. At the close of the war when her painter husband returned to their home in Turin he, with other artists, began to help her, painting the dolls and designing new figures.

The business grew and grew until, as the New York Times told the story, "the dolls began to appear in the windows of Italy's leading stores and in Paris on the Rue des Infirmes. Then they spread to South America and to New York's Fifth Avenue, where they stare out of the window with the same nonchalance as in Italy and France, where the Lendell doll, as they are called, is often seen reclining on a sofa or in a corner of a lady's motor car beside her high-bred dog."

To-day there are more than 100 different figures, the faces all painted by well-known artists and all varying in expression, but all the dolls are unbreakable entirely made of felt, with fluffy hair and unusual clothes. The Lendell doll is now seriously considered an important contribution to the art of toymaking.

Love never fails. It always finds a way to help us over rough roads. No problem is beyond its reach.
