The Age of Confusion

The last few years, throughout the whole world, may well be called the age of confusion. The contented times of before the war seem like a dream to most people. Now wages are called high by the employer but the laborer judges by the prices he has to pay for necessities and calls them low. The buying power of money flutters up and down with seemingly no standard in sight and little by which it can be judged. War and rumors of war cause little excitement any more. There are so many of them.

It is not so long ago in years that a flutter in the Balkans cast a shadow over the whole world and made it nervous, for the Balkans were always considered breeding spot for war. Now little attention is paid to the Balkans by most of the people. Only the statesmen worry about it and it would be a difficult problem for them to stir the people up to a realization of danger should it come.

If there had been as much bickering with Turkey a few years ago as there has been since the war, the people would have been all excited. They would have been waiting anxiously for any word. Now they pass it over. They may glance at the headlines in the papers but it is doubtful if they bother about details. It has become an old story and it has lost its force. Still all is confusion and the confusion has lasted so long that the people have become used to it and take it as a matter of course.

If war should by any chance come again, they will perhaps take it in the same way. There will not be the excitement that was in evidence in 1914.

And in the meantime the confusion goes on. Workers are striking. Others are grumbling. Prices are high or low, according to whether a person is buying or selling. People have their private debts and then they have the war debt and in many cases it appears as if the debts would be increased rather than paid off. During the war the people lived in excitement and that excitement has leaved its price, the price of unrest, of nervousness. And it will be many years before the price is paid. Yes, this is the age of confusion and it is the man who will shake off the prevailing feeling of the times who will exercise cool judgment, who will separate facts from impressions that will help change it to an age of contentment.

The Little Fellow Pays

The amendments to the stamp tax which go into effect August 1 tend to show a hand at the helm of things at Ottawa that would fit the big fellow, the fellow that can afford it, off as easily as possible and make the fellow who is small in the business world pay to the limit.

That is done by fixing a maximum tax on bank deposit withdrawals at $1. It means that the firm that has a pay roll of more than $2,500 will not have to pay more than $1 tax when he draws money to pay employees while the firm that keeps two or three or a dozen men will have to pay to the limit. It means that a store like Eaton's will have to pay a tax on the pay roll only up to $2,500 while the store with two or three clerks or a dozen clerks will have to pay on all they draw for that purpose. And it will not only help the big business man with his pay roll but in all his business because he is the man who makes the big withdrawals.

The maximum fixed is a nice little help for such concerns as the Ford Motor Company in Windsor, the C. P. R. and many others which could afford to pay a lot better than some which will have to.

GRAIN POOL IS SURE.

Price for Wheat.

CALGARY, Alta., July 22.—No matter what the Government of Alberta, the United Farmers of Alberta, or the Joint Conference of Western Farmer bodies now in session in Regina may do, the farmers of Southern Alberta will organize a marketing pool to handle this year's crop, and it is highly probable, now that it is assured that Aaron Shapiro, the American co-operative marketing expert, is coming to this province in August to help the movement, that groups of farmers in other parts of Alberta will organize similar pools. In this event, an effort will be made to merge all these pools into one marketing concern which, while formed primarily to assist in marketing the wheat crop, will be used to market the farmers' other grains and other products, including live stock.

Things have moved rapidly in Southern Alberta's agrarian circles since the Provincial Government and the U. R. A. directors definitely announced that a wheat pool would be impossible this year. The farmers between Calgary and the international border were not satisfied with this ruling, and it has been more than hinted that they have come to the conclusion that politics was being played rather than that economics was being studied. In any case they have taken the matter into their own hands, and at four important points—MacLeod, Claresholm, Nanton and Granum—the organization of the pool is well under way and the scope of this organization is being extended to include practically the whole southern part of the province.

With wheat down to 80 to 85 cents at elevator points in the Calgary district, it will be easily understood why the farmers are making efforts to improve their situation. They claim that wheat cannot be grown at less than $1 a bushel, and H. W. Wood, president of the U.F.A., asserts that the farmer should get at least $2.30 a bushel if he is to receive a reasonable return from his labor and investment.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 22.—“Peggy,” the pet dog of Allan Taylor, son of W. J. Taylor, contractor, performed an act of canine devotion at Southside Park Saturday when it jumped into the pond and pulled the lad out of the water, in response to his cries for help.

The Economic Value of a Chevrolet

IN the business, professional and family life of Canadians, the automobile has proven an important economic factor.

No other means of transportation is so rapid, so flexible, so economical.

In business the savings effected are readily counted in actual dollars and cents. In the professions, money, time and often human life are saved. In the family, the benefits, no less real, come in the form of health-giving pleasures and relaxation. Your friends are brought closer—distance is eliminated.

To enjoy these benefits and effect these savings, you must have a quality car, low in first cost and economical in upkeep.

Chevrolet is the world's lowest-priced, fully-equipped automobile. It is strongly built for Canadian conditions and is the most economical car in the world to operate.

GOOD MONEY IN GOOD FARMING
“Let's Get to Work and Pay Off the Mortgage”

NINE years ago Canada's national debt was about one-third of a billion. It is more than two and one-third billions today. Our debts have greatly increased—our revenues must also go up. The farmer has to bear his share of the increased burden. That means he must increase his revenue. Complaint has been heard that farmers under present conditions in Canada cannot make farming pay. And yet many thousands of Canadian farmers do make it pay.

How Is It Done?
Patient and industrious “carry on” will do wonders, but something more is needed. Too often “patient industry” is coupled with “dull persistence” in poorly thought out methods. Farmers today more than ever, must plan ahead, as well as “plug along”; indeed they have no option, if they wish to succeed. Co-ordination of head and hand is the real success. Farming cannot be done on impulse. It can be made to pay on almost every farm. Canadian agriculture has passed through low profit-making eras successfully in the past and can do so again.

Crop Returns Should be Increased
On the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa some crop costs and crop profits in 1922 as contrasted with all-Ontario average crop costs and crop profits are given below. The all-Ontario figures are in brackets:

	Cost per acre	Profit per acre
Hay	$21.13 ($33.58)	$11.21 ($5.09)
Corn for
Forage	$47.50 ($33.75)	$10.38 ($2.85)
Oats	$26.47 ($19.32)	$ 7.33 (.64)

Similar results can be obtained from the Dominion Experimental Farms in every province.

Experimental Farm crops are sometimes claimed to be produced at too great cost. Thousands of experiments, however, show that increased cropping costs wisely increased up to a reasonable point always increase crop profits. This is true on the Experimental Farm—and on any and every farm.
