MASONS ATTEND CHURCH PARADE

Pastor Appeals for Justice Tempered With Mercy When Brethren Attend First Presbyterian Church. Large Congregation at Special Service

Justice tempered with mercy was the plea of Rev. W. T. Brown, pastor of Knox church, in a special sermon to King Solomon lodge, No. 329, A. F. & M. S., Sunday night.

The church was filled by Masons and their friends. Several visitors from King Hiram lodge, Hagersville, and other lodges were present.

Mr. Brown's subject was "The Working Creed of a Mason."

"Ever since the dawn of religious life among men; away down the long ages, men have been asking themselves the same question that Micah asked himself; 'What doth the Lord require of thee, O man,' and asking that question they have attempted to answer it in various ways.

For some men the requirements of God were entirely ritual in their nature. To them what God was concerned with was that a man should bring the proper sacrifices to the temple, and pay the right dues; some again conceived of God as negative in His requirements — if a man desired to satisfy God all that he needed to do was to abstain from certain forbidden things and God would be satisfied, if one failed to commit these things then the law was fulfilled. But there were others not a very large number perhaps, but still some who had a larger vision of life, and its responsibilities, who conceived of God, not as contentedly imposing negative demands, not as incessantly thundering out 'thou shalt not do this; thou shalt not do that'; but as a God who demanded from man something positive, something that would be of service to others as well as to themselves, something that would bring them into the right relationship with their fellows as well as their God.

"Now if there is anything that sums up more concisely the working creed of a Mason I have not to find it. And if there is anything that is applicable to all men, as well, and so for

VETERANS PARADE AND MEMORIAL SERVICE

The Great War Veterans of Jarvis and district have planned a Church parade and Memorial service in Jarvis on Sunday July 1.

They purpose assembling at the Arena park at 1:30 p.m. and, headed by the band of the First Norfolk Rifles, marching from there to Knox Presbyterian Church, where Divine Service will be conducted by the Rev. W. T. Brown (late C. E. F.) at 3 p.m.

In the evening there will be a Sacred Band Concert, in the Park, beginning at 7 p.m. Arrangements are being made to the out of town Veterans, and fuller particulars will be announced later on the subject. Every Member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who can attend is asked to do so.

FIRST STEP TAKEN TO GET POWER FOR VILLAGE; HYDRO MAN CONFERS WITH COUNCIL

The first step to procure Hydro for Jarvis was taken Thursday when F. J. Rothwell, representing the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, conferred with the village council.

Nothing definite could be done but Mr. Rothwell obtained figures so that he could figure the cost here. The estimates will be ready in about two weeks and then a by-law will be prepared and submitted to the people. It is expected a special election will be held about August 1, when the question will be decided by the people.

The cost of the transmission line will be paid by the Hydro commission. The village will have to pay the cost of the transformer poles and wiring as well as the street lights within the village. The plan is to issue debentures for the amount which is expected to be about $12,000 but that plan will be required so that amount will be required to pay the cost of the line and the cost of the transformer poles and wiring. The village will buy the power for the street lights and the power users. The amount will be returned back from the power users.

DRURY'S RECORD IS SCORED HERE

Miss Constance Boulton, of Toronto, reviewed the record of the Drury government and of the previous Conservative government at a meeting here Monday night in the interests of Dr. R. N. Berry, Conservative candidate in Haldimand.

Referring to temperance she said that Sir James Whitney came into power in 1905 and during his term of office the Conservatives adopted 36 progressive measures on temperance, educating the people gradually to accept prohibition, realizing it was better to lead the people than to force them. Those measures culminated in the O. T. A. under Hearst who promised that a referendum would be submitted as soon as the war ended and the boys returned home. He kept his promise and the result was one of the worst political injustices in history. They turned out the man because he had passed the measure they voted for. Three Liberal administrations have submitted a similar measure and it was carried each time before the women had a

The Corner Stone of Knox Church, Jarvis was laid at noon June 16, 1886, with Rev. John Wells as pastor.

In the evening the most successful garden party ever given on the church lawn was held. The proceeds amounting to over two hundred dollars. This evening event was continued Rev. Mr. MacLennan but the last one was in 1908 when Rev. Mr. Buchanan was the minister. Since that time other methods have been used to raise the necessary funds for the work of the Ladies Aid Society.

This year on Thursday evening June 28, the old custom will be revived and the congregation are endeavoring to make it as great a success as the one of 1886.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Biggar and little daughter, Margaret, Master Roy and Misses Velda and Ora Leeming, of Mount Hope and Miss Grace Walter of Toronto spent over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walter.

Daring Jarvis Eagle Hunter

Richard Nelles, Jarvis sportsman, crack shot and adventurous spirit, experienced one of the most dangerous episodes of his life this week while wandering in the woods when in the vicinity of Lamb's Corners he spied an eagle's nest on a tall pine.

With his customary presence of mind he immediately rushed home and procured a shot gun and rifle and returned to do battle with the fierce bird of prey. While approaching cautiously, alert and ready to do and dare he was sighted by the eagle which swooped down on him, its eight foot wings outspread and its talons extended and flesh rending beak open and showing every sign of being anxious to depart with a portion of Dick's anatomy. The Jarvis dare devil dropped on one knee, not a nerve quivering and took careful aim. Every movement was deliberate

LENG-SMITH

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, of Walpole township, when their daughter, Emily Marion, became the bride of George David Leng, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Leng, of Walpole township.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Brown, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, Jarvis.

The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a gown of white tulle and Radium lace. Her Tulle Veil was caught with a wreath of Orange Blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of butterfly rose, the gift of the groom.

Miss Len James, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of mauve silk. She carried a bouquet of mauve lilies.

Little Miss Dorothy Miller attended the bride as flower girl and wore a pretty dress of white organdie and carried a basket of mauve columbine and fern. Alex Leng, of Hamilton, brother of the groom, supported the groom and the wedding march was played by Miss Annie Miller.

Following the ceremony, a bountiful wedding dinner was served to about fifty guests on the lawn in front of the house, where speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Brown, the groom, and the bride's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Leng motored to Caledonia to take the train for Stratford and other points on their honeymoon, the bride wearing a traveling suit of navy blue pique twill with sand blouse and navy hat.
