What Does It Mean

Ontario has spoken.

And she has spoken in no uncertain tones. She has told the Drury government that it has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. She has told Hon. Howard Ferguson and his followers to govern the banner province of th Dominion.

The vote was decisive. It seemed more of a vote of demand for a Conservative administration rather than wholly a rebuke of Druryism. Had it been otherwise the Liberals would have shared in the spoils to a much greater extent. But they too lost seats and lost their leader and several of his lieutenants. Wellington Hay, the party leader, was told to remain at home. So was Hartley Dewart, a former leader, and Major Tolmie, an aspirant to the leadership at the time it was obtained by Mr. Hay. If the vote is wholly one of rebukerebuke, it means that the people resented the possibility of a U. F. O.-Liberal coalition or resented the passive assistance given the U. F. O. by the Liberals.

The vote does signify that the people are not held so firmly by party affiliations. They are thinking for themselves. They are looking at the individual candidate and the leader. They are voting as they would hire a man in their private business. They can forget party. They can forget how their fathers voted. They can vote for Ontario.

It is difficult to say what the vote means when considered in connection with the O. T. A.

According to Premier Drury's plea that the law was an issue, it means a strong demand for a change if not a repeal of the act. Accordi[ng] premier-elect, the O. [T. A.] to have any weight when [viewed] from that stand point. To those people who took Drury's statement to be the fact, a strong demand for a change has been expressed. In that way Drury, the friend of temperance has been placed in the peculiar position of having provided the vehicle for the expression of a demand to modify or repeal the law.

It remains to be seen whether or not the next premier will consider the vote as a demand. He has promised to leave the O. T. A. alone until there is a strong public demand for a change but what he means by such a demand has never been explained. A petition signed by a large per centage of the electors may be required but if the law was an issue, as Drury contended, the mandate has been given already. It is not likely, however that the next premier will consider it so.

MISSIONARY AUXILIARY

The women of Chalmer's Presbyterian church, Walpole, had an in- they entertained the members of the Women's Missionary society of Knox church, Jarvis.

The visitors supplied the entire program, under the leadership of Mrs. Albert Meighan.

The Walpole women decided to organise an auxiliary and elected the following officers: Honorary president, Mrs. Robert Laidlaw; president, Mrs. Sanford Fleming; first vice president, Mrs. Leslie Keen; second vice president, Mrs. W. T. Brown; recording secretary, Miss Dora Laidlaw; corresponding secretary, Miss Jessie Long; treasurer, Mrs. Amos Porter; organist, Mrs. Cadwell Easton.

VARENCY INSTITUTE

The June meeting of the Varency Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Miller.

The meeting was opened by singing the opening ode followed by repeating the Lord's Prayer. Following the business meeting, a program of community singing was enjoyed. A paper by Mrs. D. C. Parkinson, was much appreciated. Music was furnished by Miss Helen Miller. Roll call was responded to by answers to "How to Improve Our Institute."

Mrs. Buck offered her home for the July meeting. The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem, after which lunch was served.

FERGUSON IS VICTOR

Premier Drury Goes Down to Complete Defeat.

Conservative Party Swept Ontario From End to End and the New Prime Minister Will Have a Large Majority Over the Combined Liberal, U. F. O., and Labor Forces.

TORONTO, June 26th. — Once more the Conservatives have triumphed in the Province of Ontario, and the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the new Premier, will enter office with a clear working majority over all the other groups in the Legislature. Premier Drury was swept from office by an avalanche which overwhelmed five of his Cabinet Ministers, and he was permitted to remain in private life himself after his strenuous four years of power. Shortly after the close of the polls an electrical storm and hurricane visited Ontario, and as though symbolic of the fate of the Farmer Government, it played havoc with the telegraph and telephone communications everywhere. In consequence, it has been unusually difficult to secure returns of the more remote constituencies, but the standing of the parties in the next Legislature is conceded to be about as follows:—

Conservatives	77
Liberals	15
United Farmers	10
Others	4

The Liberal front bench shared in the general upheaval and the party returns with a smaller following than in the last House. Wellington Hay, the Liberal Leader, was beaten in North Perth by Dr. Monteith, and a Liberal majority of 1,600 in 1919 was turned into a minority of 600.

The Ministers who are definitely announced returned to the Legislature were Hon. W. E. Raney, Hon. F. C. Biggs, Hon. Manning Doherty, and Hon. Beniah Bowman. In the general rout of the Drury[illegible], the following were the most outstanding men to be bowled over by the ballots:

Hon. E. C. Drury, the Premier, suffered defeat in the constituency of Halton, in which he essayed to run again. Incomplete returns, report George Hillmer, Conservative, leading in Halton by 700.

Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer, was rejected by the electors of South Perth by a majority of 300 in a two-candidate battle with the Conservative standard-bearer.

Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, experienced a smashing defeat in his home riding of Carleton, the majority against him being 2,329 in a straight fight with a Conservative opponent.

Hon. D. Carmichael, Minister without portfolio and Government representative on the Hydro-Electric Commission, was removed from office by his constituents in Centre Grey by a majority of 50.

Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labor, lost the traditionally Labor seat of East Hamilton, a riding which had steadfastly returned a Labor representative since the days of the late Allan Studholme.

Hon. Harry Mills, Minister of Mines, sustained a severe reverse in Fort William, where he was defeated by 782, and went down with other ministerial colleagues.

Toronto has returned to the Tory fold. In the 1919 contest only four Conservatives were elected with five Liberals and one soldier candidate completing the quota of ten seats. John O'Neill, Liberal member for Seat "A" Northeast Toronto died during his term of office and his seat was captured by Col. John A. Currie for the Conservatives, leaving four Liberals from Toronto when the House prorogued. The Conservatives made a complete sweep of the city with majorities running from 4,000 to 14,000. The greatest surprise was the overwhelming defeat of Hartley H. Dewart, former leader of the Liberal party in Southwest Toronto, Seat "A". In the election of 1919, he polled 16,555 votes, but on Monday only 3,211 people marked their ballots for him, turning a majority of 7,185 to a minority of 4,756.

The women candidates fared badly. Four of them ran for the Legislature, two in Toronto and two in other constituencies. All of them went down to defeat.
