ed away on Feb. 25th, 1923, one of the oldest and most, highly-respected residents of Nanticoke, in his 78th year. The deceased was born on the old homestead near Nanticoke, when virgin woodland was secured from the Crown by this father, Michael Wedrick. Except for one year spent in Illinois, he resided continuously there. On Sept. 25th 1877, he married Sarah Ann DeCew, daughter of the late Edmund De-Cew, of DeCewville. Besides his widow, he leaves his two daughters, Mrs. Frank Fleming, and Mrs.
Roger Dennis, and two sons, Chester and Clarence to mourn his loss.

The Nanticoke Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Bert Butcher on Thursday Mar. 8th. The meeting was opened in the usual way. After which the minutes were confirmed. A duet was then given by the Misses Thompson; Mrs. Butcher then favoured the Institute by a solo. A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. N. R. Evans on "Education in other countries compared with our own System." Miss Jean Oakes, in her usually pleasing manner contributed a solo, "Friend of Mine." A very interesting feature was the Display of Spring House Dresses made by the members. A dainty luncheon was then served by the hostess. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marr.

Balance, profit to factory $1398.91

The patrons were very much pleased with the treatment they had received.
They considered that Mr. Armstrong had paid them better prices than could be secured elsewhere, tests had been entirely satisfactory, and Mr. Armstrong was assured the heavy support and co-operation of his large number of patrons, for the coming season.

Mr. J. J. Hoover, in a short address, impressed on the large gathering the importance of care and cleanliness in the handling of cream so that the quality of the butter would be of the best.

Mr. S. Colver kept the audience in excellent humor by his witty remarks.
He brought out many good points in the care and attention due a dairy herd.

Mr. R. Daicy and Mr. R. A. Schwyer stated that they had checked the tests made at the factory and were thoroughly convinced that they had received everything that was coming to them. Mr.
Schwyer had made comparisons of prices and found that Mr. Armstrong averaged from 2c to 3c higher than that of other creameries. This feature alone should convince all cream producers that it was to their interests to patronize the Selkirk Creamery.

Mr. Walter Waterbury and Mr. J. C.
Hoover brought up some interesting points.

Mr. R. E. Miller suggested that it would be advantageous to all dairymen to select their stock, secure cows with good test and heavy udders. It would be better to have one good producer than two or three poor ones. Mr. Miller thought that Mr. Armstrong must be pretty smooth and sleek as there were no flies on him, perhaps when they night they slip off and break their necks.

The address of Mr. Clarke, government inspector, was greatly enjoyed by those present at the meeting. Mr. Clarke is connected with the better grading station and his remarks showed that he thoroughly knew his business.

Mr. Clarke reported that out of 11,287 samples of butter graded, only 102 samples graded special, 7533 graded 1, 2410 graded 2 and 109 graded off-grade.

Mr. Clarke very strongly urged everyone to make "linealness" their watchword in the handling of cream, not only with the utensils, but in the stables.
Milk should never be allowed to stand in a room where there were bad odors, as much of the off flavor of butter was caused by taints from bad odors or putrid matter entering the milk. If No. 1 cream is not used you cannot expect to have No. 1 butter.

Cream should be cooled to below fifty degrees before mixing in the storage can.
Keep cream cooled until it is delivered to the factory.

From the present outlook Mr. Clarke thought the grading of butter would be recognized by all the commission houses, so that if you desire the top prices see that you do your part to assure the production of No. 1 butter.

Mr. Armstrong, thanked the patrons for their generous support during the past year and assured the people that he would continue to give them the best services possible, and hoped to increase the output of the factory. The quality of the butter would be at all if the patrons would live up to the instructions given by Mr. Clarke.

ASSASSINS ARE BUSY

Two French Officials Murdered by the Germans.

First Manifestation of Organized Plan to Adopt More Bitter Methods of Resistance in the Rhineland—Invaders Are Indignant and Premier Poincare Will Take Futuristic Steps to Avenge Crime.

DUSSELDORF, March 12.—Assassination has been added to the German methods of resistance in the Rhineland. Saturday evening at about 9:30 o'clock on a country road near the town of Buer a French patrol found the bodies of a second lieutenant of infantry, Lieut. Collet of the Justice Guard, and a mailman, M.
Jolly, who was filling the post of stationmaster at Buer. Both had been shot dead with a revolver. The two bodies were some twenty paces apart, each had one bullet hole in the back. The men had been shot by an expert hand, probably some former member of the disbanded Green police force.

On Sunday War Minister Maginot pinned the Cross of the Legion of Honor on the tunic of one. Later M. Maginot expressed his feelings before the assembled officers of three battalions here.

These Frenchmen were assassinated in a cowardly manner. They were shot in the back in true German fashion," he said. "We are the stronger here, but we never abused our power. In this attitude toward the population our soldiers are impugned by sentiments of humanity, but such a crime cannot remain unpunished, and it is only right that it should carry with it terrible sanctions."

Though such attacks have always been considered inevitable, as incidental to the occupation, this is the first of the kind which has proved fatal. On the few occasions on which French soldiers and officials have been shot at, it was always from a distance and, except in the case of one sentinel, however, without further organization of nationalist bands and a comparative failure of pacific resistance, the probability of assassination was increased. Such was the case in Upper Silesia. As long as the
