FORMER JARVIS GIRL IS DECORATED BY KING

Miss Caris Mills Honored as Result of Relief Work in Constantinople

Miss Caris E. Mills, who was born in Jarvis and lived here a number of years with her parents, the late C. Mills and Mrs. Mills, has been decorated by the King of Greece and made a Chevalier of the Order of the Saviour, a decoration given diplomats and ministers, for her work in Constantinople, Turkey, as director of the League of Nations during the recent Turkish-Greek disaster.

Miss Mills' father formerly owned the Jarvis drug store and left here with his family when he sold the store to Dr. W. Jaques. She has a brother, James Mills, of Toledo. Her mother is engaged with her in relief work in Constantinople.

The League of Nations House in Constantinople acts as a clearing station for foreigners deprived of the protection of their own governments. In the beginning, the Russian Refugees constituted the majority of the persons assisted. An effort was made by the house to locate relatives of refugees.

Miss Mills writes that with the defeat of General Wrangel by the Bolsheviks, the last remnants of the old Russian aristocracy, statesmen and nobility with their followers escaped to Constantinople, practically destitute and with no supplies. The house assisted hundreds of these refugees to temporary subsistence and later to relocate themselves with relatives or friends in Europe or in America. These refugees represented largely the intellectual, educated and professional classes of Russia. They suffered untold hardship. The doctors, lawyers and professional men more easily relocated themselves, many of them going to the United States. The high officials of the army suffered keenly since they had no profession with which to assist themselves. Many of them did the menial work. The house assisted them to relocate and now the situation has become fairly cleared as to Russia.

Much work is now being done for the Greeks since their defeat by Turkey. In their mad rush to leave the country Greek families became separated. Children were lost and property was abandoned. Through the efforts of the house many families were reunited and orphaned children were sheltered.

The League of Nations house attempts to be absolutely neutral and endeavors to assist all nationalities equally.

Miss Mills intends to continue in this work. She has been recommended to the position as a commissioner of the League of Nations house. In this position Miss Mills will be the only woman citizen of the United States to hold such a position.

BEAUTIFUL PHONOGRAPH TO BE GIVEN AWAY, FREE

Some person in Jarvis or vicinity is going to get a beautiful console model McLagan phonograph and it will cost them nothing.

The Jarvis Record is going to give it away in a big circulation contest that will cover the whole district. It is one of the best models that could be found after examining various styles of the various kinds. It is a machine that is bound to be much sought for and will fill a nook in any home.

The number of subscriptions obtained for The Record will be the deciding factor in winning the McLagan phonograph. Both renewals and new subscriptions will count, but new subscriptions will count more. The value can be seen by referring to the advertised announcement in this week's issue.

Any person who is not connected with The Record, financially or otherwise, may be a candidate. Candidates may be nominated by their friends or they may nominate themselves. Each one is given credit for 1,000 votes when they are nominated. From that time on votes will be given according to the number of subscriptions obtained except that a coupon will be published each week during the contest and it will have a value of 25 votes when properly filled out and returned to The Record.

It is important that nominations be made as early as possible because the candidate can begin work as soon as nominated and it is the earlier weeks in the campaign that votes may be more easily obtained. All that is necessary to become a candidate is to fill out the nomination blank in this week's issue and mail it or bring it to The Record. Any person may enter their friends by filling it out as indicated and returning it. Those who are in early have the advantage.

BANDIT VICTIM BORN NEAR HERE

Nephew of Mrs. Sarah Sharp Is Slain on Lonely Road Near Hamilton

Homer Lindsay, 39 years old, a nephew of Mrs. Sarah Hewson, of Jarvis, and a cousin of Mrs. J. S. Bur-Sharp and of Alvin Marr, was murdered by a highway bandit in Hamilton Wednesday night.

He died in the Hamilton hospital Thursday morning. He was married and lived on Emerald street. He was shot through the abdomen.

The shot penetrated several organs of the body and at 10 o'clock it was stated that he could survive but a short time longer. Police are combing the district south of the mountain, where Lindsay was shot.

Blood flowing from the wound, the injured man, in a dazed condition, drove his car along the mountain road a distance of nearly three miles and was forced to stop just outside a refreshment store. His moans and cries attracted Frank Shuttler, who rushed him to the hospital, where he told the story.

Lindsay said he had been out alone driving during the night. He was a salesman for an automobile agency here and had made several calls.

ASKS FOR RIDE

On his way home he drove up the Stoney Creek mountain and when he reached the top of the hill a foreigner asked for a ride. He consented and the man jumped in. When nearly three miles from the Mount Hospital the passenger made a grab for his watch and pulled it off the chain. Lindsay was asked to "hand over his money." He said that he had no money and a scuffle started. The driver stated to the police that he was thrown bodily from the car and the bandit stood some feet from him and fired a shot. He cried for help, but the shooting occurred in a deserted spot. Half conscious, he remained on the roadside for some minutes and finally climbed back into the car, which was standing with the engine running. Lindsay had strength enough to operate the machine and he drove it nearly three miles before getting help. He lost consciousness before the hospital was reached.

At the hospital Lindsay revived slightly, but to detectives he said his assailant was 40 years of age, a foreigner, about five feet six inches tall, medium build and wearing a black shirt, dark suit and cap pulled down over his face. He had no collar or tie. Lindsay's clothes were torn and covered with dirt resulting from the scuffle on the roadside. One pocket was turned inside out.

Mr. Lindsay was born on a farm about four miles northeast of Jarvis and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lindsay. His mother died only about a year ago. For a time after Mr. Lindsay was married he farmed near Garnet, but about 12 years ago moved to Brantford. He went from there to Hamilton a year or two ago.

Mr. Lindsay married Miss Erie Forsythe, whose home was near Hagersville. Mrs. William Mattice, of Sandusk, is Mrs. Lindsay's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Mattice went to Hamilton Thursday morning.

NOTICE

Having secured the services of an expert electrician I will be in a position to handle all lines of electrical wiring at a minimum. We will be pleased to consult with all those desiring to secure estimates or information regarding their needs and will guarantee the same efficient service as has been given our patrons in the past.

W. A. Owen.

SUFFICIENT CONTRACTS FOR HYDRO ARE SIGNED

COMMENCEMENT IS PLANNED HERE

Commencement exercises of the Jarvis continuation school will be held in the Jarvis Music hall on Friday, October 26.

Shakespeare's play, "The Merchant of Venice," will be presented by the pupils. The program will also include a wand drill, songs and readings. Miss Bessie Allen will give the valedictory address and entrance and lower school certificates will be presented by the reeve, George L. Miller. Choruses will be sung by pupils of the lower school. There are about 33 in the class.

An admission of 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children will be charged.

WILLIAM WARD HURT BY FALL

William Ward, who lives south of the village, fell from a tree Monday afternoon and dislocated his left shoulder while picking apples on the farm of his son-in-law, Thomas Snowden, near Nanticoke.

A limb of the tree broke, causing the accident.

Mr. Ward was attended by Dr. William Jaques, of Jarvis.

ERIE

The members of the Orange Lodge have recently made considerable improvements by shingling the hall and grading the driveway around it.

The provincial highway is also being improved by tiling the deep ditch in front of the cemetery.

Miss Laura Christie, of Garnet, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laidlaw.

The Chalmers W. M. S. meets on Friday of this week to quilt at the home of Mrs. Leslie Keen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and son, Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sangster, of Listowel, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Murray Biggar.

Chalmers W. M. S. has been cordially invited by Knox W. M. S. to meet with them on Wednesday afternoon, October 31st, at 2:30 p.m., to hear Mrs. Locheed, the president of the Hamilton Presbyterian.

NANTICOKE W. I.

The Nanticoke Women's Institute met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oakes.

The meeting was opened in the usual way. The Institute decided to send $5 to the Navy League also to send a bale of fruit to be packed the following Monday, for the Sick Children's Hospital. Mrs. Marr was appointed delegate for the Convention in Toronto. The Institute also decided to hold an afternoon Apron Tea along with the usual program at the home of Mrs. Ira Evans at the November meeting.

A splendid paper was given by Miss Jean Oakes on "Prominent Canadian Women." Mrs. W. H. Evans kindly favored the Institute with an instrumental selection. A paper was read by Miss Mabel Thompson, on "Why Canadians Should Love the Name of Laura Secord." A duet was also given by Miss Mabel Thompson and Mrs. F. Rolston.

After a dainty luncheon, served by the hostess, the meeting was dispersed.

NANTICOKE

On Friday last a successful Pumpkin Pie Social was held in the Town Hall under the auspices of the W. A. of Christ church, Nanticoke. After a bounteous supper, Rev. E. F. Maunsell gave an interesting lecture on "Astronomy." Old fashioned songs were indulged in by all. The proceeds amounted to $30.

Mrs. F. Rolston, of Detroit, is visiting old acquaintances in this neighborhood.

Work of Installing Plant in Village Will Be Started Within Week

The 75 contracts required by the Hydro Electric Commission of Ontario before work of installing a plant here and of bringing the power from Hagersville, have been obtained.

The commission has been notified the contracts are signed, and according to its promise, the material should now be on the way and the power can be turned on by the middle of December. It will come as somewhat of a Christmas present for the village.

The campaign to get the contracts was so short that all householders in the village could not be seen. They may sign contracts by applying to Reeve Miller or Clerk Rodgers, however.

The village is anxious to have more contracts before the power is actually brought to the village. Persons living in the vicinity of the village can obtain electricity on a special rural rating providing there are three contracts for each such line signed. It is expected that one line will be run west to at least the county line and another east as well as others north and south. In that way farms in the vicinity of the village may all have electricity for light and power.

The surveying for the line and the plant here is expected to be done within a week and by that time the material for the plant and for the line from Hagersville should be on the ground so that the actual work may be started without delay.

A number of contracts for wiring buildings have already been made. Several electricians are seeking those contracts and report considerable success. Many want work done so they can take advantage of the current as soon as it is turned on.

Plans in connection with the official turning on of the power have already been mentioned and it is expected that Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the provincial commission, will be asked to press the button that will flood the village with electric light.

COMMUNITY CLUB HOLDS FAREWELL

The first meeting of the Erie Community Club was held in the Orange Hall on Tuesday evening, October 8.

The whole community turned out to spend a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. William Leng and family before they left for their new home in Port Dover. A short program was given, consisting of recitations, songs and addresses. A short address was read to Mr. and Mrs. Leng expressing a feeling of regret at losing their association from this community. It was also pointed out that it is very easy to make new friends, but harder to forget the old ones.

When the meeting closed, the secretary had the names of 39 charter members.

The club fee is 25c per member.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 13, in the Chalmers church. The program, which is not yet completed, will include a special speaker on some interesting subject. Officers of the club hope and expect the community to turn out and take advantage of the opportunities promised in the development of this new community club.
