MINERS OUT ON STRIKE

Both Sides Reject Governor's Demands.

Miners Willing to Resume Joint Negotiations With Operators Without a Third Party Present if the Operators Consent to 10 Per Cent Increase.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 3.—Governor Pinchot met representatives of the anthracite miners and operators Friday, demanded that they accept his four suggestions for peace unconditionally, and then enter into joint negotiations to draw up a new contract. The demand was met with a flat refusal by both sides. The miners were willing to resume joint negotiations directly with the operators and without a third party present if the operators assented to a 10 per cent wage increase for contract miners as a condition precedent to the resumption of joint negotiations. The operators refused, on the ground that they did not want to enter a conference bound in any way. No agreement being possible to-day, the disputants left the Governor, promising to return at 10 o'clock this morning.

No attempt was made by the Governor to get the miners to recall the suspension order, technically effective at midnight Friday on the expiration of the contract between the 158,000 anthracite mine workers and their employers. The strike actually began at 3.30 Friday afternoon, when 90 per cent of the miners, who are day workers, downed tools, hung up their shafts in the lockers and left the shafts. The remaining men, on a later shift, were scheduled to leave the pits at midnight.

The situation is so uncertain that no prediction can be made as to how long the suspension will continue. The full Scale Committee of miners, who adopted the reply handed to the Governor Friday, left for their home at night. The members of the committee can be called upon to meet again on 12 hours' notice. They will be called together only if the sub-scale committee, consisting of the District Presidents, decide to submit to them for consideration a plan to enter negotiations with the operators. Neither side would make any statement as to what happened Friday behind the locked doors of the executive's office. But, despite the unusual attempts at secrecy and the placing of a state trooper before the Governor's reception-room, it was learned that the miners and operators met jointly for some minutes, when they rejected unconditionally the Governor's demand that they accept his four suggestions.

A summary of the replies handed to the Governor Friday by miners and operators indicates that the disputants are as far apart as ever, the check-off and collective bargaining being the issues. Eight demands of the miners have not yet been discussed.

Coalidge Looking for Settlement. WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Coolidge and Chairman John Hays Hammond, of the United States Coal Commission are not disturbed over the failure so far of Governor Pinchot to put across his anthracite settlement plan. They are still confident of a capitulation, and their confidence would not be shaken even if a strike runs along a week or more.

EXPLORERS PERISH.

All of Crawford Party, Except One, Are Dead.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 3.—An expedition which left here August 3 to relieve a party led by Allan Crawford, which went to Wrangell Island in 1921, returned to Nome Thursday with the news that all of the Crawford party, except one, were dead. The one person left alive from the Crawford expedition was an Eskimo woman.

Harold Niles, leader of the relief expedition, reports that he found little ice and had no trouble in reaching the island in the power schooner, Donaldson. The brief telegraphic bulletins record another grim tragedy in the history of exploration — strangely similar to the tidings which came from the icy fastness of the Antarctic but a few years ago, recording the fate of the heroic Capt. Scott and his fellow-adventurers. Canadians will wait wonderingly to learn whether Crawford, like Scott, has left some message to tell of the last days and nights when he realized that "the end is now very near."

Additional Service to Pacific Ports. LONDON, Sept. 3.—Direct connection between Manchester and the Canadian Pacific coast ports will probably be formed shortly. The Manchester line is understood to be considering a service to Vancouver in addition to their present service to eastern ports.

C. A. Harrison, manager of Manchester Consignments, Limited, is en route to Vancouver to open up direct trade with Manchester. He will, among other things, offer to make advances against first-class produce supplementary help offered by banks and to arrange its disposal.

Submerged by Violent Storm. COPENHAGEN, Sept. 3.—A small tourist steamer, the Freya, with two hundred passengers on board, broke her moorings, near Helsingør, in a hurricane the most violent in forty years which swept Danish Schleswig Thursday, and no news of her fate has been received.

The whole island of Mann, about four miles from the coast, is under water in consequence of the storm. Fifty fishing boats have not yet returned to their base. Dunes were burst everywhere, houses and animals being swept away.

Grant to Salvation Army. OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—A grant of $25,000 to the Salvation Army in aid of its Canadian emigration work in Great Britain has been authorized by order-in-Council. A similar grant of $25,000 was made last year. The increased grant this year is in recognition of the further work of the Army, especially in connection with the Empire Settlement Scheme, for which the Army is also receiving assistance from the British Government. During the past few years the Salvation Army has brought to Canada thousands of immigrants, especially young women who take up domestic service in Canada and war widows with children to whom special attention is given after their arrival in Canada in order that they may secure suitable employment. The grant is given to the Salvation Army authorities to be expended at their own discretion, the Government being convinced from experience that the country received full benefit for the amount given.
