ANNIVERSARY IN STONE CHURCH

A Former Walpole Teacher Preaches at Both Services Congregations Large.

The anniversary services of Chalmers (Stone) church, Walpole were held Sunday with service in the morning and evening.

The church was well filled by many of the older members of the congregation coming from long distances to take part once more in the services of worship in the church of their early days.

The special sermons were preached by Rev. B. H. Christie, of Brantford, which added an additional interest because he taught school, a number of years ago, in the school section surrounding the Stone church.

In the morning Mr. Christie's subject was "The Church and its Power in the Community." Basing his remarks on Psalms 122, 6, the preacher noted the wonderful way in which the ancient Hebrews revered and loved the Temple; throughout the Psalms there was to be found a deep longing and yearning after the courts of the Sanctuary. That same longing and yearning after God's house was also characteristic of the generations of our forefathers who gave the Church of God its rightful place in their hearts and lives. Unfortunately in these days there was a tendency to drift from the old ideals, and to speak of the church as useless, and out of date. One of the great needs of the present day was to recapture the reverence our fathers had for God's house and for God's worship. "Why," asked the speaker, "did the Psalmists delight in God's house?" It was because they met with God there, because there they saw him face to face. They loved the temple because in its courts they were lifted out of the atmosphere of the material and translated into the atmosphere of the spiritual; and they loved it and they revered it, because it was here that they heard the oracles of God declared unto them. For the same reasons we too should love the services of the sanctuary.

In concluding, the preacher made an impassioned appeal for churches from whose pulpits the ministers, uninfluenced by fear or favor, would boldly set forth the eternal laws of righteousness.

At the evening service, Mr. Christie spoke on "Seeing God." Basing his remarks on Matthew 5:8, he said that God was revealing Himself all the time to the heart prepared to see Him; He revealed Himself in people's own personal experiences of His saving power. The beauty of nature showed Him to the people if they had eyes to see Him. Even the adverse things of life served as instruments to reveal Him to those who loved and trusted Him, and finally He will be revealed fully in the life to come.

The Misses Hare contributed several delightful solos and duets at both services.

In the congregation was a large number of people from Jarvis, Garnet, and Hagersville, many of them old friends and former pupils of Mr. Christie.

PORRITT-THOMPSON

Those twin Gods of marriage, Cupid and Hymen, conspired successfully to make the wedding of Miss Eva Thompson and Ernest Porritt at Nanticoke last Wednesday, the most romantic, stylish and prettiest held in this district in many lovers' moons.

It was a real romance because the groom, now resident in Toronto, and the bride went to school together in the old red school house in the days when Miss Effie Wedrick, now Mrs. Wesley Hodge, and Miss Margaret Kenny were the teachers. And although it was one of the most fashionable weddings held in Nanticoke, it was at the same time one of the most largely and widely attended. That is because the bride has always been a popular girl which was amply attested by the shower of gifts she received at a surprise party before her marriage; by the many and valuable wedding gifts she received after her marriage and by the number who attended the ceremony and who wished her and her husband, likewise well-known and well-liked around Nanticoke, "God speed," after the ceremony.

The hymeneal knot was tied early in the afternoon at Christ church by the rector, Rev. E. F. Maunsell. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, S. A. Thompson, widely known as veteran clerk of the township, who gave her away, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. Maunsell, the organist. She looked every inch a bride, her natural charm being enhanced by a beautiful costume of satin crepe with Georgette panels with a bridal veil of Brussels's net caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Lily of the Valley and Ophelia roses.

The groom was supported by his cousin, Wilfred Evans, and the bride's maid was the bride's sister, Miss Mabel E. Thompson, who looked pretty in a becoming dress of salmon georgette with black silk gloves and a chic black picture hat and a corsage of Sunburst roses that made her look one of the smartest dressed guests present.

The ushers were: Harry Pratten, nephew of the bride, Kenneth Saunders, her cousin.

After the ceremony the bridal party evaded the big crowd of rice throwers and old-shoe-casters by hurrying out the front door instead of going into the vestry to sign the register, as is the custom. They left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The church was converted into a veritable bower of beauty with green arches from which hung white wedding bells, and asters, gladioli, geraniums and fern, artistically arranged. It was a fitting setting for such a wedding.

Following the actual nuptials the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride. There the new Mrs. Porritt's mother, Mrs. Thompson, becomingly gowned in black silk, trimmed with Brussels's net, a trim black hat, and carrying a corsage bouquet of pink roses, welcomed them.

After the wedding breakfast at which there were guests from Hamilton, Port Dover and Ann Arbor, Mich., the bridal couple motored to Jarvis and caught the C. N. R. train for a honeymoon tour of the Eastern provinces, including such points as Quebec city, Fredericton and Halifax.

The bride's travelling costume was a Swedene suit and an effective hat of pearl grey which she became quite as well as it became her. After the bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Porritt will reside at 14 Seaforth avenue, Toronto.

Among the numerous and beautiful presents were the groom's gift to the bride of a pearl necklace; his gift to the bridesmaid of a crescent of pearls; to the groomsmen he gave a pair of cuff links and to the organist a pearl brooch.

After the ceremonials, the many friends and acquaintances of the bridal couple celebrated the event by putting thistles on the cushions of their auto, by tying intimate articles of the bride's trousseau into knots and by arranging a trick rice and confetti shower in their bridal car. Some even followed to the depot in Jarvis to shower the couple with rice, confetti, advice and congratulations.

And it is rumored that when they return to Nanticoke — well, that's giving secrets away.

Charge Is Reduced From Manslaughter; One Man Gets Lashes.

One case has already been disposed of at the fall assizes being held in Cayuga, Mr. Justice Lennox presiding.

Gordon Hannah, charged with an attempt to bribe O. T. A. officers was acquitted Wednesday morning. His case was the first of three to be tried. Constables Miller and Lawrence testified the accused had intimidated them that if he could get protection for the sale of liquor he intended buying the Mansion House at Cayuga and that he would pay them either weekly, monthly or in a lump sum, $500 being mentioned.

Great interest centers around the Hagersville youths who were charged with causing the death of Dr. J. Jacques of Fisherville, last spring. The charge was reduced from manslaughter Thursday and the youths pleaded guilty to removing the lantern. They will be sentenced October 20. The judge intimated that the sentence would depend on what restitution they will arrange to aid the widow.

A youth named Marich who was convicted of a serious offence was given 18 months in prison and 12 lashes.

HAMILTON CHOIR SINGS IN JARVIS

The special Harvest Home services held in St. Paul's church Sunday morning and evening and Monday evening were well attended.

Special music was rendered by the choir of the church at both services Sunday while the choir of St. Paul's church, Hamilton, had charge of the music Monday evening.

The sermon Monday evening was preached by Rev. J. F. Carson, rector of Grace church, Ven. Archdeacon Irving, rector of St. Paul's, was the preacher at both services Sunday.

Mr. Carson spoke on "The Feast of Harvest." He described the Harvest festival of the Jews. He explained that at their approach the whole nation arose in religious festival. Cottage and palace, hamlet and city all gave their quota and the people came, singing as they came. When they reached Jerusalem they worshipped God in hundreds of thousands.

"The Jews of old kept their religious festivals wonderfully," he said. "They celebrated with a spirit of gladness but that spirit is sadly lacking in our church today. I hope that we can all enter into the spirit of gladness when we acknowledge to God our gratitude, each and every one of us. In spite of our neglect and carelessness, he gives us rain and sunshine and a bountiful harvest.

"Let us not be found wanting in this spirit of gladness. Even the humblest has much to be thankful for."

EVANS-SWITZER

On Wednesday evening, at High Park Methodist church, which was artistically decorated with many asters, the marriage of Stella May, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Switzer, of Toronto, and Arthur Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Evans, of Nanticoke, took place.

Rev. W. H. Hincks officiated. The bride entered on the arm of her cousin, H. A. Dickie, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Claire Henley. She looked charming in a gown of cream blue canton crepe, with touches of grey georgette, and hat to match, and carried Columbia roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy I. Finlayson, in georgette, and black picture hat, carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The groom was supported by McDonald White.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Evans left for points north on their honeymoon, the bride's travelling costume being navy blue tulle, black velvet hat and the gift of the groom, an Isabella fox stole. Upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

Handle Cream for Butter Carefully.

Cream may be a little sour, but, if it is clean and free from foreign odors and tastes, it will make fancy butter in the hands of an expert buttermaker. Cream approaching rancidity and carrying with it particles of dirt, whiffs of undesirable odors, and a taste of the barnyard or cellar never loses its identity. The butter it enters into is that which drags on the market and sells at a low price. To argue that because certain neighbors are careless with their cream products a reason why no one needs to be careful is illogical. Produce and handle your cream in a careful, cleanly manner, deliver it frequently and then demand a price in keeping with the quality.

Fall plowing is best from the standpoint of saving time, as it leaves more time for spring work and usually means earlier seeding. Spring plowing is more expensive in the control of weeds, as, being turned under just before seeding, they have less chance to crowd the grain.

The best time to inspect a machine for its weak parts is when you are putting it away for the season. A few notes in a memorandum book set down at the time will help you to remember the new parts you should order next winter.

Rate To Consumers Given In Letter To Officials of Village.

Although the rate payers of Jarvis approved the installation of Hydro nearly a month ago the Ontario commission has taken no steps to begin the work so far as any person here knows.

The work was to have been started at once and the power was to have been turned on by the first of December, so the commission's engineer told the people at a mass meeting.

The commission has written and recommended a rate to the users of power and suggesting that 75 persons or firms sign to use it before it is installed.

The letter follows.

"Please be advised that the Commission at its meeting September 5, approved of the following re-sale rates to be used in your municipality:

Domestic, 3 cents, 6 cents, 2 cents, less 10 per cent. Minimum monthly bill $1.50.

Commercial, 12 cents, 6 cents, 6 cents less 10 per cent. Minimum monthly bill $1.50.

Power, $1.00, 5.2 cents, 3.5 cents, less 10 per cent.

"The commission has also instructed that a sufficient number of contracts will be necessary before construction work is started on the distribution system, to be signed by the various lighting and power users so that your system will be placed on a sound financial basis from the beginning. To do this, we consider that it will be necessary, in addition to your street lighting, to have 75 domestic and commercial consumers and that the various prospective power users be asked to sign contracts as well. We are therefore forwarding to you a supply of contracts which should be signed in duplicate with the various proposed lighting and power users. Please arrange to have someone undertake this work to have these people sign their contracts at once so that the work will not be held up."
