Early Apples

When apples as good in quality as the McIntosh, Fameuse and Northern Spy and as attractive in appearance can be obtained on the general markets in Canada there should be a great increase in their consumption. The people are keen for apples when the season opens in late July or early August, but the sour varieties then offered for sale, such as Yellow Transparent, Red Astrachan, Crimson Beauty and Duchesse, do not agreeably satisfy the palate nor tend to increase the demand for apples as a table fruit.

There is no good reason why we should not have early apples of as good quality as the later Spy and McIntosh. The old Early Harvest apple was better in quality than any of the mentioned early kinds, but it is not very hardy, scabs badly, and is little planted. But new varieties are being bred for the early market, and it is believed that in a few years such fine sorts as the Melba, a seedling of the McIntosh, originated in the Horticultural Division, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, of fine color and high dessert quality, ripening before Duchesse and the Early McIntosh, originated at the New York Experimental Station, Geneva, N.Y., and others will become very popular and in great demand. Trees of Melba will be available from nurserymen in the spring of 1925, and a considerable number of trees have been planted already in different parts of Canada.

Thrill of Crime

The public has been thoroughly regaled with all the particulars concerning the Leeb-Leopold murder case. Considering the heavy weight of opinion that has come from doctors and specialists, it seems little short of presumption for any layman to express an opinion. However, regarding the present mental state of the young murderers, there are some conclusions that can be drawn regarding the crime.

The case of the young men is much like that of an ordinary milk cow. Old Bossy starts up the lane toward the barn at milking time. Her course is orderly, respectable. She sees a good bunch of grass out of her path, she sniffs a thrill and grabs the grass. Beyond, still out of line, is another bit of grass still more tender, and juicy; she makes for it. She continues this course. Her appetite becomes dull, and it takes better grass that is more tender and sweet, to give the old cow a kick.

She follows her course and in a short while is away from the farm. She has disgraced herself and lost her respect by failing to appear at milking time. Her desire for grass is gone, and there is no morsel that will give her a thrill.

Such is the case of the Chicago boys. Their first step towards their present crime was not a violent one. No one believes that the boys were perverted from early youth. They started early on the path of destruction and kept traveling. It is the path that most all criminals have traveled. Few are the crimes committed that were not made possible by lesser crimes. The roads to revolting crimes or to high honor and service are traveled by degrees. The Chicago boys have reached the end of the road. Like old Bossy, they have wandered far away from the orderly course and have little desire to return.

Mistakes

We do not care to have subscribers to The Record bring in papers and point out mistakes. We know that we make them.

But if anyone finds any paper anywhere without a mistake, we want it. We will have it put on display at the National Exposition, Toronto, as the only one of its kind in existence.

SEND IN YOUR NEWS ITEMS

There are two big classes of readers for whom a local paper is published. Those in the home field and those farther away who may have lived here and are particularly interested in home happenings. Of necessity, many of the items published, are already known to those at the centre where the paper is published, but are really "news" to the far-away reader. At the same time the "home" reader has very little idea of the number of items published each week in which he is interested.

AM THEY A HELL?

The newly appointed pastor of a negro church faced a packed audience when he arose to deliver his sermon on the burning question, "Is There a Hell?"

"Brethren," he said, "de Lord made de world round like a ball. He made two axles for the world to go round on, and He put one axle at the north pole and one axle at the south pole.

"And the Lord put a lot of oil and grease in the center of the world so as to keep the axles well greased and oiled.

"And then a lot of sinners dig wells and steal the Lord's oil and grease. And some day all the Lord's oil and grease will be gone, and dem axles is gonna git hot. And den, dat will be hell, brethern, dat will be hell."

PAINTING AND DECORATING

Jackson's second floor is the busy spot these days for those in quest of wall papers, paints and everything for spring renovation. Quite aside from the fact that everyone understands this to be the leading store for these articles, is the fact that this year's showing of new draperies, wall paper patterns and window shades far eclipses anything shown in previous seasons and the prices—well, you'll have a surprise—and a pleasant one, too.

REMEMBER THIS

Whether it is wall paper, window shades, draperies, rugs or picture framing, you can do better at Jackson's. The entire second floor is devoted to these lines with competent men in charge, able to help you make wise selections to suit if you don't know just what you desire.
