"JUST AS I AM"

Just as I am—without one plea,
But that Thy Blood was shed for me,
And that Thou hid'st me come to Thee.

O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—and waiting not
To rid my soul of one dark blot,
To Thee, whose Blood can cleanse
each spot.

O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—though tossed about
With many a conflict, many a doubt,
Fighting and fears within, without—

O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—poor, wretched, blind;
Sight, riches, healing of the mind,
Yea, all I need, in Thee to find.

O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—Thou wilt receive,
Wilt welcome, pardon, cleanse, relieve.

Because Thy promise I believe,
O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—Thy love unknown
Has broken every barrier down.

Now, to be Thine, yea, Thine alone,
O Lamb of God, I come
Just as I am—of that free love
The breadth, length, depth, and height to prove.

Here for a reason, then above,
O Lamb of God, I come

Charlotte Elliott, the gifted writer of the well-known hymn "Just as I am," was born 18th March, 1789, and died September 22nd, 1871. She was the third daughter of the late Charles Elliott, Esq., of Clapham and Brighton. During many years her parents formed the center of a very interesting religious circle at both those places.

From early years she was more or less an invalid, and consequently her life was one of much seclusion, offering but few incidents and little variety. Her life was a hidden one. She always rallied during the summer months, and was able to pay visits to friends at a distance, who loved and valued her society, and appreciated the charm of her conversation and her brilliant imagination.

Naturally she had a strong will, but this became gradually subdued, as her religious principles deepened. Her temperament was eminently poetical; and her tender sympathy in every joy or sorrow of those whom she loved is fully testified in many of her letters and poems.

She was always exceedingly fond of music, with a very fine and delicate ear; and it was only the continual interruption of ill health that prevented the successful development of this talent, as well as the kindred accomplishment of drawing, for which she showed much taste and aptitude. In younger years her voice blended sweetly with the family choir, and to the close of her life her enjoyment of music was exquisite. Such tastes as these, combined with her unusual powers of conversation, her high intellectual capacity, and her zest for every interesting subject, made her companionship very delightful and highly valued.

might have their pastor more frequently at home. They faced a heavy budget for this year, owing to the debt on the church and the taking on of new responsibilities. We were very proud of our people, for there is so little money and there are no people of means.

Last night the Board of Managers met in the manse to discuss the year's work and I just lifted up my heart to God in thanksgiving as the men planned to get people interested. When I tell you that until this year the amount allowed this congregation for maintenance of minister was only one hundred and fifty dollars and they could not meet it, you will realize how little they have given, and then to ask Dr. Wilson for weekly services in place of fortnightly ones and to promise to meet a budget of eight hundred dollars this year, was surely like a miracle.

They are in dead earnest and determined to make the beautiful new church center of spiritual life and activity. May I tell you, in all humility, that it has only been through the strenuous efforts of Mr. MacCrimmon and I have made to develop this work, that anything has been accomplished, and only the help of our friends in the East has enabled us to finance the work.

The gift of money from Jarvis last spring gave us the impetus to raise money for completing the building of the church and painting of the church and manse. We raised nearly three hundred dollars and by Mr. MacCrimmon advancing money to the Ladies' Aid, they assumed most of the responsibility of half the amount and already have returned nearly all of it to Mr. MacCrimmon. They are such splendid women and working under many difficulties.

We realize that God's blessing is resting in large measure in this field and some day that will be a strong self-supporting church. At present it is in its early infancy, but developing well.

"You will think by my letter that we have no thoughts of anything but the work here and are selfish. Far from it, for we are always thinking and talking of friends far away and how we do value friendships of former years.

I like to picture you all in your Sunday services and W. M. S. meetings and social gatherings and often tell our friends here about you. I wish you could know some of the brave women who have lived here for years, never having the opportunity to see a town or even a train. Lonely lives, so many of them.

Class

"These class meetings make me sad."
"As to how?"
"We were all in the same class once."
"Well?"
"But how few of us are in the same class now."

to the church we have always facing us. We realize more and more that practical help to the numerous families simply stranded out here is what opens their hearts to gospel truths.

The splendid cases of gifts touched the hearts of the people and these gifts went far and wide over an area of two thousand square miles.

How you would enjoy a drive through the district. The scenery is so grand. Mr. MacCrimmon has just completed a beautiful little church at Wistera, a district sixty miles to the south of Burns.

I will send you a copy of the local paper if there are any extras, so you may see an account of the dedication services. It seems almost like a miracle, as we look back three years and think of the piece of bush land Mr. MacCrimmon found on the side of a hill in the little settlement of Burn's Lake. It was the church property bought as part of the Forward Movement scheme. That was all my husband had to start a church and congregation with. In comparison, we now have an acre of cleared land, with a most attractive church and manse, painted in brown tones, stable and a very fine garden.

Last week the second annual congregational meeting was held, while Dr. Wilson, Superintendent of Home Missions was with us. Ten years or so ago, before the railway came through he used to go on horse-back occasionally through the district, holding a service where possible. He was very happy to find an active church life developing.

He found a new, one-year-old Ladies' Aid, giving a splendid report, heard of a Sunday school with an attendance of about fifty, with five classes using the graded lessons, a Rainbow circle of C. G. I. T. girls and a Beaver club of Trail Rangers. Then to my mind, one of the best signs of progress, a beginning of W. M. S. work through a missionary committee of the Ladies' Aid.

Now, this sounds to an Easterner just ordinary development, but to one living in the midst of infidelity, socialism, bolshevism and immorality, it seems like a miracle of God's good grace. We were overjoyed and greatly surprised to hear our people ask for a division of the field, so that they
