SELF-CRITICISM

A business man who had amassed a comfortable fortune lost it in speculation. He became a traveling salesman, and having to "work" every hamlet and country store in order to make ends meet, he found himself one night crossing a pasture where a number of mules were grazing.

Now, it is a well-known fact that those animals, particularly after dark, will follow in single file any moving object that attracts their attention. This they proceeded to do, stepping sedately and at regular intervals behind him.

When the worried man, immersed in his troubles, looked over his shoulder and saw the sort of procession he was heading, he stopped. Then, although he had only the rising moon to share the spectacle, he said, solemnly:

"Right you are, boys. You know me. I'm the biggest donkey of you all!"

GENEROUS BOB

Bobby was in bed with the measles, and he asked his mother to let his teacher come and see him.

"You are a good boy!" said his mother. "Do you like her so much?" "It isn't that," said Bobby. "But I want her to catch the measles so the other boys can have a holiday from school!"

PUTTING HIS FOOT IN IT

Johnny, having reached his teens, was invited out to dinner without his parents. An anxious mother told him to be careful about his manners and to speak in complimentary terms of the food served him. After he had tasted the soup he remarked: "This is pretty good soup, what there is of it."

He was greatly disconcerted to observe a frown on the face of his hostess, and he hastened to repair his blunder by remarking: "And there's plenty of it—such as it is."

HE ADMITTED IT

"English as she is Japped," is the term given by Anglo-Saxons in the Orient to the weird effect sometimes produced by Japanese in their efforts to employ English in their shop signs.

This Oriental capacity for using our mother tongue with strange twists of unconscious humor is perhaps no better exemplified than in the wording of a sign on a Japanese barber's shop: "A. Kashinuru, Biggest Loafer in Tokio."

English as She Is wrote

For Sale—Bull terrier; excellent house dog; scarable to duns and burglars.

To let—Pleasant bungalow; smell-able distance of sea; walkable to station.

GAME INCREASE IN JASPER PARK

The manner in which big game animals are responding to sanctuary conditions in Jasper National Park in northern Alberta is one of the gratifying features of a recent report of the superintendent. Exceptionally large numbers of elk, deer and caribou have been found feeding in the Buffalo Prairie region, and guides in the habit of grazing their pack-horses in that section report for their animals. As many as one hundred elk have been seen feeding there at one time, while sheep and goats are also reported numerous.

"Mummy," said Bobby, "why does daddy go to town every day?" "To work, so that you and I can have good dinners," mother replied.

A few minutes later, when sitting down to dinner, he viewed the table disparagingly. Not seeing any of his favorite dishes, he shrugged his small shoulders.

"Daddy didn't do much today, did he?" he complained.

USELESS TO TRY

Mistress—"Jane, I've mislaid the key of my escritoire. I wish you'd fetch me that box of old keys; I dare say I can find one to open it."
 Jane—"It's no use, ma'am. There isn't a key in the house as 'll fit that desk."

Canada Lures World-famous Stars

DAME CLARA BUTT on Canadian Pacific S.S. "Empress of Australia" at Windsor Station, Montreal.
SOPHIE BRESLAU at the Windsor Station, Montreal.
ELSIE JANIS (centre) at Banff.
JACK HOLT at Banff.
JASCHA HEIFETZ on the S.S. "Empress of Russia".
PAVLOVA on the S.S. "Empress of France".
MARY PICKFORD and DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS at Banff.

That the two-fold attraction of Canada's audiences and Canada's scenic and climatic allurements, especially at Banff, is proving irresistible to many great concert, theatrical and movie stars is well brought out by the sheaf of photographs reproduced above, which represents some of the famous artists who have recently visited Canada. The majority of the originals of these pictures need no introductions to Canadians. Sophie Breslau, that brilliant contralto singer, who is shown about to start her tour of this country from the Canadian Pacific Railway's Windsor Station, Montreal, made a great hit everywhere. Dame Clara Butt retains her place in the hearts of British audiences. Galli Curci's golden voice has enraptured millions. Elsie Janis, internationally known impersonator, and her "Mamma" foregathered with the Mountie at the C. P. R. station at Banff and got a big thrill. Jack Holt, famous movie star, snapped off duty among the Indians at Banff, is lyrical on the subject of Canadian scenery. Jascha Heifetz was on his way to the Orient when he posed for the "Canadian Pacific camera-man." The perennial Pavlova expresses her appreciation of services rendered aboard the "Empress of France." Doug and Mary had the time of their young lives holidaying at the Canadian Pacific hotel at Banff, where the picture reproduced was taken.

FRIENDS WHO BELIEVE IN YOU

Stick to the people who inspire you with self-confidence. That does not mean the flatterers, of course, for flattery, while it may be responsible for anything strong and wholesome. But there are people who, while they do not flatter you, believe in you and make you believe in yourself. There is something in their attitude which is a challenge for you to develop powers hitherto neglected, to attempt feats that up to this time have seemed beyond you, to be worthy of a confidence whose inspirations you feel, even if it is not put into words. If you have friends who have this effect upon you, stick to them.
